

We noticed several students doing active service at the recent fire in this city, and by their assistance considerable property was saved. Mr. Frank Marshall deserves special mention. He was one of six men who were standing on an awning helping up with the hose, when it gave way, and all of them fell through to the sidewalk below. They escaped without serious injury.

Maud Muller.

Maud Muller, on examination day, her pocket tucked away book. Neath her bangs glowed the wealth pure cheek and tolerably good health.
 When she scanned the black board up and down, white and hideous with ? ? ? ? It seemed to frown.
 She was cheerful, and no vague unrest or nameless longing filled her breast;
 For that book—yet she scarcely dared to own— contained more than Maud had ever known.

In the lap of the unsuspecting Maud it lay,
 As the eagle-eyed Prof. chanced to look that way
 He hesitated, then said: "May I be chewed
 But I think you're an awful fraud."

Of all sad words of tongue or pen,
 The saddest are, Maud must be examined again.

Election Results.

Below is given the results of elections for next term, so far as we have been able to learn:

Palladian—Miss Anna Shuckman, president; G. G. Hitchcock, vice president; Geo. McLean, secretary; W. A. Tris, treasurer; R. L. Marsh, critic; Miss Nellie West, corresponding secretary; Miss Abbie Williams, chorister.

Union—C. A. Pierce, president; Miss Taylor, vice president; S. B. Mallory, Miss Helen Holmes, secretary; Miss Jennie Griswold, corresponding secretary; Miss Dora Swisher, historian; J. S. Biddenbaugh, critic; H. W. Harrington, sergeant-at arms.

Freshman—A. Warner, president; Miss De Cou, vice president; Wm. Gregg, secretary; Miss Snell, treasurer; Miss Tebbets, historian.

We have no returns from the Sophomore, Senior and Junior classes, as they do not elect officers until the opening of next term. The Hesperian association meets next week, and the result will appear in due time.

What the Student would like to see.

Itself out of debt.
 The gymnasium in running order again.
 Not quite so much bitterness at election times.

A student who wouldn't take an office fine could get it.

A full attendance of the Faculty at Chapel, just once.

The Student's Lecture Association revived next term.

That pile of brickbats moved away from the east side of the University.

The student who can conscientiously say that the examinations were easy.

A good old-fashioned sociable with enjoyment and not lucre for its object.

About a hundred or two of its delinquent subscribers come forward and pay up.

A new student who has been asked fewer than fifty times to "join our society."

The person who doesn't think he could run this paper better than it is now conducted.
