

Law School.

C. O. Brown has returned from South Dakota.

The law school was well represented in the Y. M. C. A. convention held here last week.

Dean Reese has been attending court at Schuyler for several days past. Mr. Robbins has conducted his recitations.

Arthur C. Mayer, who will be remembered as having won the prize for the best thesis last year, is now taking post-graduate work in Yale.

We understand that Mr. Miller has recovered from a severe attack of rheumatism brought on by a chilly reception from his best girl Thanksgiving.

Saturday night the Maxwells discussed the right and expediency of the U. S. recognizing the Cuban rebels as belligerents. Sackett and Kemm claimed we should, while Warfield and Jones denied it. We believe the debate was the most creditable held so far this year. The time for extemporaneous speaking was devoted to the election of officers for the second term. After an hour of rather undignified wrangling, Abbott and Green gathered in the presidential and vice-presidential plums. The janitor forced a precipitous adjournment under the specious plea that the lights must be out at ten-thirty. The question for next meeting is "Resolved: that the Wilson bill is inadequate."

The cloak room is opened and the days of the hat thief are numbered.

Mrs. Sawyer lectured, as announced, to the Political Economy Club Tuesday evening.

The Annual Dairy exhibit will be in the Armory next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The Physic Journal Club met last Monday evening. Dr. B. E. Moore reported on the original work he is doing.

A short biographical sketch of the late Prof. Charles Lee Ingersoll has been written by Dr. Bessey and is now in print.

Mrs. Manning's classes will give an entertainment in the Chapel Dec. 17. One of the numbers will be a farce by John Kendrick Bangs, "A Chafing Dish Party."

Leopold Godowsky, the famous Russian pianist will give a recital in the University Chapel Saturday evening, Dec. 12th, under the auspices of the School of Music.

Competitors for the annual prize can have their stories type-written at the rate of 25 cents per thousand, by handing them to the Annual Board. Stories must be in by Jan. 15.

The class in Journalism were required to write editorials on the president's message, and many of the unsophisticated journalists went to work and read the message (!) before passing judgement upon it.

Mr. Studd, met with the Volunteer Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. Tuesday night. A very profitable hour was spent. He also spent an hour with some of the boys afterward. He left for Des Moines Wednesday morning.

The new caps and chevrons have come and the battallion is now in full uniform. There will be a dress parade Friday afternoon. The battallion flag, of scarlet and cream silk with the letters "U. N." will be a new feature.

CATHOLIC CLUB.

There are some thirty-five students in the University professing the Catholic faith. Many of these met Monday evening and organized a Catholic Club. When a constitution has been framed, officers will be elected and regular meetings will be held.

First class shaves and hair cuts for sale at Westerfield's, just south of Lansing.
