pears, peaches, plums, apricots, nectarines, quinces and grapes in all their varieties. Lot 2 relates to canned and dried fruits, jellies and preserves.

CLASS TWO is composed of and relates entirely to hedges, groves and orchards.

CLASS THREE is composed of the Floral, and is divided into two lots. Lot one embraces the professional and the amateur and same as the professional. In this latter lot special premiums are to be awarded...

CLASS FOUR is composed of horses, mules and asses, and is divided into seven lots: Lot 1 consists of thoroughbreds; lot 2, draft horses; to be actually tested on the grounds; lot 3, general utility; lot 4, roadsters and horses of all work; lot 5, sweepstakes horses; lot 6, asses and mules; lot 7, lady equestrianism.

CLASS FIVE is composed of sheep and divided into four lots: Lot 1, Short wool; lot 2, Middle wool; lot 3, Longwools; lot 4, Sweepstakes and mixed breeds.

CLASS SIX is composed of agricultural products and is divided into two lots: Lot 1, relates to grain; lot 2, seeds; lot 3, root crop; lot 4, vegetables. There is a just provision made for all those obtaining premiums in this class that the articles shall be donated to the fair, and either sold on the ground to the highest bidder or the benefit of the association, or distributed gratuitously in such quantities as the board may determine.

CLASS SEVEN is known as "Champion" and consists of two lots. Lot 1, relates to the best yield per acre of corn, fall wheat, spring wheat, oats, barley, Irish potatoes, flax and rye. The society has wisely designated this class as "Champion" with the view that "these will be awarded the successful competitor of the title of "Champion" in their respective classes. The party winning the championship is required to be ready to contest for the championship at each subsequent fair and remains "Champion" until the honor is taken from him by a more skillful person." Lot 2, relates to "Arbor Day" or the planting of trees which is required to be done on the second Wednesday of April in each year, and to any farmer or citizen who succeeds in planting a greater number of trees, either of fruit, forest, evergreen, or other varieties, shall be entitled to the requisite premium.

CLASS EIGHT is composed of machinery and implements relating to farm, domestic and general use, and is divided into four lots: Lot 1 relates to all the machinery connected with farming; lot 2, to domestic uses; lot 3, to apartments for building; lot 4, to the apary, or hives for bee culture.

CLASS NINE is miscellaneous, and is divided into five lots: Lot 2 relates to vehicles; lot 2, to stores and tinware; lot 3, cabinet ware; lot 4, tanners', saddlers' and shoemakers' work, boots and shoes; lot 5, wooden ware.

CLASS TEN is composed of the arts and textile fabrics, and is divided into two lots: Lot 1, relating to the best number of yards of woolen cloth, flannel, tow cloth, carpets, etc.; best pair of woolen blankets, stockings, socks, mittens, etc.; also, patchwork quilts, in silks, calico, cloth, and worsted; counterpanes and coverlets; lot 2, relating to plain sewing, embroidery, quilting, needlework, crochet work, etc.

REPUBLICAN FLUAT CONVENTION.
55th Representative District.
Met at the Grand Central at 3 o'clock yesterday and was called to order by the Chairman, Elam Clark, of Washington.

On motion, Judge Morton, of Fremont, was called to the chair and John McMurphy elected Secretary.

A committee of three, on credentials, was appointed as follows: Messrs. Wm. Horn, Ballew and Briggs.

On motion the informal ballot showed the following candidates and votes: Barnes, of Cass, four; Thurston, of Omaha, seven; Cator, of Dodge, three; Sprick, of Washington, three. The first formal ballot stood the same and for the whole afternoon the seventeen fellows balloted for that day never got further than: Thurston, seven; Barnes, four; Sprick, three; Cator, three.

At five o'clock they adjourned one hour for supper, and stayed out on the grounds for more than two hours. They had then taken just thirty ballots. On opening the convention after the adjournment, four more ballots were taken, making 34 in all.

John W. Barnes was nominated on the 34th ballot by the following vote: Cator, one; Thurston, seven; Barnes, nine.

Mr. Barnes was called for and made a handsome speech. Mr. Thurston was called out and made a glorious, triumphant and happy speech, amid great cheers.

Mr. Cator said he was for the "first" last and all the dirt, urged him to a hardy and shook the nominee by the hand.

A central committee for the ensuing year was then appointed, consisting of Wm. Horn, of Dodge; Chairman; James Foley, of Washington; John McMurphy, of Cass; J. M. Thurston, of Douglas; B. Teschuck, of Sarpy.

Meeting adjourned. JOHN McMURPHY, Sec'y. Wm. MORTON, Ch'm.
