

ting him home. Curry sent another fly to Gaines, who caught it. This retired the side, but they had made eight runs and tied the score. However, that ended their scoring, only eleven men going to bat in the next three innings.

Nebraska made two runs in the sixth. Hood made a beautiful three-base hit, but there were no men on bases. He tried to make home on Finley's single, but was caught. Finley, in turn, was forced out at second by Bell's single. De Putron sent a hot one to left field, and made a home run while Tucker was wrestling with the ball. At one time the Kansas left fielder was flat on his back and it looked as though help would have to be sent to him. Reeder was hit by a pitched ball and Raymond walked. Townsend went out on a high fly.

In the seventh Nebraska scored once more on hits by Rhodes, Hood and Bell.

The official score:

'00 as catcher. He is prominent in Y. M. C. A. circles, being at present president of that organization. During his freshman year he was the representative of his class to the university congregation. He belongs to Phi Kappa Psi fraternity. He was twice a delegate to Iowa-Nebraska interscholastic football league and one of the organizers of that league.

W. G. Hiltner entered the university in '98. Previous to this he had attended the Lincoln high school for three years. While in the high school he played basket ball on the city Y. M. C. A. team. Since entering the university he has taken a prominent part in gymnastic and athletic matters, especially in basket ball, being a member of the sophomore team and captain of the second team. This is his first year in track team work. Being too light for heavy athletics he has never played football, but his records in other lines have always been good. He is a member of the Y. M. C. A.

Bert L. Doane has always been interested in athletics, especially baseball and tennis. In '96 he entered the Grand Island Baptist college and played right half on the football team of that institution for three years, and also pitched and played first base on their baseball team. The last year he acted as captain. He entered the university in '99, and successfully tried for a place behind the bat on the '00 team. He played the season in that position, and holds the same place on this year's team. He has never tried for the football team, but has evidenced much interest in that sport. He is a member of the Delian society.

The University of Minnesota has adopted the semester plan of dividing the school year. Another innovation which will be introduced next year is the abolition of all degrees granted to graduates of the academic departments except that of B. A.

THE NEWBY EPISODE.

The excitement occasioned by the partially successful attempt to haze W. L. Newby, a law student, has about died away. No arrests have as yet been made, and it is not likely that any further attempt to bring the matter before the court will follow.

The facts of the assault as given out by Mr. Newby are about as follows:

He, in company with a fellow-student by the name of Cronin, were walking down P street on the way to the latrine's room. They were both suddenly seized from behind and Cronin was dragged to one side and bound to a tree, but later managed to free himself. Newby, who is a man of rather strong build showed fight and for some time held his opponents off but was finally tripped and thrown to the ground. A light shirt was thrown over his head and while several members of the gang held him down others chopped at his beard with a pair of scissors. Some of his assailants now arose and Newby managed to free himself and again set upon his tormentors. He was again overpowered and the gang then dispersed.

Newby at once went to the police station and reported the assault. He is an experienced detective having been in the service of a detective agency for a number of years. So he decided to seek evidence that would lead to the detection of the guilty parties. Some rope and the night shirt were found near the scene of the encounter.

Mr. Newby claims to have satisfied himself as to the identity of some of his assailants. He strongly suspects that his companion, Cronin, was mixed up in the affair. He says that this is not the first attempt. Threats against his beard have been made ever since last December. Once a decoy letter was sent him but his suspicions being aroused he did not answer it. On another occasion he was invited to a party held in the room of a law student. He avers that the soap with which to lather his face had already been purchased and the intention was to administer a free shave but he failed to get the invitation.

SOCIETY

The senior promenade will be held at the auditorium on next Friday evening.
