PRESIDENT-MAKING has fairly commenced. The first ticket put in the field is Washburn and Blaine, subject to ratification by the National Republican Convention.

Isn't it fortunate that Boss Tweed does not live in Nebraska. A failure to obtain a writ of error prevents this wealthy criminal from changing his striped jacket in New York, but such a trifling technicality would not have been in his way in these parts.

ACCORDING to the Union, the water supply problem has just been solved by the discovery of a wonderful spring, that is to supply Omaha with all the water she needs during the present generation. This remarkable spring is said to exist somewhere near the southwestern border of our city limits. All we shall need, according to the aquatic editor of the Union, is to attach the pipes to this magic spring and let the double-distilled fluid flow through the municipal arteries. The astute hydraulic engineer of the twilight concern is preparing for the arrest to-morrow by making another discovery through which the credulous people of Omaha can be enlightened as to what becomes of the vast volume of water which is now flowing out of that spring. If he cannot solve that problem satisfactorily we would suggest that the City Council send for Hammond, the water witch, that some years ago contracted to furnish Omaha with a never failing supply of water on the same principle that Moses once drew water from the rock—with his magic walking stick.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 22.
It is estimated that there will be six or seven thousand persons present from all parts of the Union to the grand convocation of the Knights of Templars in this city on the 1st of December.

The late Secretary of the State, in his opinion, all naturalization papers issued by the second district court since 1864, are null and void.

The Picayune says all the great legal minds in the state are of the unanimous opinion that these papers are legal, and the Attorney General only just before the election. The Conservators estimate the number of votes involved at 4,000.

A special convention of the Democratic Party, held at Shreveport, states on the authority of Gen. Merritt and Commissioner Levee, we learn warrants have been prepared for the arrest of merchants and others of that town, which will probably take place to-morrow.

The Times in an extra advises submitted to arrest by United States soldiers, but advises parties who may be arrested not to give any bail. The raid on which the warrants are to be made is getting additional signatures.

The Baton Rouge steambot, Prosperango, burned last night at Esplanade. The boat and cargo are total loss. The chambermaid is missing. No other lives lost.

DETROIT, Oct. 22.
The effects of the explosion of the boiler of the steamer Brooklyn, this afternoon, were terrible. The boat sunk instantly. The steamer Cuba picked up nearly all of the survivors who were landed here. The wounded are in the hospital. The number of passengers on board was seven. The crew numbered twenty. It is thought that half those on board were killed.

The passengers killed by the explosion are, Mrs. Robbins and child, Oswego; a lady from Cleveland, and two Frenchmen from Ogdensburg, names unknown, as the steward's books are in the sunken wreck. The crew killed are John Morley, first cook, Ogdensburg; second cook, unknown, Oswego; Wm. Hilliard, second engineer, Ogdensburg; James Romaine, wheelman; Michael Huck and James Phillips, firemen; Capt. Vincent, Mike Hanley, deck hand; Samuel Anderson, porter; Rensselaer, Falls City. The injured passengers are, Capt. Boardman, Chicago, head hurt and arm broken; James Miller, Green Bay, seriously; F. W. Stevens, New Haven, leg broken and head cut. Crew—First mate, Daniel Rider, arm broken; second mate, Abner Miller, injured in the leg; first engineer, Wm. Stoddard, fatally; Wheelman, Antoine Parker, slightly; chambermaid, Mary Brown, leg broken; Amos Nelson, feet hurt; Fred Valley, deck hand, slightly.

The Brooklyn had a miscellaneous cargo on board, which, including herself, was valued at $25,000. Some of the injured passengers say the boat was racing with the propeller Cuba, which had passed her a short time before, and that she was carrying a tremendous head of steam when the catastrophe occurred.

Capt. Boardman attributes the explosion to low water in the boiler. Nine bodies were recovered.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 22.
The weather to-day is delightful, and the race track did not get proved. The first race was for a purse of $400 for two year olds; distance one mile; won by Aristides by a length; Bet War 2d, Amelia 3d; Halbrook 4th. Time, 1:44.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.
The Episcopal Convention opened its fourteenth session at St. John's Chapel this forenoon. Immediately after religious exercises the house retired into secret session. It is thought that a vote on Seymour's confirmation will be reached this afternoon.

The Republicans this morning nominated S. H. Wales, for mayor, and Patrick H. Jones, for registrar.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.
Early this morning Albert Crocker, a Democratic politician, with Charles Shaw and one or two other boon companions, while on a drunken spree, entered the barbershop of an Italian named Dombaggio, in a street adjacent to the hotel, and other names commenced demolishing the furniture, &c. A fight ensued, in which Crocker received a fearful stab wound in the abdomen.

The preliminary investigation in the case of Von Mevius has been concluded. It is expected that the confinement to which he has been subjected will soon cease.

LONDON, Oct. 22.
Tom Hood, the well-known author, is dangerously ill; his complaint is disorder of the liver.

BERLIN, Oct. 22.
The preliminary investigation in the case of Von Mevius has been concluded. It is expected that the confinement to which he has been subjected will soon cease.

LONDON, Oct. 22.
The indemnity due to Great Britain on account of the British sufferers in the Virginia massacre has not yet been paid over by the Spanish government.

CALCUTTA, Oct. 22.
Mena Sahib, the notorious native prince, who has been in hiding for years past, for his crimes at the time of the Indian rebellion, has been captured. He has been identified by the Maharajah of Sonda, and has confessed the horrible atrocities of which he was accused. The news caused intense excitement here.

LONDON, Oct. 22.
Advices from Montevideo, under date of Monday, October 19th, say that the issue of paper currency is imminent.

The rebel steamers purchased by Gen. Mitre are departing from Montevideo unmolested by the authorities.

The Pacific steamer Aconagua has sailed. Dispatches from Rio Janeiro state that the bank of Entre Rios has suspended.

It is now positively known that the rumors recently telegraphed from Madrid that Don Carlos had been killed, originated on the Madrid of the press, where they sent up the Spanish funds at the same time. It is abundant evidence that the meeting is on the increase in the Carlist ranks, but that gradually increasing until the distribution amounts to a million per day.

Word has been received from Washington by the Post Office Department is fully satisfied that the Plymouth Company can fill all the demands of the government. Agent J. H. Ingham, in charge of the railway mail service, completed arrangements for the transportation of each day shipment, which will amount to over four tons per day.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 22.
The Democratic Convention, recognizing the expediency of electing a candidate to Governor Kelloge, expressing a desire to re-open the conference. Nothing definite was done.

Today about twenty white leagues from Coushatta are reported coming down on a boat at 1 a. m. They were arrested for the killing of the parish officers in August.

The card of the merchants of Shreveport, in which they pledge themselves not to employ or furnish supplies to colored men who vote the Republican ticket, excites much comment. Their course is disapproved by many conservatives, but it is believed that the North Louisiana is beyond the control of political leaders here.

The breaking up of the compromise was made the subject of an editorial in the Picayune, in which that paper expresses surprise that it continued so long, as the plan of adjustment was evidently repugnant to both parties.

It is currently reported and believed here that the white leaders in the late insurrection will be arrested under the enforcement act, and held for trial. The people are undetermined whether to resist their arrest, or to submit to it.

The movement to construct a railroad to Texas by a special tax levied upon real estate, seems to be taking definite shape.

The chamber of commerce appointed a committee to wait upon the city council, and have an election called, or the proposed enforcement.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.
The Herald still continues to agitate the Louisiana controversy with the third ten question, and all articles upon those subjects are placed in prominent positions with attractive headlines. It to-day publishes a special article on the Louisiana question, in which the President is completely ignored in upholding Kelloge, who he says failed of being elected. He considers the President had no right to interfere in Louisiana, or should have recognized the McEnery government when it got possession last September.

The letter itself occupies over a column, and in addition the Herald devotes a column and a half to an editorial review of it. The Herald also publishes a somewhat protracted interview with Governor Dix, in opposition to the third term movement. Governor Dix don't think Grant deserves a third term, but really has no opinion on the question, and for any news on it refers everybody to the columns of the Herald.

A special from New Haven, Connecticut, says Miss Virginia Ingersoll, daughter of the Governor, was married yesterday to Harry T. Grant, of Wilmington, Delaware. It was a grand affair. After the ceremony at Trinity Church a reception was held at the Governor's mansion, which was attended by a large number of the party. It was a grand affair.

A World's special from Bismarck, Dakota, says there is much excitement among the Indians at Standing Rock Agency, owing to news received of Black Hills expeditions. Three hundred whites were seen on the White river, between the Missouri river and the highway to the gold region. The Indians held a council and speeches were made accusing the military authorities with bad faith and demanding a conference with President Grant relative to the sale of their land to the government, preferring to sell rather than to have it overrun with the whites.
