-This hot weather makes people believe in ice cream-ation. -The "Sandwich Island" has been captured by a new company. -The BEE building will catch a a new tarred roof.

-"Sprinkle, sprinkle, water cart, we wonder where thou art," is what the people are now shouting.

-John Hogan is on trial in the United States Court on the charge of selling liquor and tobacco without paying the required tax.

-Bach is the name of a shoemaker that has been mysteriously missing from Dohle's since Tuesday last. It is about time that he came back, or his friends will think he has been foully dealt with.

-Homan, the livery man, is considerably exercised over the loss of a horse, that was run to death by a hotel runner, Dinsmore by name. who has "lit out," it is said, to escape the just wrath of the owner.

-Dr. Ish has received a new, magnificent, and costly soda fountain for his Farnham street drug store. It is now being put up, and will be ready for operation in a day or two.

-Those who dance must pay the fiddler. That's what Judge Wilbur said yesterday to Tom Gardner, when he fined him ten dollars and costs for running a dance house contrary to the city ordinances.

-William T. Pollock, son of Postmaster Pollock at Brownville, Platte; Kitt Harning do. was yesterday tried and found guilty in the United States District Court, Judge Dundy presiding, of robbing the postoffice at that place. kinson's.

-The Beatrice Cement Company Company's property at the foot of Farnham street, which they will hereafter make their depot for their cement and cement pipe, which they are manufacturing.

-Tableaux representing Bunyan's work may interest some people, but Smith says he can see plenty of bunnions without going to the Baptist Church. All he has to do to amuse himself in this respect is to pull off his boots and stockings, and gaze at his suffering feet.

-The Co-operative Union of Farmers and Mechanics have rented the hall on the second floor of No. 236 Farnham street, and are fitting it up in elegant style. They will meet there for the first time tomorrow evening, and every Friday evening thereafter. -An exchange says that the Omaha City Council are disturbed over an ordinance restraining chickens from running at large. If the City Council would amend this ordinance so as to include "old bens," it would be a recop de main" on Miss Garrison.

-Mr. Wood, the deputy county treasurer, and wife are grief stricken at the loss of their little son, aged three years and four months, who died Thursday evening. The funeral will take place from the residence, on Codgestreet, between Fifteenth and Sixteenth, on Sunday at 2 p. m.

-Sheriff Turner, of Dodge county, yesterday took a man named Webber to the penitentiary at Lincoln. Webber was recently tried and convicted at Fremont for swindling and forgery to the amount of $10,000, and was sentenced to five years' imprisonment. -Now comes Henry Ward Beecher, and says that he it was not-not he, the Plymouth screecher-who took for a text, "It's d-d hot." Twas an Omaha ex-preacher, who to Iceland "got unand got." We would follow this bummer, to the land of icicles, there to spend a cool summer, had we a pass from Sick-

-Simones, the house-mover, was yesterday arrested and brought before the police court for obstructing Douglas street last night, by leaving his captain too far distant from the building that was being moved. As the law provides a notice to remove such obstructions within 24 hours, he was discharged, having not been notified. -Metz & Bro., the brewers, have issued a comical advertising poster for their buck-beer. The picture represents a procession of crusaders coming up Farnham street, with a banner flying, having on it the "Ladies' Temperance League." A big old buck comes along, gazes at it for a moment, gives a jump, and goes through the banner, performing the feat with as much ease as would the man on the flying trapeze. -A war is brewing between the lager beer brewers and the retail venders. The majority of the brewers recently raised the price of lager to $12 per barrel, and the retailers are now "bucking" against the combination price. They intend to circulate a paper among the saloon-keepers for signatures, to the effect that they will not purchase any more beer at that price from those brewers, but will rather patronize the brewers of other places. This is a similar war to the one recently waged in Chicago.

MARRIED A QUARTER OF A CENTURY.

The Silver Wedding of Bishop and Mrs. Clarkson.

Matt. Clare, traveling agent of A SILVER WEDDING! The twenty-fifth anniversary of happy married life! This is an event in the lives of a husband and wife upon which they are to be congratulated, and which is ever the occasion of great rejoicing by them and their friends. A quarter of a century in the bonds of matrimonial felicity is a long time, and when the mind rolls back over this period and unfolds to view, as it were, the panorama of the past, what pleasant recollections must be indulged in by those who celebrate their silver wedding. Indeed, it would seem that the memories of the past on such an occasion would afford more pleas-O. H. Lucas, who has been fore- ure than the anticipations of the un-

Several weeks ago the churchmen of Omaha began making arrangements to give Bishop Clarkson and wife a grand reception on the occasion of their silver wedding. The committee appointed for this purpose consisted of Hon. J. M. Wool-Judge Wakeley, Mayor Chase, Dr. it badly. Allen, Judge Doane, and H. G. Clark, who certainly performed the duties assigned them in a most satistactory manner, as all who attended the reception can testify. The invitations were most beautifully gotten up, and were an indication of the splendor that was to -A false alarm called the fire de- follow. Over a thousand were issued, and fully six hundred persons were present. The wealth, and youth and beauty, and the style of Omaha were here fully represented, and strangers-and there were many strangers there-must have formed a most favorable impression of the best soci-

and very appropriate. The members of Trinity church were considerably disappointed by the non-arrival from Chicago of their intended present. It is a full set of tools for the ceremony of laving corner stones, and is ex-

The supper table, in the shape of a cross, was placed in the ladies' ordinary, the centre being beautified by a handsome display of fragrant flowers from the Garden of Herman Kountze. The table was otherwise very elegantly arranged and decorated. At the north and south ends of the table were the bride's cakes, and at the east and west ends, the wedding cakes. The remainder of the space was occupied work of every conceivable description. The design of the table, was gotten up by Mr. Marshall, the well-

Taking it all in all, we can safely Of say, that the silver wedding of Bishop and Mrs. Clarkson has never been eclipsed in any respect in this city, and it is the wish of the BEE, in company with the thousands of their other friends, that they may live to celebrate their golden wedding in an equally brilliant and happy style.

Vining's Victory. [Chicago Tribune, May 6.] The Iowa through lines continue to be concerned about the diversion of the Pacific business via the Chicago and Alton Railroad. The fact is, there are more reasons for the last move than appear on the surface. If Jay Gould should obtain control of one of the three Iowa lines, the pooling would soon be abandoned, and Gould's line would monopolize the business. Were there now but one line to Omaha instead of three from Chicago the business would certainly pass over it. The three lines do not harmonize. The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy is generally supposed to be a Joy road, yet Mr. Joy sanctions a contract that diverts the business entirely from the Burlington route. When asked to use their influence to dissolve the agreement, the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy officers say they find they can no longer make any impression upon Mr. Joy. The two other Iowa lines are in the Tracy interest, which is supposed to be identical with the Gould-Dillon faction. This gave rise to the prophecy very neat manner, by Miss Carrie that Mr. Dillon's accession to the Presidency of the Union Pa-cific would be speedily followed by Mr. Vining's retirement from the General Freight Department. But Mr. Vining sticks, and what most astonishes his opponents is that he should remain through successive administrations, and be alike potential with each. Such a man, of course, must have unusual ability. He was sent to Omaha by Colonel Thomas A. Scott, was retained by the late Horace F. Clark, who seemed to have great confidence in him; was equally trusted by John Duff, and already seems to have ingratiated himself into President Dillon's favor. His permanence in office amid all changes is only equally led by his tenacity of purpose. Still, he may fall, and when he does, if not before, the Iowa lines will regain their lost business. The CALIFORNIA FLOUR at ALLEN'S is the finest FLOUR in the city.
