—Clark & Warden will begin moving their stock into their new and elegant brick stable on upper Farnham street, to-morrow.

—Lorenzki, the fellow that "beat" the town, and then "skipped," did some insurance business while here, and that fact accounts for everything.

—Over four hundred firemen from the neighboring cities will be in attendance at the firemen's annual parade in this city, next week. The parade will be the finest affair of the kind ever gotten up in this city.

—Jim Stephenson, yesterday made complaint at the Police Court against a party by the name of Gilbert, for abusing a horse by over-driving. The examination of the case was set for half past ten o'clock to-morrow morning.

—Some shavers, we are informed, are obtaining cheap cigars at $25 per thousand on credit, and doing them up in tin foil and fancy boxes are selling them at an immense profit for cash. It's the tin foil that catches the victims, who imagine they are investing in a tip-top cigar.

—Fifteen cars of tea left this city at 10:30 a. m., Sunday, and arrived in Chicago at 12:20 p. m., Monday, making the run in 25 hours and 50 minutes. Another train of 21 cars, on the same day, followed at 3:30 p. m., arriving in Chicago at 5:30 p. m.—just 26 hours. This is the fastest freight time ever made on any of the roads between Omaha and Chicago.

—Yesterday a mad dog was discovered in the vicinity of Allen & Jensen's drug store. Charles Roberts, the clerk, fired his revolver three times at the hydrophobic canine, hitting him each time in the head, but without killing him. Mr. Gibson, president of the city council, shot him once, and a gentleman, whose name we did not ascertain, from the government corral, finally killed him. A large crowd was collected by the reports of the shots.

—A gentleman who is a constant reader of the Herald, rushed into the office of that paper this morning, and frantically exclaimed, "Where can I find that son of the man who parts his name in the middle?" "Whom do you mean?" was the interrogatory put to him in return. "I mean," said the gentleman, "a party by the name of Morton. I have read so much in the Herald concerning the remarkable family of Mortons, that I am anxious to get a view at one of them."

DONT FORGET! The "Variety Bazar" will during this week REMOVE to its new store, Corner 13th and Douglas street. Meanwhile Eberhart continues as partner at old stand. You can secure BIG BARGAINS in anything before present stock is exhausted.

A Battling Rat Story—A Rat Runs up on the inside of a Man's Pantaloons.

A rattling rat excitement transpired at the Bee office last evening, and any one who has experienced the terrible sensation produced by a rat running up inside of the pantaloons, will appreciate the unpleasant situation in which Mr. John Richards, proprietor of the Illinois House, was placed. One of the employes of the Bee office had brought up into the counting-room from the press-room a trap containing a rat of immense size. Mr. Richards is the owner of a very valuable rat dog, and he and his ratter were called in. Quite a crowd of men assembled to see the fun. It was noticed that there were two or three rat-holes in the counting-room, and to prevent the escape of the rat, in case the dog missed him, each hole was guarded by a gentleman, who placed his foot over it. Mr. Richards was one of those who thus stood guard. All being in readiness the door of the trap was thrown open, and the rat was made to jump out. He struck the floor right side up, and the dog sprang for him, but missed him. The rat doubled on the dog, and then made a bee-line for the hole guarded by Mr. Richards. The rat had probably been through that hole many a time before, and notwithstanding it was completely covered by the foot of Mr. Richards, he disappeared from sight to the great astonishment of the dog and 'he crowd as well.

"He's gone, sure enough," exclaimed one.

"No, he isn't," shouted Mr. Richards, "here he is up my pantaloons." Mr. Richards stood there shaking with his arms spread out, as if receiving an electric shock, and he certainly appeared as if he were desperately trying to shrink himself into nothing. However, he had the presence of mind not to attempt to get at the rat with his hands, for had he done so, he would undoubtedly have received an ugly bite. The crowd comprehended the predicament he was in, and hurriedly coming to his rescue, they quickly pulled off his pantaloons, when the rat jumped out, much to Mr. Richards' relief, and again made for the hole, but was captured by the dog and killed. Mr. Richards declares that he never again wants to experience a similar sensation. Hedon't care about any more rats running up his trouser legs.

Republican County Convention.

A Republican County Convention for Douglas county will be held at the Court House, in the city of Omaha, on Monday, the 22nd day of September, A. D. 1874, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of selecting 8 delegates to the Convention called for the following day to nominate a representative to the Legislature from the 25th district.

Each ward in the city of Omaha will be entitled to three delegates and each precinct outside said city one delegate, to said convention.

Primary elections for the purpose of choosing such delegates are hereby called for Saturday, the 26th day of September, the polls to be open in the city of Omaha from 4 to 7 o'clock p. m., and in the other precincts from 5 to 8 o'clock p. m.

The County Fair.

To-day is the first day of the Douglas County Fair, which will continue till Friday. The principal business transacted thus far has been of a preliminary character—the reception, arrangement, and entry of articles and stock for exhibition.

During the three following days our citizens will be well repaid by a visit to the Fair Grounds, as the display will be an extensive one. Many exhibitors who intend to be at the State Fair will display their articles at the County Fair.

We understand that there will be several interesting trials of speed by our fast horses, on the afternoon of each day.

Buses will run at short intervals between the termini of the street railway and the fair grounds, while carriages will convey passengers from the hotels.

Worthy Grand Chief Templar Fairbanks, of Lincoln, is in the city on a visit.

Our Saunders County Letter.

SAUNDERS COUNTY, Sept. 21. EDITOR BEE:

We find the feeling existing among the farmers of this county far more buoyant than we anticipated. Wheat, oats and flax crops are better than they have for average years.

Considering the light wheat crops and abundance of corn realized in Douglas and in the more north and western counties, the farmers here expect to obtain, before spring, as fair a price for wheat as their neighbors will for corn; so with this prospect as a consolation they mourn but little over the devastations of the grasshoppers, but just as present they are not particularly well pleased with the price of wheat, and many are feasting it to their hogs, calculating thereby to realize a greater profit than by selling their pork at the present low prices and holding wheat for an advance in the market. Nor do they think favorably of disposing of their hogs to western buyers, claiming that even now they can ship to Chicago, add the cost of transportation, and make 50 per cent. more on their sales than by selling here. Thus it occurs that those buyers who are shipping both east and west to points where feed is cheaper, are shipping poor and half-fed stock, which they obtain at low figures from farmers who are obliged to sell, and from those who are not anxious, owing to the high price of feed, to winter and fatten them.

Taking the general yield of this season throughout the entire State into consideration, Saunders County has little to complain of, beyond the present wet weather, which for the time interferes with their threshing and hay-making, and this same complaint arises from all sections.

POLITICS

are slow, but little interest is shown, beyond a desire to see and hear Saint Patrick O'Bannon O'Hawes, and to oust at the coming election their present county commissioners, who, they claim, have been extravagant enough to render the out-lay in Saunders county equal to that in Douglas, which has twice the population.

SPRINGING MATTERS

is a topic in which considerable interest is shown, as there is considerable rivalry existing between the two counties of Saunders and Dodge, in regard to running horses. So far Saunders is head, and is priding herself on the fact that the Dodgites have yet to bring forward a horse superior to "Granger," of Waloo; also, that the challenge to run a foot race of a hundred yards, given by James White, of Estena, remains unaccepted.

OMAHA NEWSPAPERS.

The Bee is the favorite, has an extensive circulation and is a regular weekly visitor in almost every family. It is regarded as the leading paper of the State, with the ablest and most enterprising editor.

On inquiring at several post offices for a copy of the Republican we were told that possibly we might find a copy or two at Ashland, and had we come a year or two sooner we probably would have been able to obtain one at Waloo; but as the paper had no spirit, energy or progressiveness about it, and as the farmers were live wide awake men, the paper had in the last year lost its former patronage, and was now, but a melancholy remnant in the minds of exceedingly old county antiquarians.

If the Union is desirous that its existence should be known in this section, we would advise it to send a few copies gratis, provided, of course, it could find a man who would consider it worth taking out of the post-office.

Now and then at long intervals we see a copy of the Herald, and yesterday we were somewhat agreeably surprised at a piece of information given us by a lady friend of Doctor Miller, who emigrated a few years ago from Missouri and squatted on a piece of land here. It was to the effect that the Omaha paper that ever should come into her house, as it was the only good religious organ published in Omaha, and for that reason the only one fit for a family of children to read, and as she intended only Christian influence to come in contact with her children, she would patronize only Doctor Miller, who she believed was the only Christian and God-fearing editor in Omaha. George Francis Train's Boys in Larks Leman.

(Extracts from a letter from the well known artist who went abroad, says The Auburn Advertiser, to paint for a New York Club a full length portrait of Marshal McMahon, President of the French Republic.)

VEVEY, SWITZERLAND, August 17th, 1874.

STEAMER ACROSS THE OCEAN. Here I am in the only English Republic on the face of the earth "Bean Swift." My passage out per S. S. City of Chester, was pleasant, fine weather and the freedom of the ship from Capt. Kennedy. We made a splendid run into Queenstown, in 8 days and 4 hours, beating the "Adriatic" three hours for the U. S. Mails, and two hours for the "Pool Club" (on deck), and Win. E. Mac—ran the club! I won three pools of the eight—30 shillings sterling each, which paid my way bill. MEAT three times a day, a cocktail at lunch, wine at dinner, and ale with rabbit at the Eucharist Club, 10 p. m. Bread was too very well in N. Y., but meat and London is a dirty old swindle. Paris as beautiful as ever—no traces of the Commune.

Geneva was very pleasant as you will see by my letters to the Albany Argus. The day before yesterday I arrived at Vevey, and called upon Mr. Sillig, whose college is so widely known, who presented me to the CHIEFS OF THE OLD BLOCK, the young Masters Train—sons of George Francis—and splendid boys they are. Geo. F. Junior, is a young fellow, full of spirit, and manners, and Elsie is all that with a touch of his father, added.

I saw the boys last evening (Sunday) at their athletic sports, and afterward in swimming. George F. jumps, vaults, and rows a boat like a professor. Elsie is a little too heavy for the air, but in the lake, it is as graceful as a swan, and swims and dives like a duck. I was charmed with the youths, and they seemed to be pleased at meeting an old friend of their father's. I inquired of them with having just left their father at Saratoga, and said every thing that two such splendid boys should bear of. I was paternal and friendly—whose experience has taught him just what, and just what not, to impress upon such fine lads. The boys expect me to swim with them to-night in the lake. It will be my first bath in Switzerland. To-morrow we are to ramble to Montreux and Chillon. I shall remain here two weeks and return to Paris via Berne and Neuchatel. I am well pleased with Mr. Sillig, who has the finest place of his kind I have seen abroad.
