

Bixby's Retreat.

Did you hear the ECHO?

THEN AND NOW.

Our fathers cleared the forests
In the days of auld lang syne;
Our seniors now take Forestry
And they pronounce it fine.
For seven, by some quaint mishap,
Have registered for this sweet "snap."

SEEN ONE—LANSING.

I glanced up from the deep parquet
Into the "heaven" afar.
The music ceased—on went the play,
Methought I saw a distant star.
Can it be true? Oh heaven save us!
Away up there—is that Prof. Davis?

SOME SISTERLY SUGGESTIONS.

O RAG of Riley,—Riley's RAG.
Thou copy-faking paper
Thou padded, printed paper bag,
Here's to thy latest caper.
Here's to the man with brains enough
To know just where to go
When he has run all out of "stuff"
And HAS to make a show.
We compliment thee, 'ECHO' dear,
On this last issue running.
Thou art consistent with thy name,
This last is simply stunning.
The public has some time, we fear
Been growing very tired
Of cob-webbed Journal echoes drear
And dusty—so all fired,
O "Echo" dear, see here, see here,—
Thou infant sister mine,
Thou really must not steal so much
Nor pad thy form divine.
If thou need'st copy, little one,—
NEW COPY—honest dealing,
Our editors will give thee more
And save thee from more stealing.

WE CAN TOO.

We give below, five more words than the entire contents of both the Thanksgiving and Christmas numbers of the Nebraskan:
