WILL the Bourbons ratify the choice of the Ko-ops?

The presence of a hundred Bourbons has created a brisk demand in the Lincoln gin market.

WITH George Francis Train's brother-in-law as their chief standard bearer, success and victory must inevitably crown the efforts of the "Independents."

STAN engagement at the Lincoln opera house.

DAVIS and Gardner, the Independents' nominees for Congressman and Governor, were personally members of the Independent Convention, and that explains why they got away with Judge Mason and Doctor Johnson's baggage.

AND now we shall all have glory. James W. Davis, the rip-roaring stumper of Credit Mobilier notoriety, has at last realized what he so fondly hoped and fervently prayed for. He has been nominated for Congress by the conglomerate body of Nebraska impracticables who style themselves "Independents."
