

accommodations, little apparatus and small financial aid our University began its existence. Every year saw it grow; every year saw it fix itself more firmly in the affections of the people; every year saw it reach out and take a stronger hold on the public regard. And as it received the favor of the people of the developing commonwealth, it gave in return, an education, a liberalization, a culture to the sons and daughters of that same commonwealth.

And so the people loved it for what it did for them, and gave it their best without stint or murmur.

The years went by and it grew ever stronger, until today it is the pride of a state whose greatest ambition is to contain an intelligent and a cultured people. Around it is an atmosphere of hope and ambition; in it is a body of men striving for the best in life and the life to come. With a faculty of earnest men and women, and authorities whose every thought is of its progress, the University on this Charter Day may well congratulate itself and make merry on the deeds of the past, the work of the present and the hope of the future. Esto perpetua!

Alumni Notes.

Mr. O. R. Bowman '94, Sup't of the Waverly schools was a university visitor Saturday.

Wm. Grant C. E. '97 is now employed in the B. & M. engineering office in the city.

C. E. Crownover C. E. '97 who is in the employ of the B. & M. at Omaha, spent Sunday in Lincoln.

J. V. Z. Cortelyou '97 teacher in the Humboldt schools, spent Sunday with friends in the city.

Ada Graham '97 writes that she is enjoying her work at Central City.

At the meeting of the Civil Engineering Club last Thursday, J. A. Sargent gave a very interesting talk on engineering work along the bluffs of the Mississippi. The next meeting of the club will be held in the usual place, Room 8, University Hall, on March 3rd. Mr. Rohrbaugh will give a talk on the air-lift pump and Mr. Reedy will discuss Power Pumps. Not only are the civil engineers urged to attend but all who are interested in engineering topics are invited to be present.

Joe Sayer will spend next Friday evening at Wesleyan.

Mr. and Mrs. Libby of Table Rock have registered for work in the University this semester.

Miss Mabel Thomas will assist in teaching evening classes at the Graham-Taylor course for the remainder of the school year.

The course in Money, Banking and Bimetallism under Prof. W. G. L. Taylor is proving exceedingly interesting this semester.

The members of Delian Society are glad to hear that Miss Angia Rora, one of their most popular members of last year, is successful as principal of a school in the western part of the state.

The University Glee and Banjo club will give a concert at the Oliver this evening. The club will be assisted by Miss Marion Treat soprano and Mrs. D. A. Campbell contralto. The University is proud of the Glee club and the concert promises to be well attended.

Next Sunday at 9 a. m. the Day of Prayer for the student body will be observed in Delian hall. This is a joint meeting of the Christian Associations and will take the place of the regular four o'clock services. Mr. Thatcher will lead. All students are invited.

Work on the senior class book is progressing. The committee is doing hard work and an elaborate publication will probably be gotten out. In order to make the book a success the committee must have the interest and cooperation of the student body.

The Union Society Annual Musicale last Friday was well attended. Those taking part were Misses Myrtle Young, Harriet Cooke, Weber, Nettie Young, Anderson, Athens, Ferris, Annette Abbott, Mrs. Chapman and Mr. Evans. A critical report was received too late for publication.

J. D. Denison has resigned as manager of the baseball team. He has been compelled to do this because unable to give the work sufficient time. Lieut. Stotensburg and Fred Ryons will take up the work where Mr. Denison left it. As Mr. Ryons has been kept in touch with the large correspondence carried on by Mr. Denison the resignation will in no way interfere with the success of base ball season of '98.
