An Unhappy Mistake.

Young men when writing to two women at the same time, should be careful that they place the letter intended for each in the right envelope. A very ludicrous and unhappy mistake happened to a hightoned young rooster on Farnham street, Saturday, owing to a very careless oversight, and the results were and indeed, and will cause many a pang of regret to his heart hereafter. It appears that he had had transactions with Jennie Dixon and Josie Washburn, at Annie Wilson's house, at different times. On Saturday he wrote a letter to Josie
