

for no gain and it was Nebraska's ball, with 15 yards to make for a touch down.

After two downs for only 1 yard gain, a fumble gave the ball to Kansas again. Quigley made a yard and a half through the line. The quarter back kick was tried again and 10 yards lost. Jenkinson punted out 20 and in a mix up Kansas got the ball. Copping and Jenkinson made 3 and 4 yards through the line. The next three plays including a guards back, netted only 3 yards giving the ball to Nebraska.

Montgomery made 3 yards and Crandall 2 and 4. A Kansas man held on the next play and Nebraska got 10 yards placing her within 15 yards of a touch down. However, Nebraska lost on downs. Kansas was forced to kick, punting 30 yards. Crandall returned the ball 10 yards. Montgomery in three plays made 8 yards and Brew followed with 4.

Bender took Montgomery's place. A fumble gave the ball to Kansas in the center of the field. The guards back formation was tried again but Cortelyou smashed it for a loss of 5 yards. Kansas punted to Drain, who, aided by beautiful blocking by the team and perfect interference by Crandall and Brew, ran through the entire Kansas team for 70 yards and a touch down. Ringer kicked goal. Score 12 to 0.

Kansas kicked off with only a minute and a half to play. Time was called after a few plays.

HAL H. ROBERTS.

Reports from the game were received by the Nebraskan-Hesperian and bulletined in the main hall. Through a mistake on the part of the operator at Lawrence one of the telegrams read "Coont's makes touch down and Right kicks goal" instead of "Cook makes touch down and Ringer kicks goal." As no men by those names were on our team the inference was that the touch down was made by Kansas.

A later telegram, however, gave a score of 12 to 0 for Nebraska and the reaction was so great that the crowd nearly raised the roof with yells. In the evening a long string of men with megaphones marched about the city. A good crowd was out in spite of the bad weather.

JUNIORS AND SENIORS PLAY.

The football teams of the junior and senior classes played on the campus last Tuesday afternoon. The game was exciting, filled with off-side plays and fouling on both sides. The score was 11 to 0 in favor of the junior class.

A cold northwest wind made it very uncomfortable for the spectators. They rushed onto the field around the team and hindred free plays. Their cheers and laughter did much to rattle the players, causing fumbles on about every other play and making end runs impossible. Team work on neither side was noticeable and as yet no one has been found who is willing to declare that he saw any. However, the juniors won by some means. Their goal was not at any time in danger except from the strong wind which threatened to blow the posts over.

The game ended with three cheers from the crowd for the classes and the junior yell given by Dassenbrock. The Seniors will have a yell prepared by a special committee and will give it later in the season.

ATHLETIC BOARD MEETS.

The Athletic Board met yesterday evening and decided to make several changes and improvements for the Thanksgiving game. One hundred and fifty feet of new bleachers will be built. This will extend the west bleacher to the fence on the South and add to its Northern end for a considerable distance. The fence will be repaired and two ticket booths erected near the entrance. The following scale of admission prices was adopted: Single admission, 75 cents; seat on the bleachers, 25 cents; admission of vehicles, 50 cents.

Plans are on foot to give a dinner in the armory on Thanksgiving evening to the members of the two teams and the Athletic Board. Miss Barr will have charge of the arrangements. The mass meeting in chapel Thursday will be a record breaker. Coach Booth will give a chalk talk and prominent alumni will make short speeches.

A RELIC.

A relic is now on exhibition at the historical library which is a remnant of a scrap which took place at the University just eighteen years ago. The scrap was of a political nature and the contest was over a large coffin. The affair resulted in the coffin being broken into small pieces, one of which has been preserved and may be seen at the historical library. The donor is G. A. Monroe, of Columbus.

During the presidential campaign of 1882, the woman's suffrage question was strongly agitated and the feeling rose to an abnormal pitch at the University. A Woman's Suffrage club was organized; immediately the anti-woman suffragists organized a club and these two clubs were the participants in the scrap just mentioned.

The clubs were continually playing jokes on each other and finally the climax was reached when the anti-suffragists bought a large coffin and brought it to the University where they intended to cremate it. But in an unguarded moment their opponents stole the thing, and the next morning it appeared on the porch on the south door of the main building. Then the fight ensued in which the anti-suffragists were worsted, however they got possession of the lid which they carried to 11th and O streets where they burned it. The suffragists divided the remainder among themselves and this piece has come down as a relic of that memorable fight. Mr. Sheldon who is now attending the University was a participant in the scrap on the anti-suffrage side and he says that afterward their crowd had a banquet at the home of H. H. Wilson, a prominent lawyer in the city.

The company has a concession from the government of Honduras of land on the Petuca river about one hundred and fifty miles inland. In return the company is to develop the rubber production, then the hardwood trees, and to construct a railroad to the coast.

If the colony is successful the position will be a very lucrative one for Mr. White.

GIRLS PARLOR AND REST ROOM.

On Friday, November 16, each class in the gymnasium held a meeting in the new chapel in the interest of the Girls Rest Room. This is to be fitted up in the south west corner of Memorial hall. Plans for it have been formed by the Woman's Faculty Club and the chancellor. Miss Barr laid these plans before the girls, giving the list of necessary furniture.

It had been suggested that each girl in the University contribute ten cents and it seemed appropriate that the gymnasium girls should start the subscription. Committees from each class were chosen to consult with Miss Barr and the assistants and to buy one piece of furniture.

The response was beyond all expectation, from three hundred and twenty-five girls eighty dollars have been subscribed and about forty more girls have yet to be seen. It is expected to furnish the room immediately, the color scheme being dark green. This is to be merely a rest room and not a place for study nor a lunch room. The chancellor's idea is for the girls of each senior class on leaving to give something to this room.

A house warming is to be given soon after Thanksgiving at which the girls will entertain their friends.
