

—Students would do well to go to Robinson's for groceries. West side public square.

—Students, if you desire to get cards printed or any thing in the printing line done, patronize Beach, the printer, under Harley's drug store.

—The students will find Sheldon's the best place in town to buy their furnishing goods. See advertisement in another column.

—One of the young ladies is at work, making a Christmas present, upon which is worked the pathetic words: "To my darling." Who is the lucky man, is what bothers us.

—Leighton and Brown are well prepared for the holidays, and if any thing in their line is wanted, it will be advantageous to all to give them a call. Notice their advertisement in another column.

—Hargreaves comes out this month in the STUDENT with a large advertisement. To students especially we would say, patronize those who give liberal patronage to the STUDENT. Notice advertisement elsewhere.

—The time has come for us to lay aside the local quill, and to make our exit. Vacation has arrived, ending one of the most profitable terms of our University. As the students leave off work for a short time, we wish them a pleasant vacation, and, hoping that you may all be at your post commencing new work with the new year, we wish you a happy Christmas.

—He's gone. We all feel as if some kind of a thing had been among us. Yes, that long-eared, red-headed, freckled and tanned face, that lantern jawed individual of whom the Press tells about, and who writes correspondence to the Omaha Bee under the cognomen of Lino, put in his appearance in our quiet, little city a short time ago. If the Omaha Bee has any more first class side shows, (our nerves are steady now,) trot 'em out.

"Well, you are a nice boy to send on a message," said a woman to a boy who had lost a bundle with which she had entrusted him. The boy struck the attitude of an orator, and replied: "Not being a common carrier, and not having entered into a contract with you to carry your parcel for and in consideration of any given sum, I have incurred no liability, and am liable to no penalty. If I had undertaken to carry the parcel for my own particular profit, my father even would not have been responsible for its loss (see Butler agt. Basing, 2 C. & P. 614,) unless indeed he paid me smaller wages because of the opportunity thus afforded me to make small sums. On this point, I will only quote Bright agt. Brewster, 1 Pickering, (Mass.) 50. But, rising from the Law to the equity of the case, I have only to say Buy your clothing of A. Hurlbut, No. 12 O St., and carry your own bundle, and you will be subject to no loss, and but little expense.
