AND we shall all have glory.

The Omaha Herald is convulsed with a cat-aleptic fit because the Republicans did not indulge in a cat fight Saturday.

LINCOLN hotel keepers are preparing for the golden harvest that is to be reaped by them through political conventions during the next ten days.

THERE was a remarkable unanimity prevalent during the Democratic primaries Saturday, not a mouse stirred to disturb the harmonious victory of the bourbonic candidates.

GENERAL BRUSHIN has just made another interesting and valuable contribution to the Zoological garden at Philadelphia in the shape of three live and industrious native Nebraska beavers.

GENERAL LEE's memorable surrender at Appomattox was a very tame affair when compared with Captain Lee's surrender at the Omaha Court House. It was truly mournful and distressing, to behold the great Ko-op Chieftain followed into political exile by his faithful Confederates.

MIDNIGHT.
NEW YORK, August 31.
The editor of El Cronista, a Spanish paper in this city, received a dispatch to-day from Senor De Conza, who was wounded in a recent duel with Rosado. He says he has returned to Rosado, and will soon return to New York.

SHREVEPORT, August 31.
Reports just received tend to confirm the reports and leave little room for doubt that the Conshetta prisoners were murdered at McFarland's plantation, 35 miles, on the Red river, and near the boundary line Bassier and Red river parishes. The city is filled with rumors in reference to the affairs at Conshetta. It is reported that the prisoners captured there by citizens on Saturday night, and among whom were the sheriff and deputy, the collectors of the parish and district, were started to Shreveport under guard, but were taken from the escort 23 miles below here, last evening, by a band of 50 armed Texans and shot.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 31.
J. Hersog & Co's Eureka chain works on Fifteenth street, was destroyed by fire this morning. Loss over $20,000.
The steamer Mikado, from Sidney arrived this morning.
Among the passengers of the Mikado from Sidney is H. H. H., agent of the line to which the steamer belongs. He says he will remain here until all financial difficulties of the company are adjusted.
The Mikado brought no mail from Honolulu, but there is news up to August 19. The Assembly assembled on the 10th of August. The long contemplated bill, concerning the introduction of bills to aid the construction of telegraph lines, and steam navigation with foreign countries. He spoke strongly in favor of reciprocal treaties, particularly favoring one with the United States, and said no effort on his part would be spared to bring about such a result.

The King has appointed S. G. Wilder and J. T. Kawaina special commissioners to collect and forward to the Philadelphia centennial exhibition the manufactures and products of the Hawaiian government.

The British war steamer Scout was expected to arrive with a party to observe the transit of Venus from this island.
The Sidney Herald says that the report that the steamer line between Sidney and San Francisco had suspended is without foundation.

The Melbourne Argus complains that the mail service on this line is very inefficient, and that San Francisco dates are constantly anticipated by vessels via Suez canal, and as far as Melbourne is concerned, California mail service is useless.

Twenty-five more bodies have been recovered from the wreck of the British steamer Admiral. A portion of the cargo was saved and brought to Melbourne.
The challenge has finished the soundings for the cable between Sidney and Wellington, New Zealand.

WASHINGTON, August 31.
The flagship Franklin, of Rear-Admiral Case's European fleet, was at Spezzia, Italy, on August 14th. The long voyage arrived the day previous from Villa Franca. The Junata left Spezzia August 11th to visit Messina, Turanto, Brindisi, Corfu, Crigo, and various other ports, and then on to the Villa Franca by the 15th of August.

A dispatch received here from Montgomery says, Tom Joy was shot and instantly killed on the northern bound train of the Alabama & Chattanooga Railroad, on Friday night. Reports from Lee county state that a colored church was fired into Thursday night and that four persons were killed. The church was then burned. The Charleston News and Courier received here to-day contains an editorial of which the following is an extract: Patterson has great power with the colored voters of this State, because he is believed by them to be and asserts himself to be the friend and confidant of President Grant and the exponent of his views and opinions touching the South in general and particularly this State.

LOUISVILLE, August 31.
A Courier-Journal dispatch says a number of men who were present in Standard in an attempt to suppress trouble in Lancaster were indicted by the Grand county Grand Jury last week, and will appear to-morrow to answer.

BROOKLYN, Aug. 31.

The sentiment in Brooklyn over the acquittal of Rev. Henry Ward Beecher by the investigating committee, and his church was made intense by an accompanying meeting concerning Francis D. Moulton's appearance in the house and the scene in which he was the chief actor. Some admirers of his pluck, many criticised his impertinence, others admitted that he narrowly escaped severe handling, and all conceded that the committee's verdict has not ended the scandal. The Plymouth Church meeting will linger in the memory of all who attended it as one of the greatest ever held in Mr. Beecher's church, where great meetings are the rule. Moulton's appearance stood late and pert for him, and gibs, geers and insults were the only form in which the church members could appropriately express their feelings. The presence of the police, many said, saved a scene that would have blotted the record of any great body. A well known member of Beecher's church said on Saturday: "Moulton may consider himself lucky to have escaped with his life, for a good feeling alone prevented him from striking him." In the rush of the action that followed the calling of Mr. Raymond a liar, there were many details unnoticed. Several gentlemen who stood in the forward part of the church, raised their hands on their pistols and one man standing near Moulton took his pistol out of his inside pocket and held it beneath his vest, with the handle peeping out from beneath the lapels. Moulton said afterwards that he was unarmed. He waited on Friday afternoon in his residence for an answer from the investigating committee to his telegram in which he offered to submit to a cross-examination as he did not receive any reply by the 27th of August. He started for the meeting; Tilton called then, and Moulton said, I am going to Plymouth church to hear that report. Tilton told him not to go, but Moulton replied that he intended to go there with a prepared speech to defend himself if his reputation was attacked. He would not listen to Tilton, but drove off in his carriage.

WASHINGTON, August 31.
The report that Secretary Bristow will resign his present position and be succeeded by Hon. Hugh McCollough, is not credited in official circles. The contrary theory is every reason to believe that Mr. Bristow intends to remain at the head of the Treasury Department for some time to come. His manly private conversation and his most complete satisfaction Attorney General Williams has had prepared all the reports received by him from the South relative to alleged persecution of negroes in that section, and he will leave here to-morrow for Long Branch to consult the President on the subject.
The Attorney General is of the opinion that some immediate action on the part of the general government is necessary for the protection of the negroes.

General Patterson, of South Carolina, arrived here last night, en route for the north. He gives startling accounts of affairs in that State. He says that notwithstanding the ward all making up a greatly outnumbered whites, and are generally better armed, it is feared the latter will commit fearful outrages on the negroes during the political campaign now pending in that State. The telegraph statement that 500 Ku-klux were advancing on Columbia, S. C., for the purpose of capturing Gov. Moses, Senator Patterson and other prominent politicians of that city, turns out to have been only a party of fox-hunters from Columbia. A fox was started within a short distance of the city, and the tramp of horses, and the shouts of the hunters were heard on the outskirts of the city, in some way was started the report that the Ku Klux were coming to the city. The report soon spread through the city that the Ku Klux were after the parties above named, who hurried to the office of the Commissioner of the State, and the latter immediately telegraphed to the authorities at Washington. By morning the joke was exploded and peace was restored to the city.

NEW YORK, August 31.
The Star to-day, on the subject of the Beecher scandal, publishes among other things, the following: Moulton and Tilton are to have the field all to themselves for the coming week. Beecher's counsel, who knows the nature of the papers in Moulton's hands, is expected to do nothing in them which can be used to his injury.
A reporter asked one of the members of the investigating committee whether any notice would be taken of future publications. He replied: "It is not likely that any official notice will be taken, but of course, everything depends upon the character of the statements made. We propose to follow this to the end, so that when it is finished Mr. Beecher's enemies will have nothing to say."
Question—Do you think Moulton has further revelations of importance to make?
Answer—We know he has nothing new, he will probably produce papers which may be distorted into supporting his charges, but he has nothing bearing more directly upon the point at issue than those papers already published. He is in a box now and he feels it. Both he and Tilton are desperate, and will undoubtedly take desperate measures to extricate themselves. There is nothing which would be taken could say or do now which would surprise me, after demonstrations of the past few weeks.

Question—What do the committee think of the effect of their report upon the public?
Answer—They are very well satisfied with it. It could not be anticipated that any report we could make would give entire satisfaction. The committee has been from the first divided into parties, not on the question of guilt or innocence, but on the question of friendship or enmity to Mr. Beecher. We did not expect to satisfy his enemies on the charge that we intended from the outset to whitewash Mr. Beecher is ridiculous. We know that in investigating this case we were obliged to make history, and that our acts would be closely scrutinized by those who would not be biased by the party feeling which prevails now. Had we believed Mr. Beecher guilty, we should have reported that fact however painful it might have been, and we would have said so, and gave our reasons for so deciding. Everything that has occurred since then has only shown the more clearly that we were right. The conduct of Moulton in coming to the meeting on Friday night was a part of the same species of tactics he has been using throughout all this controversy. He thought that he would break the force of the verdict by creating a disturbance. Moulton has been lightly dealt with thus far, but there is evidence enough in our command to show him up in his proper colors. Moulton's next statement will be published within a day or two in the Daily Graphic and in order to give an effect to the letters which are contained in it fac similes will be given.

CHICAGO, August 31.
A special dispatch from Green Bay, Wisconsin, states that a fire was discovered in a barn owned by Doctor A. H. Ellsworth on Saturday night, and before the fire department could reach the spot the barn was nearly consumed. Also two adjoining barns, one the property of Dr. Ellsworth, containing tobacco, hay, grain, carriages, &c., were destroyed by the same fire. All were totally destroyed, insurance, three hundred dollars. The loss on Sydam's barn was five hundred dollars, no insurance. The fire was supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

HENRYVILLE, August 31.
On Saturday night a Frenchman named August Gardner while walking on the railroad was attacked by three men and robbed. They then tied him to the track over a culvert and left him. He contrived to free himself except his left foot. An approaching train severed his leg from his body. He was plucked up and taken to Jeffersonville where he died yesterday.

SOUTH BEND, Aug. 31.
The fire that occurred here on Saturday night commenced in a frame building on Michigan street, occupied by Joseph Hartman, auctioneer, R. Laborer, jeweller and sewing machine agent, Loss $25,000. Insurance.
