

—The University Union has recently purchased a beautifully framed picture of Ex-Chancellor Benton, from Young's Photographic gallery.

—The Capitol has become quite a resort for students. The legislature gives them a fine opportunity to notice some of the workings of a law-making body.

—The students will find Sheldon's the best place in town to buy their furnishing goods. See advertisement in another column.

—We acknowledge a call from Mr. McCartney, editor of the High School, Omaha. Mr. McCartney is an enterprising young man, and will always find a welcome at our sanctum.

—It must have surprised the Prof. in Political Economy the other morning, when he entered his class room to find the remnants of two cigars lying upon the floor. It didn't look well for a senior class.

—W. J. Turner, druggist and bookseller, gives us a new advertisement in this number. Mr. Turner is doing a large business as bookseller, supplying text books for the University. All the books required in the University are sold by him.

—Students will do well to give Liddy Bros. a call. Anything in the line of hats, caps, etc., will be found there. These gentlemen will make liberal reductions to students. Notice their advertisement, on the cover, and give them a call.

—The rapid increase of circulation compels us to issue one hundred more copies of the STUDENT than we did last month. At this rapid rate of increase, it will not be many months before we can boast of a circulation of over one thousand.

—We think it no exaggeration to say that the HESPERIAN STUDENT is the pride of the University. And holding our paper in such high estimation, we fail to see why all students do not subscribe. We admit that a majority of the students subscribe; but we think there should scarcely be an exception. Students should not think that because the paper is able to sustain itself financially, we need no further support. It is only by the continuance of that support that we are able to stand. We do not beg. We simply remind all of a duty, when we urge them to subscribe. Every student attending the University, male or female, should take a copy of the STUDENT.

—For boots, shoes, and anything in his line of business, go to O. W. Webster's, on O street. He receives considerable of the custom of the students, as he makes satisfactory reductions to them. Not only students, but others, will do well to patronize him.

—The usual sweetness of temper which is observable in the girls of the University, seems to be somewhat ruffled when Friday comes around to remind them that the Literary societies meet and they can't go. They think the boys are "horrid." Boys, brace up and be gallant.

—Hohman's Music Emporium has become one of the best places in Lincoln to secure musical instruments. They are agents for, and have on hand, a large number of organs, pianos and other instruments. If anything is desired in the music line, and on favorable terms, give them a call at their store on O street.

—The University Union has a lecture committee. The committee will endeavor to secure good and popular speakers to lecture in the University chapel. The idea is an excellent one, and shows enterprise on the part of the Society. We hope soon to listen to a good lecture in the chapel, under the auspices of the Union.

—Monday, Jan. 15th, was a very cold, stormy day. So inclement, indeed, did old Boreas become that many of the students of the sterner sex living at a distance from the University did not venture forth. We could not but admire the courage and energy which characterized a few young ladies who ventured to face the storm.
