

Wanted: By the organist of the University chapel a cheap boy to pull up the organ keys. Y. M. C. A. boy preferred.

The cadet band boys wish to know why it is that whenever they serenade any one the occupants of the houses in the vicinity always close their windows so tightly

Don't faint! The Unions have got fup something new: a roll call in chapel. While we admire their ingenuity we dislike to see that hour used for such a sacriligious purpose. However we don't want to put a straw in their way to fame and will cheerfully waive all our objections.

The following are the officers of the Union society for the winter term. President, E. J. Robinson; Vice President, Dell. E. Stratton; Secretary, E. J. Churchill; Assistant secretary, Allie Lantz; Treasurer, J. O. Brecci.; Sergeant-at-arms, C. A. Canaday; Assistant Sergeant-at-arms, Roy Coddling.

They say Johnson, our local editor, has tried Dr. Thomas' suggestion, viz. standing on his head. The flow of brains was absolutely incredible, his cranium expanded four-fold in a single second. It took three history themes, Wheeler's Trigonometry and Olney's Higher Algebra to reduce him to his normal state. The faculty have forbidden a second experiment.

The merry, joyous Christmas tide
New waltzeth into view.
Its sports hath long the students spied,
For it the money flew.
What good it brings into the earth
Is more than I can see.
Men think they get their money's worth;
With that you can't stuff me.

At a special election of the Palladian society, held in their hall Thursday afternoon the following officers were elected for the coming term. Pres., R. L. Marsh; Vice Pres., S. Glen Talbot; Sec., W. E. Johnson; Treas., C. S. Polk; Cor. Sec., Sarah Daley; Sergeant-at-arms, A. G. Warner. The society is in excellent working condition now and we can do no better than wish them their usual success.

We are informed on reliable authority that a Sophomore is writing a novel founded on actual experience after the manner of Goethe's "Sorrows of Werter." As the author's most private feelings are involved he wishes to remain incognito. For depth of pathos it is unrivaled. no man can read more than a page at a time without the application of heartshorn and a quart of brandy, it would wring tears from a chimpanzee.

During the past term two hundred and fifty-four students have been in attendance in the college of Literature and Science and the Arts, and over forty in the medical college. We believe the state is beginning to appreciate the worth of the school. The prospects for the future are bright and all can be realized if the citizens of the state take half as much interest in the future welfare of the country as they do in the present political condition.

The Freshmen have more enthusiasm than ever and showed it at their meeting at Luke Cheney's last Thursday evening. After doing ample justice to themselves by way of games and in the ample repast spread for them, they put on their long faces in executive session and elected the following officers for the ensuing term. President, W. A. Baldwin; Vice President, Miss Leighton; Treasurer, A. E. Anderson; Secretary, Frank Wheeler; Historian, Miss Latta; Slate Bearer, Miss Talbot. Hurrah for '87!

Lieutenant Webster, our old commandant, made Lincoln a flying visit Wednesday and Thursday, on his way from California to take charge of a torpedo school about to be established in New York. The cadet band showed their appreciation of him by treating him to a serenade at the Commercial Hotel about ten o'clock Wednesday evening. Three persons replied to the call thinking it for them: the Lieut. for whom it was intended, John L. Sullivan and a beautiful blushing bride. John sent down his autograph, the bride appeared on the balcony and gave the boys a stunning smile and the intended recipient came down and held a little reunion with the boys. Success to him in his new departure.
