OMAHA, NEB., Sept. 3, 1874.

HON. E. ROSEWATER.

Editor OMAHA DAILY BEE,

DEAR SIR:—In an article in your paper last evening, headed, "A Postoffice Paul Pry," you take the liberty of using my name, and the misrepresentations you make are so inexcusable and unbecoming that I do not feel justified in allowing it to pass. You say I expressed surprise at the "mistake." I do not remember making any expression at all, but if I did, it certainly was not surprise. I remember the clerk handing you the letter with my name, and the opening of the letter, as he explained, was not a mistake, but an accident, and one that I should think was very liable to occur. As you have already given my name to the public, I ask you to publish this.

Yours for justice, SAM. BAUSERMAN.

The above letter came to us too late for Tuesday's publication. As the columns of the BEE are ever open to any explanations, whether favorable or not, we publish the above, even though the proprietor is absent. From a conversation with him, however, when here, we can say that he admitted that he said "all right," in reply to the question whether the money contained in the letter corresponded with the statement, but any one at once can see that in order to be able to ask that question, the clerk must have known that there really was money in it, and it was afterwards that the suspicions referred to in Monday's issue were aroused.

We have received a letter from a prominent citizen proposing a method of investigation which we think will soon set this question at rest, and if the facts are as Mr. Stout represents the BEE will exonerate him in due time. Under any circumstances, however, the public cannot avoid concluding that it is very careless way of doing business in a post office.

If you have anything to sell at auction call on Cussen, Sixteenth and Dodge streets. sept2-2f

THE STATE FAIR.

The Buildings and Other Improvements.

The large exposition building at the State Fair Ground is now completed, and presents a very attractive appearance. A proposition has been made to place a fountain in the center of the building, which will be a great addition. The proper persons are now engaged in figuring on the proposition, which will quite likely be accepted.

A large amphitheatre, to cost $1,000, and capable of seating 1,500 persons, is to be erected immediately, the location being opposite the Judges' stand.

It is to be a substantial structure, and will afford a commanding view of the race track. The necessary lumber has been purchased, and was conveyed to the grounds yesterday. The arrangements for this big improvement were concluded yesterday morning.

All the cattle, hog and sheep pens have been completed, and will afford ample accommodation for all the stock that will be on exhibition.

The race track is to be greatly improved, and is to be fenced around the entire course.

The Douglas County Fair will take place before the State Fair, and will begin on the 23d of this month. The State Fair will begin on the 29th.

Everything will be in readiness for the County Fair. It will be to Omaha's interest to see that the County Fair is largely attended and made a success.

Tuesday night it was raining all along the line of the Union Pacific, and at a late hour it began snowing at Cheyenne, and was coming eastward at last accounts. It makes one think of bringing out his overcoat.

Mr. T. P. Elliott has entered into partnership with Mr. W. A. Pratt, of Chicago, for the purpose of carrying on the coal trade in this city, as the agents of E. L. Medstrom & Co., of Chicago. Mr. Elliott has long been engaged in the coal business in Omaha, and is well known here, while Mr. Pratt comes with the highest recommendations as a gentleman and a business man. Success is wished the new firm of Elliott & Pratt.

ARMY INTELLIGENCE.

Annual Detail for the Recruiting Service.

A general order just issued from the War Department announces the following detail for the recruiting service, from October 1, 1874, to October 1, 1876, which will be found of interest to the many military officers of the department of the Platte:

Colonel S. D. Sturgis, Seventh Cavalry, will relieve Colonel Grimeson, Tenth Cavalry, as Superintendent of the Mounted Recruiting Service Station, at the depot, St. Louis, Mo.

Colonel H. H. King, Ninth Infantry, will relieve Colonel O. G. Wilcox, Twelfth Infantry, as Superintendent of the General Recruiting Service Station, New York City.

Major B. E. A. Crofton, Seventeenth Infantry, will relieve Lieutenant Colonel J. P. Roy, Fifteenth Infantry, in command of the depot at Governor's Island, New York harbor.

Major E. C. Mason, Twenty-first Infantry, will relieve Lieutenant Colonel T. N. G. Whistler, Fifth Infantry, in command of the sub-depot Newport Barracks, Kentucky.

Details from regiments of cavalry to report to the Superintendent at St. Louis depot, and first Lieutenant from each regiment except the Seventh. From the Seventh cavalry one captain for duty at the St. Louis depot.

Details from regiments of infantry to report to the Superintendent at New York: One First Lieutenant each from the Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Seventeenth, Nineteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-first, Twenty-second, Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth.

Regimental officers will be selected by their Colonels and ordered to report in person to the Superintendent for their respective arms. In making the selection regard will be had to fitness for the responsible duty of recruiting and not exclusively to length of service.

All the officers detailed in accordance with these orders will report as directed by October 1, 1874. The officers relieved will join their respective regiments. The Superintendent will relieve the officers in charge of rendezvous, as those of the new detail report, and order them to join their companies.

Recruiting in the military department of the Pacific will be conducted as heretofore except for the Signal service.

Enlisting for the army will not be recommended until the rank and file is reduced to 25,000 men or until further orders.

Paragraphs 978 and 979 of the revised regulations, in relation to the examination of recruits with a view to their rejection after arrival at regiments or posts, have been by direction of the Secretary of War suspended.

Paragraph 974 of the revised regulations in relation to work by recruits will be strictly enforced at the depots. Recruiting officers are expected to give close personal attention to their duties, and to adhere to the rules governing them. The prohibition to enlist minors and men of doubtful moral habits will be strictly enforced by superintendents. In accepting recruits at rendezvous the manual affords the required standard of qualifications, and it is in a like manner the standard for inspection after the recruits arrive at the depot.

Omaha to Lincoln.

Although 10:40 a. m. is the regular time for the departure of the westward bound passenger train over the B. & M. road, over which nobody seemed to have control, delayed our departure from the Omaha depot until noon. The chief cause of delay must be ascribed to the extraordinary demand for passenger coaches by the 200 political and musical excursionists who were seeking passage for the Capital city. Ours was, indeed, a motley as well as a jolly crew. There were jovial Tensons, with their drums files, bass viols, clarinettes, and silver plated brass instruments. There were also pious churchmen like Jams and Ed. McShane; and there also were the political class from nearly every county north and west.

As the excursionists were so numerous, and the political class so prominent, the excursion was a most interesting one.
