FOOT BALL.

The second match game of foot-ball in the U. of N. occurred on the morning of December 7, between the Seniors and the Freshmen. The day was cloudy and a little raw, so the players had no fear of overheating themselves by violent exertions. The costumes exhibited about the same amount of variety and ugliness so noticeable in the previous game. In the first half the Freshmen kicked off and the Seniors had the wind in their favor. The ball was held in the Freshie territory nearly the whole of the half and several times crossed the goal line, though the Seniors succeeded in scoring but one touchdown, made by Hearn. In the try for goal Hearn carelessly touched the ball to the ground prematurely, and a charge from the Freshies prevented Tingley from scoring a goal. In a fair near the goal line, Peterson broke through the Freshies and came within a few inches of making another touchdown. In the scrimmage which followed, the Freshmen kicked the ball well towards their opponent's goal. Goodell siezed the ball and by a fine run got it into the Seniors' goal. He had, however, stepped outside the touch line in dodging an opponent, making the run useless. The half thus ended with four points for the Seniors and none for the Freshmen.

In the second half, in spite of wind favoring the Freshmen, the ball approached both goals alternately and the game was more interesting for the spectators. Early in the half a ball kicked by Stoughton rebounded from a Freshman across the Senior goal line, and Tingley made a safety to prevent a touchdown by the other side. Then the ball was advanced towards the Freshman goal and was finally carried across the line by Farmer. Owing to its being an off side play the touchdown did not score. Soon Marsland, falling with the ball near the Freshman goal, attempted to make a touchdown, on his hands and knees. He was hindered in this laudible attempt by the weight of a half dozen Freshmen, and the ball was downed within six inches of the line. In the following scrimmage, through a misunderstanding of signals, Stoughton passed the ball to Marsland instead of to Holmes and it was advanced towards the Seniors' goal. Several fouls and disputes soon after delayed the game, as did also a slight difficulty with a rowdyish spectator. A touchdown was soon after made by Goodell and in the try for goal the ball struck the goal-post and bounded out. In a general pile up near the Senior goal Worth slyly abstracted the ball from the heap of struggling men and made a touchdown, which, however, did not score, on account of a previous foul. The Seniors at last got the ball slightly into their opponents' territory, when time was called. The game was hotly contested on both sides. The Seniors showed better organization and their backs did better work. The game was marred by too much display of main force in attempting to "beef," and by too much talking by the players. The spectators showed entirely too much anxiety at times and crowded the grounds to the great embarrassment of the players.

The players were as follows:

STRAY PICK-UPS.

Miss Dew was about about the University last week.

Hoagland carries a gun, and is ready to meet 'most anything.

"What study do the seniors dislike the most? Sighology."

This is a joke. We label it for the benefit of the Sophomorian.

Faurot's exhortation to the Freshmen in the reading room, although eloquent, came to a premature end.

Miss Alice Cooley, an old time member of the class of '91, is teaching school in Kimball County, this state.

W. W. Robertson, editor of the Cheyenne County Journal spent a day or two visiting his Lincoln friends recently.

The faculty room has been decorated by the photographs of the most prominent college presidents of the country.

Almy dropped the remark Sunday afternoon that he guessed he would have to go to Skinner's meeting and post up.

A. E. Perrin '92, was in the city last week shaking hands with old acquaintances. He will return to school in January.

A petition to the faculty to have vacation begin one day sooner than announced went its rounds among the students.

The janitor was hardly able to navigate the next day after he helped carry a couple of dozen stoves down two or three flights of stairs.

As a comment on Nebraska weather, for our eastern exchanges: "The cadet battalion had dress parade on the campus Wednesday, December 12."

We felt like building a bonfire when all the stoves were removed from the University, and we once more heard the z-z-z of the steam from the radiators.

A. E. Wagner has been taking special work in physics and chemistry this term, and will try for his degree at the winter meeting of the board of regents.
