

THE HESPERIAN

BIXBY'S RETREAT

WHAT I AM THANKFUL FOR.

In answer to a circular letter this department has received a number of very interesting and instructive discussions of the above proposition—space forbids printing all; we print a few; the others are sound enough to keep till next year:

I'm thankful for my manly mien
My stand in with the girls,
I'm thankful for my talk machine—
And how my moustache curls;
For these chief of a thousand things
For which my thanks are due
My heart for hallelujah sings
Yours, handle me gently,

PUGH.

Some may boast their long descent
And some their fame or fortune,
And some their hope to reign above
While their sins below are scorchin';
But I am Charlie Taylor's heir,
I offer no excuse,
I'm thankful for this blest estate
Yours from the alcove

BOOSE.

I'm thankful I could not enlist
To bask beneath Manila ferns—
My legs and arms and hair untwist
And health is good—as peace returns.
I thank my thousand patron saints
My life is spared, and that my smile
A splendid, happy landscape paints
Upon my features juvenile.
And I aver no truer heart
E'er beat than this big heart of mine;
I tried to go, did my part,
But they refused

GEORGE W. KLINE.

I'm thankful I can walk along
And hold her tiny hand;
E'en raise in silence a grateful song
Which she can understand.
My heart-beats she can read so plain,
Likewise each smile and look,
Her sympathy dispels the "pain"
Of loving
