

Uni. Defeats Tarkio.

"THEY WERE FROM MISSOURI AND HAD TO BE SHOWED."

Poor old Tarkio thinks we're mean.
Tarkio nothing, U. of N. steen.

The weather man took off his coat, rolled up his sleeves and did his best to again postpone the Tarkio game; but in vain. Rain descended copiously Sunday night and Monday morning until the gridiron was like a lake. As soon as the rain stopped, men went to work preparing the ground for the battle. Canvas was stretched about on three sides of the campus. The grand stand was built along the west side and was filled with college men who yelled long and loud to neutralize the effect of a cold, raw western wind.

The game between the Uni. second eleven and the Lincoln High School was short and snappy. The University boys were heavier than their opponents but they lacked team work and action. They put the ball in play slowly and pushed it with little vigor. The High School team, however, was active and eager. They broke through the University line time and time again. The score 6-0, was made in the first half.

The big game was called at 3:45. It was a game that brought joy to the hearts of the shivering Nebraskans on the bleachers. There was no blood shed; there were no fights. It was straight honorable football throughout—and it was a victory for Nebraska. From the moment the ball was kicked off there was little doubt as to the outcome. Nebraska had the best of it from the beginning. Only once did Tarkio seem to stand a show of scoring. She secured the ball after the first score and by steady gains forced the ball to Nebraska's ten yard line; but the sturdy sons of Nebraska drew the line there and would go no farther.

TIPS FROM THE BLEACHERS.

Schwartz was the grand stand favorite.

Shorty Turner was in the game and he had his head as well as his beef with him.

Herbert played a steady, though not a swift game. Hard work will bring him out.

Despite the threatening weather between 500 and 600 people were on the grounds. The number would have been double had the weather conditions been more favorable.

Much credit is due Manager Oury for the way he had prepared the grounds when conditions were so adverse to a football game.

The management did the proper thing when it decided to have the games on the campus. Many students will attend now who wouldn't otherwise. Besides, the splendid bleacher accommodations should obviate the loss of any down town patronage.
