OTHER INSTITUTIONS.

Harvard has at least fifty candidates for foot ball honors. The first line-up took place Friday.

Bannard, head coach for Cornell, has given up his position in order to help Princeton.

Oberlin has good prospects for a strong team this year, though weak at both guards, the positions formerly held by the famous Fauver twins. Oberlin has games scheduled with Puddus, Chicago, Cornell and Carlisle.

The University of California has eighty men out for foot ball practice.

Princeton has decided to enter a full track team in the Olympic games at the Paris exposition.

Harvard is particularly strong at tennis this year. Of the crack eastern team that played at Del Monte, Whitman, Ward and Davis are Harvard students, and Wright, the interscholastic champion, expects to enter this fall.

Circulars are being sent to students in Wisconsin colleges for answers to questions concerning exercise, food, habits of sleep and study. This is done for comparison with other colleges and determination of the results on study.

Northwestern university is said to be taking strong measures against cheating in examinations. Guilty students are to be expelled and their names sent to the faculties of other colleges through the medium of the college papers.

Princeton university received about $500,000 in gifts during the last collegiate year, including $100,000 for a new dormitory, $100,000 for a new professorship in English, $100,000 for a chair in politics, and $85,000 towards a chair of history.

By decision of the board of regents, approved by the library committee, the library of the University of Kansas will hereafter be open at night until 10 o'clock. This commenced with the first of this week and a good many students have been availing themselves of the privilege this week. Only the reading room will be open and books wanted from the seminary rooms must be reserved before supper.

GLOBE SIGHTS.

It is a cheap compliment to tell people they are overdoing their strength, but it always hits the bull's-eye.

This is the season to remind the women that the winter is never long, with Damson plum jam in the house.

When a little girl is encored as often as three times at a concert her mother is so happy that she can't sleep all night.

A good woman who thinks it her Christian duty to "take chances" at a church fair regards gambling as one of the unpardonable sins.

A grocer has the advantage of other men; whenever he wants to take the conceit out of a woman he lets her pick out her own cantaloupes.

There is nothing more discouraging to a girl than to return home from a big town with a new wrinkle in style and find that it has preceded her.

Don't talk about it, but an Atchison man is said to have once delayed going to the deathbed of a relative in a distant state until excursion rates were in force.

If a preacher eats too much spring chicken or cake sent in by his women church members, and gets sick, they start the story that he is being worked to death.

The custom of calling a woman by her husband's name saves many a woman from being foolish, who would otherwise sign herself "Mrs. Pearlina Mayme Smith" instead of "Mrs. Bob Smith."

How rarely you bear anything sensible! When girls get together they gabble and giggle, and if they drop a sensible, intelligent remark in the course of a half hour it is purely accidental. It seems that a girl has to get married and have trouble before she can talk upon any subject but dresses and parties and her longings for something her father can't afford.
