

glass in his hands before eating it. Possibly his hands were of the same texture as his alimentary canal.

Probably the best man on the program from a scenical standpoint was the Japanese dwarf.

An account of the program would be incomplete without mention of the quartette. While showing lack of practice the boys did very well, and the Delians possess in them the first requisits of a fine quartette.

On the whole the program was a very good one and Miss Keziah will receive a hearty reception if she ever appears here again.

Song for Oratorical Contest.

We're all come down to Doane again to play
another game,
We have not 'leven foot ball men but we'll win
it all the same,
For we've another orator—he'll add honor to
our name,
While we are marching to victory.

CHORUS

Hurrah, Hurrah, we bring the jubilee,
Hurrah, hurrah, for "Sam" and victory,
For Pinkerton is just the man to do them up,
you'll see,
While we are marching to victory.

How those Doane men boasted of their orator's renown,
How they filled the country with praise for miles around,
How they said the'd "overturn" till "Pink"
could not be found,
While we are marching to victory.

Chorus, Hurrah, etc.

The Uni's dashing Sophomore can never win'the prize,
So the saucy Cretans said with feelings of such size,
"But I guess not, for they forgot"—'twas only
in their eyes,
While we were marching to victory.

Chorus, Hurrah, etc.

Yes and there were Uni boys who rent the air
with cheers,
Velled with such vigor that they made you hold
your ears,
When they saw the Doane mens' "House" go down midst briny tears,
While we were marching to victory.

Chorus, Hurrah, etc.

E. A. MOORE.

ATHLETICS.

In our last issue we expressed the hope that practice in base ball would be transferred to the campus this week, but the appearance of another "strip" of weather settles the question. However, the work in the armory will prove of much value, and no time is lost even though the weather holds things off for some time yet.

After handling the ball for an hour each day the men take a steady run of ten minutes and thus bring their "base making" muscles into action. Most of the men find themselves a little sore after the hard practice, but are as fresh as ever next day.

Captain Pace has some good ideas on the development of the arm muscles, and will have a dozen or more well seasoned men picked from the many candidates by the first of April.

At the earliest date possible there will be a game with Doane, not a final test of strength, but a little exciting exercise to see how the boys show up.

Young Wilson who made such marked development last year as a fielder will be more missed than any of the old players.

Randolph intended to play, but is not sure that he can spare the necessary time. He has held down the third bag for three years and was captain for '94, and has many friends who would be pleased to see him at his old place.

It was generally understood last fall that no foot-ball games would be billed for our grounds this coming fall. It is now definitely known that Kansas will go up against us here again next fall. We may conclude to amuse ourselves with Doane again this year. And of course in this case Mahomet will come to the mountain. Our usual game on Thanksgiving with Iowa is of course an established fact.

The Tennis Association met last week and decided to expend about one hundred dollars upon the courts. There will be four or five courts with the best tennis fence obtainable.