 A. Bollenback, who graduated at the university last year, has been nominated for county clerk on the republican ticket in Richardson county. He is now campaigning and with chances for election in his favor.
 I. S. Cutter, principal of the high school at Beatrice, spent the summer hunting and fishing in the wilds of Wyoming. He returned greatly improved physically, but is suffering somewhat as a result of the remarkable stories he tells.
 Miss Flora Bullock has gone to Nebraska City to take the position of instructor in literature in the institute for the blind. She has prepared herself for this work in the university, where for two years she has been pursuing post graduate studies.
 A holiday, unprovided for by the regents, will be harder to secure now than in former years. The faculty formerly granted these holidays, but as that body has been done away with this power will be referred to some committee, probably the deans.
 Miss Helen Gregory, a graduate of the state university and also of the teachers college, Columbia university, has opened a kindergarten training school in this city. In connection there will also be a private kindergarten, which will serve as a practice school.
 W. D. Hunter, assistant entomologist of the experiment station, was given a month's leave of absence in order to act as special agent for the division of entomology of the United States department of agriculture. He is to investigate the locusts of Minnesota and North Dakota.
 The registration is heavier than it was at the same time last year, and it is thought that the total number of students will reach well toward the twenty-five hundred mark. As usual, the new students have experienced considerable trouble in finding their class rooms. The scarcity of rooms has made it impossible to hold the departments together, so it has been harder to find the scattered classes.
 The Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity initiated into its membership Tuesday night Hepbold J. Klinge of Grand Island and Charles R. Headrick of Lincoln at their chapter house, 643 South Eleventh street, where they are very nicely located. Among others who participated in the initiation besides local men were N. N. Davidson of Tecumseh, Fred Du Frene and Will Haney of Omaha, and Homer Hatfield of York.
 The university cadets appeared for the first time this season Wednesday, September 20, with one hundred and twenty-five new students. The campus was dotted with corporals giving their squads the setting-up exercises. Owing to the attractions of the street fair only a very few outsiders witnessed the proceedings, but later in the year, when the blue uniforms are worn, the cadet drill becomes one of the attractive features of the university.

Dr. August L. Rimback (Ph. D. Jena, 1887) of Jena, Germany, has been appointed instructor in vegetable physiology and pathology in the University of Nebraska. He was professor of botany and zoology in the University of Cuenca, Ecuador, from 1889 to 1894, after which he spent nearly two years in botanical travel in the Andes and along the Pacific coast of tropical South America. More recently he has given his time to botanical research in Germany. These have been chiefly physiological and ecological, and the results have appeared in numerous papers in the German botanical journals.
 Dr. Samuel Avery of the University of Nebraska has accepted the chair of chemistry in the University of Idaho, and has gone to Moscow to begin his work. Dr. Avery graduated at the University of Nebraska in 1892. The following year he was elected at Beatrice as instructor in chemistry in the high school, and in 1894 received his second degree from the university. During 1895-96 he studied in Germany and received his doctor's degree from Heidelberg. Since that time Dr. Avery has been at the University of Nebraska, first as instructor and later as adjunct professor of chemistry.

BLASTS FROM THE RAM'S HORN.
 Religious bigotry is as blind as a mole.
 No man can count the cost of a useless life.
 Man is but a seed, and the grave his furrow.
 All true life is an altar, and every act a sacrifice.
 Along the path of painful persistence we pass to perfection.
 Happiness is not in doing what you like, but in liking what you do.
 Truth printed on the page is not so potent as truth produced in person.
 Though but few walk the way of life, they can never be alone in it.
 It is not necessary to hang up a code of home laws in the house where love is dwelling.
 All human love is the reflection of the divine in the life of the upward.
 If we are going to sit together in looking man.
 heavenly places we had better begin to stand together in the earthly ones.

HIGH LIGHTS.
 There is no fun in grumbling when nobody pays any attention.
 Nature is kind; any artist can paint a sunset and sell it for a sunrise.
 Knowledge is power sometimes when communicated, at other times when withheld.
 Dignity and pride are lonely because happiness always wants to sit in somebody's lap.
 Life is not short when we count up all the foolishness we have had time to indulge in.
 He who does many things correctly and makes one error will hear only of the error.

ADVICE TO NEW STUDENTS.
