THE intolerance of disbelief was illustrated some weeks ago by Victor Hugo, who appeared at Jules Janin's funeral, but refused to follow the cortege to the cemetery because the funeral was conducted under religious auspices.

THE rumor that a distinguished ex-Confederate General is to be honored by the President with the mission is exceedingly dubious. It is more probable that it will be tendered to some ex-Senator, Nye or Buckingham for instance.

ALL officers entitled to promotion under the law organizing the staff corps of the army are ordered by the War Department to appear for examination before designated Boards preparatory to receiving their new commissions.

ST. Louis still continues to boil over with indignation at the fizzle of the 4th of July pyrotechnics. The only consolation derived by the petriotic people of that city is the fact that a car load of fire works, manufactured expressly in New York for the great bridge celebration, is still on the way.

FROM the Lincoln Journal, of the sent a Minister Plenipotentiary to establish a Castle of Industry at the State Capital. They are here now, says our Lincoln contemporary,"and the horny-handed laborers who hold down the corner planks of our sidewalks, will hasten to enroll themselves forthwith. The Castles propose to swallow the Grangers, and then swallow the offices, and thus middle men will no longer vex the earth."

THE Omaha organ of Louis Napoleon invites the Republican party to define its position on the Franco-German war, and make Bonapartism an issue in the coming campaign. Would it not be more becoming in the Bonapartist organ to embody the abusive editorials against the Germans which appeared in the Herald during the Franco-German war into the Democratic platform. Such a plank would surely consolidate the German-American vote on the Democratic

MR. PHILIP METZ, in a letter defining his views upon the political situation with reference to German Americans, challenges the editor of the BEE to a public discussion of these issues after the two parties have published their platforms. Inasmuch as this invitation to a joint debate is tendered in a friendly spirit, we shall accept.

Meantime we would advise German Republicans to participate in the primaries and local conventions. If they desire to engraft liberal principles into the Republican platform they must take an active interest in these meetings.

THE Prohibitionis's or rather "temperance fanatics" as the Omaha Herald is pleased to call them, have acheived another great victory, This time it happened in New Hampshire and the Democratic party are responsible for it. The license bill which was intended to permit counties and cities to license the liquor traffic, has been defeated by the Democratic New Hampshire Legislature. Will the Omaha Herald tell the Germans whether the Democracy carries whisky on one shoulder and water on the other.

"It will not be strange if candidates for positions on the State ticket, who hope to succeed through management, rather than the favor of the people, should secretly fear a measure that may shorten their term of service."

This utterance has special reference to the probable curtailing of the official terms of State officers, to be elected in October next, by the proposed new Constitution.

In other words his travels in Europe have convinced him that it is better for any agricultural country to build a home market for the consumption of her produce, than to pay for transporting it abroad.

ACCORDING to Mr. Albert Keep, President of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad, the outlay for operating his road has for years been greater than the income. The following facts and figures are cited to substantiate this statement:

The total receipts of the Stanwood and Tipton Railway have never yet paid the operating expenses; the Iowa Midland Railway has been operated at a loss of $19,054 during the year 1873; the Chicago, Iowa & Nerasko comes out on the same side of the profit account to the tune of Missouri River Road has been operated at a loss of $284,860 92.

And now the question is, why do the owners and managers of these roads continue to impose such heavy burdens upon the stockholders of their companies?

And then her large, languid eyes
So turned on mine that—Satan take me

RELIGIOUS.

Manchester, England, is to have a $4,000,000 cathedral to vie with that of Canterbury or York.

Indications are that if driven to the step the extreme Ritualists of England will form a Free church. Bishop Whelan, of Wheeling, W. Va., lies daugerously ill at Stagne's Hospital, in Baltimore, and his death may occur at any moment.

The American pilgrims to Rome are said to have been almost stupi-fied with astonishment at the grandeur of the Papal Court. There are 349 places of worship in New York City, with a seating capacity of 108,500 persons, and the aggregate valuation of these churches is $40,000,000. Rev. E. P. Hammond, the evangelist, after spending the winter and spring in revivals in the West, is now resting at his home in Vernon.

The women preachers in the Unied States now number thirty-eight. They are distributed mainly among the Methodists and Universalists, with a sprinkling of Quakeresses. Philadelphia can now boast of having fifty Baptist churches, the last one having been organized a few days ago. It is said that no other city in the world can boast of so many Bendigo, formerly a noted pugil-ist, is now a Methodist preacher, since its organization, 3,547. They have in New York city five lasses of Bishops, each of whom exercises authority as such—Roman Catholic, Protestant Episcopal, Re-formed Episcopal, Methodist Epis-copal, and Moravian—while Boston as an additional variety, in a Syrian Bishop, whose orders are not denied by students in canon law, and who is said to offer to bestow Nauvoo, which once had a population of 40,000, now musters only 1,600.

The oppressed tobacco-chewers of Wooster, Ohio, can't have peace, even in church. A preacher there has now began a war on them. "Sunday week he discussed on the 'hoggishness' of chewing in church, and after painting the offense in all its enormity, proving conclusively that every man who chewed the weed in church was a hog, a villain, a rascal, and a knave, he paused in his sermon, looked his hearers steadfastly in the face, and said: 'Now I want no more such dirty practices here. If any man chews tobacco in the house of the Lord next Sunday I shall call him by name in open church."

The Catholic authorities at Rome have ordered the convoking of a National Synod in Ireland, to be held at some convenient time short-ly, probably in the fall. It is now twenty-four years since such a council was held in Ireland, since which the Keele case has come to the surface, by which it has been shown that statutes that were deemed obsolete may be used to the injury of the Church. The religious uses are also threatened with visitation, and the penal laws imposed in the Emancipation act are liable to be put in operation. Contested elections and "godless" schools are also to be considered. And the

Prof. Farrar, of Vassar College, has been chosen president of the Women's College at Milwaukee. Mr. Bouchet, the only colored graduate from Yale College this year, stood sixth in a class of 125. Only one wing of the Peabody Museum at Yale is now to be erected. It will cost $160,000. The abolition of separate lectures to the feminine students in the medical department at the Michigan University has been declared impracticable by the regents.

The law concerning the banish-ment of piaces from the college buildings at Tale has been re-pealed, or rather modified. Pianos will be permitted under special license and under strict regulations. Five colored men have been graduated from the different schools of Yale. The first was Richard Henry Green, of the class of 1857, who became a physician, graduating in the Medical School at Dartmouth.

At a school dedication last week Gen. Banks said that military education should become a branch of our national educational system; that a republican form of govern-ment demands that we should know our strength. Bishop Morris, of Oregon, says that one cannot pay attention to the occurrences of the day in our schools and colleges, without being impressed with the conviction that there is a wide-spread spirit of law-lessness and resistance to authority in them that is fraught with evil for the future interests of society and the country.

The "Traveling Scholarship" established in Union Theological Seminary excites great interest among the students. The interes of the fund amounts to $700, and with it the successful competitor of the graduating class can travel and study for two years in foreign and Bible lands. About half the next class has entered the lists for this tempting prize.

At the late teachers' Institute a Poughkoepsie, N. Y., one speaker and that the people afford much better accommodations for trying criminals than for educational purposes: that court bouses, lails, etc., are better lighted, better heated and better surrounded generally than school houses. He further asserted that, measured by the money teachers are paid, the clown and the horse trainer are better men than school teachers.

The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, in mentioning the commence-ment of the Girls' Normal School in the Quaker City, severely lec-tured the faculty and the young ladies themselves on the display of extravagant dressing. It declared that such an exhibition of extravagance was a painful demonstration of the inability of sensible men intrusted with the care of a school to govern it properly, and of the Ignor-ance and bad taste of the ruling majority of the pupils in arraying themselves in costumes utterly unbefitting the place, occasion, and persons who wore them.

A left-hand writer in the Scientific American gives some reasons why it is better to write as he does. The hand is never in the way of the vision, the pen point is always in plain sight, and so is the paper to be written on; consequently, there is no inducement to stoop forward, or to turn the head so as to throw the eyes out of focus. It is a fault with those who write much that the left eye has a shorter range than the marked in the Episcopal than any right. It is overworked, and comevils are avoided. An upright posture is the easiest, and the eyes are equally distant from the

The educational system of Germany is thorough and compulsory. In 60,800 public schools there are 6,000,000 pupils. For higher in-struction there are 330 gymnasia, 14 real gymnasia, 214 progymnasia and latin schools, and 485 real and night schools, with an aggregate attendance of 177,379 pupils. There were also twentyone Universaties, with four faculties, theology, law, medicine, and philosophy. In some a fifth, that of political economy, is maintained. The instructors of all grades numbered in 1872 and 1873, 1,620; the students, 17,858. In technical culture, 10 polytechnic schools, with 860 teachers, gave instruction to 4,500 pupils. instruction to 4,500 pupils. Other special schools are maintained, including 45 obstettic schools; art-schools, musical conservatories. commercial colleges, navigation and trade schools, etc., in great numbers. In Prussia, Bavaria, and Saxony there are 15 mining schools, a military academy, an artillery school, and several cadet-schools, ridingschools, etc.
