

—Since the ground has become frozen we miss the continual click of the croquet mallet at the dormitory.

—There have been more visitors at the University this term than we usually see, and they were all pretty well satisfied with what they saw.

—Can anyone inform us what made a particular Prep take such a fancy to the words of a popular song—Oh! Susie, I hope you'll never die?

—As usual our office presents a clean appearance; whenever we expect visitors we brush up, and you know that it is now the close of the term.

—Some of the Regents do not like to have the books in the library all marked up with the opinions of the readers, as they think it defaces the books.

—The daily evening paper of this city showed a good deal of energy in sending reporters to the last meetings of both the literary societies, for the term.

—Those students who staid here during vacation had some merry times sleigh-riding, as we had a snow the last night of the term that was three or four inches deep.

—Quite a number of students have attended the Free Congregational Church this term, to hear the lectures of W. E. Copeland on the gods of Persia, Egypt, etc. They were very interesting.

—Were the Profs around when the students are discussing various topics in German, surely none of them would say that we cannot think German, as one of the Profs desired his class to do a few days ago.

—We are pleased to have the students visit our office, but would much prefer that they would not read our copy or set-up matter as it is rather unpleasant to have our news told all around before our paper is issued.

WE were surprised on looking over the stock of goods kept by Jacobs Bros. & Oakley, and at the extreme low prices at which they hold their goods, and think it will pay every one to give them a call before purchasing. (lf.)

—The lecture of B. F. Taylor has been put off until some time next term; we believe that it is until February. The students should endeavor to be present at this lecture as he has a very good reputation as a lecturer.

—Those students who love good things to eat were in there glory during the last days of school, as the tables of their landladies were heaped with choice edibles. Surely that is a temptation to return to your old boarding house.

—There is some talk of having singing in the chapel next term. We hope it will be so, as it will add much more interest to chapel, and among the young ladies we have some very good singers. It is possible, there will be a regular class in singing next term.

—During the last days of this term, some of the students were bent on seeing some of the sights around town, and we heard that some went down to the Penitentiary. Remember boys that the Lunatic Asylum is very close to the prison. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

—There is a certain Fresh here, that seems to be picked on by all his friends. A few evenings ago he was calling on a young lady; when one of his friends called him out, telling him he desired to see him, he told the young lady that he would be back in a few minutes; she waited an hour or so, but no Freshman returned. He was locked up in a room where his friends were using him as a target on which to practice the manly art of boxing.

—The old students were very much pleased to watch the anxious faces of the new students, when the classes were read out in chapel on the last day of school. It is not the most pleasant thing in the world to hear the Chancellor say "All passed, except —".

—One of the Sophs was heard singing "A rare old plant is the ivy green—" when he was interrupted by his companion who remarked, "Ivy is like woman—the closer it clings to you the more you are ruined." It is almost needless to add that the latter student had in his pocket a "previous engagement" from one of our fair students.

—The comical "Eli Perkins" did not arrive in Lincoln until after the term had closed, so many missed his Saratoga lecture. When he was at Nebraska City it was a conundrum whether he should address his audience from the Iowa side or not, as the river was full of ice; the people in Iowa wouldn't let him speak there and so he came across.

—Mr. Manning, whose advertisement appears in this issue of our paper, we cheerfully recommend to any of the students, who may have any painting to do. He is a first class workman, and we feel justified in saying that his work always gives satisfaction, and he is just the person the students want to employ if they have any painting in their society halls, that they wish to have done in the best of style.

—Our Fresh has again made himself conspicuous, and again a young lady is connected with the transaction. He had engaged the company of a young lady to go to church on Sunday evening, and his friends induced him to go into a chum's room a few minutes before church. Poor boy! He soon found himself locked in, and the key broken off in the door; however, we saw him come into church a short time after it had commenced, having escaped from his prison by some means unknown to his nearest friend.

—At the close of the term the Regents held a meeting and the following members of the Board answered to their names: Col. C. S. Chase, Col. J. W. Savage, J. B. Maxwell, Uriah Bruner, F. H. Longley, W. D. Scott, Wm. Adair, Chancellor A. R. Benton, Gov. Furnas, J. M. McKenzie, Jno. L. McConnell, Treasurer, and H. T. Davis, Secretary. As Regent Dungan had left the State, he sent in his resignation, which was accepted. Chancellor Benton made a motion that, hereafter all funds derived as matriculation fees from students in the Agricultural College be expended for the purchase of books for a library for the Agricultural Farm, which was carried. A vote of thanks was tendered the citizens of Lincoln for the planting of two rows of trees around the campus at their own expense. At the second meeting a number of reports were made, and the time was principally taken up with the discussion of the Agricultural Farm. The following resolution was offered by Regent Scott and adopted: That it shall be required of all students graduating in the Agricultural Department of the University, that they shall have a practical knowledge of agriculture.

PERSONAL.

'77. W. P. Rhodes left for New York City on the 17th of this month.

'74. U. H. Malick is going to take a course in medicine at Louisville, Kentucky.

'73. J. Stuart Dales will be admitted before Judge Lake to practice law, next month.

F. P. Burdick came in from Harlan County, where he has been preaching, and was with us during examinations.

W. A. Cadman is local editor of the Farmer's Blade, that has bought out Major Caffrey's Lincoln Blade. The latter we used to receive as an exchange, but the former has cut us off of its list.

The many friends of Miss Frank Seymour will be sorry to learn that she has gone to Omaha. In her departure, her associates lose a friend that can not soon be replaced.

Prof. Aughey lectured in the Opera House on Sunday evening, the 6th of this month, on "Moses and Geology," for the benefit of the Lincoln Aid Society.

Mr. M. D. Hyde, better known among the boys as "Skip", holds a military position in the Cornell College Cadets.—High School.

He was known here, among the girls, as "Peter Brown".
