

S. B. Cortelyou, R. E. Benedict, M. S. Moore, C. C. Morrison, M. P. Pillsbury, Geo. Walker, H. B. Smith, G. T. Morton.

BASKET BALL DEC. 5.

8 o'clock		3 o'clock
Morrill	c	Ahearn (Capt.)
Morrison	r. g.	Boyle
Osborne	l. g.	Nies
Berry (Capt.)	r. f.	Hunter
Maddox	l. f.	Stull
Rising	sub	Turner

Score, 17 to 7 favor 8 o'clock. Goals from field: 8 o'clock, 4; 3 o'clock, 2. Goals from fouls: 8 o'clock, 9; 3 o'clock, 3. Time, fifteen minute halves; referee, Pryce; umpires, Cortelyou and Pierson; scorer and timekeeper, Warren.

The faculty were somewhat stirred up by their defeat at cricket two weeks ago and are beginning practice already for the game in the spring. They practice in the base ball cage of the gymnasium. Capt. Pearson of the University team intends to organize his team early in the spring and continue the sport.

LITERARY SOCIETIES

The Union Society rescinded its former action on Junior Annual patronage last meeting and renewed its support as of old.

The names of Roy Waterman and Edith Hutchinson were proposed for membership in Palladian society last Friday evening.

The time for the preliminary contests and the selection of judges have been arranged. The debates will take place the last Saturday, Friday and Monday before the Christmas vacation.

There is a marked improvement in debating at the University this year. Prof. Miller is endeavoring to train the boys in such a manner that they will be able to present argument in a logical and persuasive manner.

Walter Hunting reports that he has recovered from the severe cold, taken when they landed at Manila, and is equal to as much mischief as when he left the University. He is learning Spanish rapidly. Also sends his regards to all friends.

The Palladian program Friday evening was of a scientific character. The numbers were to be discussions on chemistry, mathematics, science in general, and botany and zoology. The plan was carried out with a few exceptions which added interest to the program.

Union boys discussed the question whether the president should be given permanent control over the newly acquired territory, Saturday night. Messrs. Fleming, Weaver and Maguire grew eloquent on the negative while Messrs. H. A. Meir, Steuterville and Hawxby supported the affirmative. The Maxwells visited the U. B. D. C. again and many lively speeches were given by the men of legal lore. Messrs. Motis, Harris, Graham, Talbot and Humphreys made extemporaneous speeches on the question.

The Union program last Friday night was a short but exceptionally good one. The music was lively and appropriate. The vocal solo by Will Boose was a winner, and the audience wanted to hear him again. Miss Ethyl Davis, with Miss Nina Prey as piano accompanist, sang two very appropriate selections. The encore number was a lively air with coquettish ring that was quite humorous. Unions will be glad to hear her again. The quartette consisting of Messrs John and Will Boose, Fred Burke and Mr. Boostrum was heartily encored. The boys make a strong quartette and are full of up to date selections. Mr. O. W. Egge read a well prepared paper on "Seeking Pleasure." He treated the subject from a psychological and ethical point of view. Mr. McReynold's paper on Oliver Wendell Holmes was not only well executed in its construction but was delivered in a zealous and impressive manner. Miss Chase gave the society a treat with her literary number. She first presented a scene of an awkward but earnest country youth who was sacrificing much to secure training in vocal music. The lady public school teacher was his instructor. She succeeded. The second selection was a picture of a youth in a more critical condition and who seemed at the mercy of a maiden whom he had wooed in vain. Miss Chase showed considerable skill in artistic work.

Foot Ball Vaudeville Program.

- Overture—By Wehne and his band.
 - Stebbins—In a marvelous exhibition of club swinging and juggling.
 - Lincoln—As Mlle. Noir Premier Danseuse.
 - McKillip, Gillespie, Bightol and Williams—The musical specialty quartet.
 - Woods—The banjo fiend.
 - Tukey—The ventriloquist artist.
 - Hill and Hooper—The kings of the Iron Horse, in their trick bicycle riding and balancing.
 - Sumner and Sherman—In their original inimitable and laughable comedy sketch "The Blind Bard and the Digital Draughtsman."
 - Cussaden and Manchester—In their clever turn "Hypnotic Revelations."
 - Glio—(a) Entrance of landlord. The plaintive prayer, "We Wish our Rent was Paid." (b) The quartet returns from Kansas. "Three Cheers for the Team that won the Kansas Game." (c) We all join in on "Hot Time." (d) The Washerwoman's Chant introducing the great "Ahem" song. (e) May Irwin's Frog Song with "Crackerjack" accompaniment. (f) Challenge "Cake Walk" led by Turner.
- The show will be given in Chapel tonight, Dec. 9. Seats may be reserved at the University Book Store. Admission 50c, gallery 25c.