

Local and Personal.

Dr. Wente, dentist.
Gregory the Coal Man.
University Book Store.

Try Westerfield's egg shampoo, for dandruff.

Full line of drawing papers at University Book Store.

A few lockers still for rent. Call at University Book Store.

The students sixth public recital will occur at the chapel Tuesday evening, March 20.

You need a fountain pen. Better get a Waterman Ideal at the University Book Store.

Kappa Alpha Theta was entertained by Mrs. Lyons and Miss Charlotte Clark last Saturday afternoon.

Fountain pens, 14-kt. gold at 69c and $1.00 each at book and stationery department, Herpolsheimer & Co.

Definite plans for building a chapter house in Lincoln, are being considered by the Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

M. B. Ketchum, M. D., oculist and aurist. Specialty, correction of abnormal vision. Room 314, third floor, Richards block. Phone 848.

The only thoroughly good place in the city where a student can get any kind of board that he wants is at Cameron's cafe, 114-118 South 11th street.

E. L. Morrill, Hugh Teeters, and Arthur Morrill were among the out of town guests present last Friday at the annual Sigma Alpha Epsilon banquet.

Mrs. Rachel Lloyd at one time professor of analytical chemistry in the university died last week at Beverly N. J., after several years of failing health.

The students in the short course are arranging for a banquet at the form. In celebration of the successful termination of the year's work which will end on March 16.

At chapel, Friday morning, Miss Agnes Brownell gave a violin solo, and Miss Rose Clark contributed a selection for the piano, the "March Militaire" by Schubert Tausig.

A Lulu M. King memorial fund has been established by the state Y. W. C. A. The object is the relief of the sufferers in India in which project Mrs. King was interested.

On Friday evening, March 23, at the Y. W. C. A. Miss Barr will give an entertainment. A short talk on the Swedish movements will be illustrated by one of her classes of girls in costume.

While the student body are still disagreeing over their annual and there seems to be no likelihood of an amicable settlement they have all agreed that Gregory the coal man sells the best coal.

Kappa Kappa Gamma initiated Miss Anna Hammond, Miss Gehen and Miss Sauerbach into the fraternity on last Friday evening. The ceremony was followed by a spread at the home of Miss Holbrook.

Mrs. Kate G. Scott, '94, writes that she hopes to be represented at the university next year by her son and consequently is more than ever interested in everything pertaining to the institution.

The department of domestic science has an enrollment of twenty students. Applications for the course are made almost daily but have to be refused on account of the cramped quarters that the department occupies.

A charming porch party was given by Miss Wetzel last Saturday afternoon. Dainty refreshments were served and violet favors given. The guests were Miss Shidler, Miss Warman, Miss Wetzel, Mr. Stewart, Mr. Killian and Mr. Anderson.

Librarian Wyer has undertaken the compilation and publication of a complete list of the periodicals available on the campus. It is designed to be distributed among the teachers and the students in the state that they may know exactly what periodicals are available at the university.

Sunday afternoon at four o'clock Dr. Hindman will deliver the third of his series of addresses to the young men of the university. The subject will be "Christ, The Supreme Teacher." These addresses have been the most interesting of any ever given under the auspices of the association. They are not only interesting but instructive as well. All young men should plan to attend. A good song service is always one of the features.

The Dellan girls contest program has been postponed for one week. It will be given in the chapel Friday evening March 23 instead of March 16.

Otis Weeks, '95, was at the university Monday on business. He is now road-master for the Union Pacific railroad between Beatrice, Nebr., and Manhattan, Kan.

The winter term of the agricultural school at the farm closes this week. After the examinations are finished the occasion will be celebrated by a banquet to the professors and students.

C. S. Harrison of York, Nebraska, president of the Nebraska park and forest association lectured to the horticultural students, last Friday on the subject of "Forest and Ornamental Planting."

Prof. R. A. Emerson of the horticultural department delivered a lecture at York, Nebraska, March 2 on the subject of Parks and Park Planting." The lecture was illustrated with stereopticon views.

The senior class held a meeting in the chapel last Friday. Subjects pertaining to commencement were discussed. The class sent an emblem of their esteem to the juniors who were assembled in room 112 at the same time.

A meeting of the preparatory Medical society is called for Tuesday next in the geology lecture room in the Mechanical Arts building. Dr. Lowry of the city will speak. All interested are urged to attend. Time of meeting Tuesday March 20, 8 p. m.

E. R. Holmes of Paris, has a letter in last Sunday's Journal, on the way Nebraska products will be represented at the Paris exposition. He says about fifty exhibits are now on file, most of them in the agricultural and educational departments.

The department of civil engineering has arranged to make a series of tests of Wyoming cements and plasters. This will be done at the request of Prof. W. C. Knight '86, University of Nebraska of the department of mining and geology of the University of Wyoming.

James Storch of Fullerton, Neb., who was in the university in 1894 and 1895 was in the city a few days last week, trying to re-organize company B first Nebraska national guards. Mr. Storch was second lieutenant of company B in the first Nebraska, but was later made first lieutenant of company C.

Miss Florence N. Jones formerly of the university is now studying at the University of Chicago and working upon her thesis, "The Influence of Plautus on French Literature." The magnitude of this work is shown in the fact that Miss Jones must not only make analysis of twenty plays of Plautus but over thirty thousand lines of French drama.

A. M. Keys, law '93, would be pleased to hear from any of that class with whom he is not now in communication. He himself practiced in his home town, Cambridge, for three years after he left Lincoln, and then removed to Beaver City, Neb., and formed a partnership with C. M. Kelley which still exists. He is married and has two children, a boy and a girl.

Instead of the regular Bulletin the April number will consist of the complete alumni list of the University of Nebraska, containing present addresses and occupations as far as the publisher is able to complete them. There are a few persons concerning whom we have been unable to find any information. These are published in another portion of the Bulletin.

Last Monday evening the observatory was open to visitors, and many crowded the small observatory to its utmost. The evening was an ideal one, and a large number got a glance at the moon and various stars through the large telescope. From now until the end of the semester the observatory will be opened once a month, in the evening for visitors, last Monday being the regular evening.

Adam McMullen writes that he is just recovering from a three month's attack of typhoid fever. He had just re-entered Columbian law school for his masters' degree and had just been elected president of the debating society, 300 strong, when the seige began. His successor for the second semester was chosen about the time he left the hospital. Thus he was fated to enjoy the honor without the subsequent labor. He is still connected with the war department.

The regents have adopted the regulations under which the Bryan prize

Advance Sale

...of... Spring Shirts

Fancy Soft Shirts have now passed from the realm of exceptional novelties to that of staple luxury. The spring and summer demand for them grows more extensively each year, and must be reckoned with by every up-to-date dresser in rearranging his spring and summer wardrobe. Recognizing these facts, long before the last season for these goods closed, we placed immense orders with foreign and domestic mills with the determination of insuring ourselves a magnificent assortment of original and exclusive designs. Could you but see our present stock, rich, glowing, beautiful colorings, cut and finished by the most expert shirt tailors of this continent, you would appreciate how thoroughly we have succeeded in gathering from the four quarters of the globe all that is beautiful, all that is new, all that is worthy, in fine, medium, and low-priced shirts. Our Special brands are the brands. Out of all these makes we desire to call special attention to the "EAGLE" brand. This line of shirts is by far the best in cut, best in make, and material, of any shirt on the market to-day. It shows more exclusive patterns than all other lines combined, and is the only shirt in the world to-day that has the non-shrinkable neck band. Ask for the "EAGLE," and secure for yourself the most elegant fitting and wearing shirt in America.

"Eagle," "Monarch," "Wilson Bros."
and the "Elgin"

Armstrong Clothing Co.

is to be awarded. Junior, senior, and graduate students who have not taken a second degree are eligible, and no one who has once won a prize can compete again. The essay which is to be on some phase of the science of government, designated by a committee of the faculty, is to consist of three to six thousand words and it must be filed not later than May 1. The topic for the present year will be announced in a few days.

Miss Edna Polk, '98 is assistant in the library at Lincoln.

Horace G. Whitmore has gone to Nebraska City, where he has accepted a position on J. Sterling Morton's "Conservative."

Albert Fussey is now a prosperous man in Evanston, Ill. His name has appeared recently in a number of important transactions in Evanston realty.

D. W. Rich, of the sophomore class of the University of Iowa, has presented the university with a fine clock made by himself. In addition to its service as a time keeper it renders a piece of music each half hour. It is placed in the president's office.

In the University of Iowa are three societies conducted by the professors. They are the Baconian club, Whitney society, and Political Science Club.

The Iowa Evening Press association recently held their meeting in Iowa City, Iowa. The members visited the various departments of the University of Iowa, through the courtesy of Chancellor McLean.

Ernest R. Holmes, writing from Paris to the State Journal of February 18, mentions very entertainingly the cost of a trip to Paris the coming summer. He says it will be more this year than in normal times and that there will be no chance to earn money and that there is a general increase of prices in Paris already. The only safe plan will be to take enough money to pay all expenses.

The Haydon art club was changed into the Nebraska art association, by the action of the members of the former club on last Tuesday evening. The new association will be a state society, as the name implies, and will number among its members many of the prominent persons interested in art residing in the state. Prof. E. H. Barbour, vice-president of the Haydon art club was selected as chairman and Prof. Lawrence Fossler, secretary. A constitution was drawn up and adopted. It is intended to incorporate the new society.

Clement Chase '84 of Omaha is publishing a blue book of that city which will contain 5,000 names.

The University of Missouri has followed the example of the University of Nebraska in issuing a news-letter.

Yale has just received the most valuable collection in existence of musical instruments. The collection consists of 500 instruments.

The university has received an invitation to send a delegate to the inauguration of Chancellor Buchtel, of the University of Denver.

The recent discovery of coal in Dakota county, Neb., has been of much interest to people at the university, especially to the department of geology.

Prof. Nicholson head of the chemistry department who is taking a years leave of absence spent a few days of last week at the university on his way to Denver.

Superintendent Browne, of Olympia, Washington, state superintendent of public instruction, called at the chancellor's office a few days ago, and spent a little time looking over the different departments in the university.

The Acting Chancellor has consented to prepare a paper on "Some Phases of Agricultural Education" for the society for the promotion of agricultural science, which is to meet in New York the latter part of June.

Professor Ward of the department of English literature of the agricultural college of Kansas was a caller at the university a couple of days ago with Regent Teeters. He called at the chancellor's office and upon several of the professors.

E. C. Elliott '98, superintendent of schools Leadville, Colorado, and formerly an assistant in the chemistry department was a visitor about the university last week returning from the superintendents meeting held in Chicago, the week before.

M. A. Miller, law '97, is now county attorney of Franklin county having been elected in November '98. He has