

Locals.

—*Ridentum dicere verum
Quid vetat?*

—HOR. SAT. 1.

VALEDICTORY.

Cooperating in the design to make the the HESPERIAN STUDENT a newspaper and not a literary repository, the local editor has written up the fortnightly events of the University in a style which he hoped would be most interesting to the students. He desires to thank those who have suffered patiently under his bad puns, especially the foreman of the printing office, who has been of inestimable assistance in many ways.

YE LOCAL.

Large stock new books at Fawell's.

Have your suits made at W. H. Collins'.

Novelties in fine stationery at Fawell's.

Newest styles in shoes at Goodrich Bros.

Money saved in buying shoes at Goodrich Bros.

S. W. Harney's is the cheapest place to buy millinery.

New styles in high button shoes at Goodrich Bros.

Neckwear, the handsomest ever seen in Lincoln, at the Phoenix.

All the students go to Fox & Struve for their books and stationery.

Buy your clothing, hats and nobby neck-wear at W. H. Collins'.

Straw Hats! Straw Hats!! The noblest in Lincoln at the Phoenix.

The Omaha Herald for this morning contains all the Senior orations. For sale at Fawell's.

Students, don't forget to buy a pair of shoes from Barkley and take them to your mother.

It pays to buy all your boots, shoes and slippers of O. W. Webster, O street, Academy of Music.

Students will find everything they need in the way of stationery and text books at Fox & Struve's.

The picnic proposed for Saturday fell through, to the disappointment of many lovers—of rural scenery.

Choice summer drinks, including delicious flavors for soda water, at Branch's, first door west of Howard House.

The Palladian programmes were dated May 9th, and some couldn't perceive the error, even when it was shown to them.

Go to O. F. Wilke to sell your furniture. The best price paid for second hand household goods and furniture. 130 10th street.

For a number one ice cream or straw berries and cream call in at the Candy Kitchen, 142 south 12th street, Little's Block.

"Do you think I am going to make a circus of myself, sir?" "Well—I should judge so!" And the chairman proceeded to rotate.

Following are the Union officers for the fall term: President, Minnie Coddling; vice president, Etta Wood; secretary, J. R. Force; treasurer, Alice Carse; sergeant-at-arms, W. P. Sullivan.

Wheat, the photographer, came up and "took" Palladian Hall in its flag decoration. The stereoscopic views will be for sale cheap, and every Pal, yes, every student should have one before he leaves for home.

Miss Cross we are pained to hear, is still very feeble from the effects of the fall which she had on Decoration Day when swinging in a hammock. She is unable to move and had to be taken home on a mattress.

Fred W. Wood, professor of ancient and modern languages, Latin, Greek, German, French and Spanish. Will teach classes during the summer vacation in Lincoln. Residence, O street between Twelfth and Thirteenth.

The week of examinations was a long and severe one for the students and such as arranged their examinations to be scattered through two weeks, or by alternate days, were fortunate, for nothing so takes the starch out of a man as two "comprehensive" examinations in one day.

A Boston party desires a few copies of the STUDENT containing original poems. This reminds us that but very few scraps of poetry have appeared during the year and in each and every case the unfortunate poet was assassinated on the day following the publication of his effusion. We are afraid that we cannot accommodate the gentleman.

This school year, more than any other, has been fruitful in affairs productive of college feeling and real college life. The steady work of the literary societies; the adoption of a college color and a college cry; the fraternal gatherings of Charter Day and Arbor Day; the trip to Crete; the debating club; all these have added vim to our labor and been very pleasurable. May the Regents so settle the dispute over our faculty that next year may see hundreds of new students attracted here.

The election for officers to serve next fall in the Palladian society was a very unanimous, quiet affair. The day was rainy, and the attendance at the special meeting not large. C. C. Chase was elected president; Miss Maggie Jones vice president; R. L. Marsh, secretary; Don Clark, treasurer; Miss Minnie Parker, corresponding secretary; J. N. Dryden, historian. The society is well equipped for diligent work next term.

The Palladians, who are always on the alert for new schemes, have organized a debating club which will go into operation next year. Meetings devoted exclusively to debate and extempore speaking will be held every Saturday evening with closed doors. The infant will be in charge of the following officers term; President, R. L. Marsh; vice president, D. L. Clark; secretary, Dean T. Smith; treasurer, W. C. Knight; sergeant-at-arms, R. J. Fletcher. The boys expect much from this club in the way of better debates and greater ease in impromptu work among the members of the parent society.

The next Senior class is a large one and a strong one, numbering an even dozen. Those who expect to complete the course and graduate in June, '33, are Miss Josie Chapman, B. S., Lincoln; Clement Chase, B. A., Omaha; Minnie E. Coddling, B. S., York; Bion H. Culver, B. S., Cambridge; O. A. Foote, B. S., Lincoln; Geo. G. Hitchcock, B. A., Lincoln; Miss Carrie Palmer, B. L., Lincoln; Chas. A. Pierce, B. L., Lincoln; Edson P. Rich, B. L., Falls City; William A. Tris, B. A., Pawnee City; Daniel H. Wheeler, Jr., B. L., Plattsmouth; Alvin L. White, B. A., Lincoln. Four scientific, four classical, four literary, an admirably composed class, though nearly half are from Lincoln. We express the hope that they may band themselves next year into a strong class organization.

"State Volunteer Weather Service" has a startling bulletin exhibited for this month down in the hallway. In fact it looks as if it had been tampered with. The lines of weather variation are as black and heavy as if drawn by a crowbar. According to the "Bullzometer" there was a "heavy fall of tomeats," and an illustration accompanies this statement. According to the "Hectometer" it has been "too cold for boarding house butter, but cold for flies,—warmer than last month, but not so warm as it would have been had the temperature been higher." For the "Relation's Humility" you are instructed to "Add the sine, subtract the tangent and circle (without spokes) and the result is O. K. [q. e. d.]" Under the division "Aqua Pura Precipitata" that there was "too much rain for sorghum raising" and the "water soft this month." The observations were taken at "Pumpkin Hill" and "Slabtown." There is quite a complicated variation of arrows to show the direction of the wind, and altogether it is a very clever burlesque.