

HE KNOWS WHEREOF HE SPEAKS.

An editor printed his paper to give his patrons the news of the day and for the money there is in it. He is presumed to know of what he writes. When he writes as he does in the Leader-Courier, Osceola Mills, Pa., without fee or hope of reward, that "Chamberlain's cough remedy acts magnifically, and we have found none better in our house hold. If you have a cough, try it," it may be accepted as an honest expression, worthy of credence. For sale by druggists.

DEBATE THURSDAY NIGHT.

The Kansas-Nebraska debate will be held in the university chapel Thursday evening of this week. This will be one of the most practical contests of the year. It will be a field for oratory, calling for skill in reputation, and ease upon the stage. This alone is worthy of careful study as well as support by the whole university.

The question considered this time is one of practical interest. No student of society, no one interested in American life and politics, no one who is awake to his duties as an American citizen can miss the opportunity to hear university men discuss how far the growth of great corporations is a menace to democratic institutions. Why not give a little time to those who have studied the question from the standpoint of its merits.

The phase of the trust question discussed Thursday evening in the chapel is of much importance to all. Nebraska debaters have prepared well, and every student should hear them. Hear the debate for the support of public speaking, and the interest of these contests; hear the debate to aid our men and show university spirit as well as to help bring victory and honor to Nebraska.

Go to the debate as you would go to the class room. You may learn more about this question in one evening than you could by reading for a whole month. Six debaters will take part who have worked long and sifted out the trash. They are prepared to present the real substance of the whole matter.

Miss Austin, Mr. Talbot, and Mr. Deal are representing Nebraska. Do we owe them no duty? Can we claim honors and take no part in the fight? We should go out to the debate for oratory, for support of our representatives, for our own education, and edification, for university spirit, and to help bring triumphant victory to Nebraska.

PRINCETON DEFEATS YALE IN DEBATE.

Princeton defeated Yale in the annual debate Tuesday night at Princeton. The subject for debate was: "Resolved, That the Hay-Pauncefote treaty should be ratified in the form in which it was originally presented to the senate. It being understood that any change in the terms of the treaty or any action by the senate affecting the treaty is not germane to the question at issue."—Ex.
