IMPORTANT.—When you visit or leave New York City, save baggage expressage and carriage hire and stop at the Grand Union Hotel, opposite Grand Central Depot. Elegant rooms fitted up at a cost of one million dollars, reduced to one dollar and upwards per day. European plan. Elevator. Restaurant supplied with the best. Horse cars, stages and elevated railroad to all depots. Families can live better for less money at the Grand Union Hotel than at any other first-class hotel in the city.

THE BEST READING.—Every family that desires to provide for its young people wholesome and instructive reading matter should send for specimen copies of the Youth's Companion, of Boston. It is the brightest and best of papers for young people. Its columns give more two hundred stories yearly by the most noted authors, including J. T. Trowbridge, William Black, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Thomas Hardy, Mrs. Oliphant and many others, besides scientific articles by eminent specialists, tales of adventure by noted travellers, papers of encouragement and advice by men and women of ability and experience, and reminiscences and anecdotes of famous people. With a circulation rapidly approaching 350,000 copies a week the Youth's Companion can well afford to spread such a feast before its patrons: and spreading such a feast, it is no wonder it has such a tremendous circulation.

One of the best surprises we met with during vacation was our visit to the new Normal School and Business College at Fremont. In this "four months old" institution we expected as is usually the case in schools of that age, to find it in a some-what primitive state of organization and development, but we were most happily disappointed. We were kindly shown through the several different departments by President Jones himself and we can safely say that nowhere in the west can be found a school of its age that can show as fine an organization, so well furnished building throughout. President Jones brings with him from his consular service one of the finest collections of Chinese, Japanese, Indian and other curiosities we ever saw. They have an excellent beginning of a library, and a good start for a geological and mineralogical cabinet. The artists' studio is indeed worthy of the school. The business college will in the future occupy the whole third floor. The musical department is in the best of hands and rapidly growing and in fact every department seems to have fallen into the most thorough and experienced hands. Fremont is to be congratulated upon having secured men who are not only thorough instructors but thorough organizers, and also know when and where to strike. The registration for the fall term was eighty-four and already over one hundred have signified their intention of attending the coming session. In every department we feel like pronouncing it to be what their advertisements proclaim—a decided success.

Exchange Bric-a-brac.

That anti-frat head-line in the "Kansas Weekly Courier" is startling but deceptive. Take down your false colors, Courier.

Notre Dame Scholastic has a curious ex-editor. We used to think he had no brains. Lately he has come out in favor of Commercial Freedom. His prospects, mentally, are looking up.

The Wooster Collegian is surprised. It hears that Kansas State University contains two literary societies of such tremendous energy as to decorate their halls with pianos. Don't be frightened Collegian. Such things are common in the Great West. We have three literary societies in the U. of N. and each of them is the proud possessor of a thousand dollar "square grand." For energy, pure and simple, go to the progressive west.

At Evanston the freshmen are a hard lot, if we can judge by the report given in the Northwestern. They captured a number of '87 athletes, tied them scientifically and secreted them in a cellar where they were permitted to partake of sardines and pea-nuts by way of refreshments. The rest of the sophomore class discovered the scheme and the '88 bruisers were compelled to ignominiously relinquish their captives. The Sophs were rescued in time for their sociable which took place in the evening of the same day. Poor Sophs! They are planning how to even up accounts with '88.
