

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

We do not desire any contributions whatever of a literary or political character...

On and after October twenty-first, 1872, the circulation of the Daily Bee is assumed by the Editor...

The next thing in order will be the moving of the Capitol on wheels.

ALL aboard for the train to the new capital will be the battery-ry at Lincoln.

AND this cruel war is over, but the Irish may apply, for "Paddy," who is elected, is a bully little boy.

Now that Toney and Dundy are beaten, and Paddock elected, everybody will, of course, claim to be the man that did it with his little hatchet.

JUST as soon as Tiptop beat Redick for the office of Squatter Governor, that moment his star began to fade, his doom was sealed, and the Senatorial contest closed.

You can't most always tell which way the cat will jump. At the hour of writing (12 m.) the announcement comes to us that the senatorial game has been brought down by the unerring aim of Paddock.

LINCOLN is to have a grand masquerade on the 28th. We apprehend there will be phantom figures and long faces, as well as false faces enough among the political visitors there to require no special masks for that occasion.

It is to be hoped the Legislature will desert from too much law thinking. We are bound to have a Constitutional Convention in a few weeks. Prudence and common sense would dictate that the framing of new laws be deferred until after the new Constitution shall go in force.

With the resolutions of the State County Commissioners Convention before it what does the Omaha Herald think now of its repeated assertions that Nebraska does not need any more aid. What does that stupid organ think of the unanimous endorsement of the Bex and its course on relief matters by that convention?

JOHN BARNES, the miserable traitor, who, with uplifted hands, called God to witness that he would vote for John M. Thayer as long as any other man would vote for him, has gained for himself the unenviable notoriety of being the meanest man that ever filled a seat in a Nebraska Legislature.

THE Cheyenne people have no reason to complain of dullness of business, judging from the reports of the Leader of that city. It claims that not a tenement house can now be had there, and advocates the organization of a building society to put up structures enough to accommodate the existing demands for buildings.

AMONG the proceedings of the county commissioners' convention just held at the capital, we notice a recommendation to abolish the office of district attorney, and substitute salaried county attorneys in their stead. This proposition, if adopted, would increase the expenses of the various counties very materially.

Don't weep for Gerritt; we still have John.

Noes, the circus man, is keeping a hotel at Dallas, Texas.

LEGISLATIVE EXTRAVAGANCE.

The present Legislature is in many respects the most extravagant legislative body that has ever assembled in this State.

No legislature ever dispensed their charities so liberally for imaginary services. Four years ago the legislature carried on the voluminous in-bure incidental to investigation and impeachment with but two extra clerks, and if we are correctly informed, the last legislature only employed two committee clerks during a portion of the session.

What does the committee on buildings want with a clerk? In all probability not more than four or five bills will come under his consideration.

The members of the committee will simply attach their X marks to the few lines written by the clerk, and then the labor ends.

What do the people's servants in the legislature mean by voting $2,000 out of the State Treasury for supernumeraries? We sympathize with many of the clerks, but nevertheless doubt exceedingly that the people of Nebraska can afford at this time to be so generous.

DESTITUTION—More Aid Needed.

From the midst of the grasshopper region we write to inform you of the prospects and of how the hard times affect the people of Atlanta Precinct.

But no matter how it came to be circulated, it is all wrong. Nineteen-tenths of the families in Atlanta are in want, and already are in a dire and destitute condition.

ONLY A CHANGE OF BASE.

A Promising Actor Forsakes the Footlights for the Pulpit.

One of the best actors in Mr. Macaulay's stock company is, at the close of this season, to leave the stage and fit himself for the profession of the ministry.

His contentment is a pale intellectual cast, tinged with a degree of dignified solemnity more distinctly observable in clergyman.

But this list embraces all the daily papers in the country having over twenty thousand regular circulation.

The London papers present much larger figures. The Daily Telegraph, a paper larger than the New York Tribune, and sold for one penny or two cents, has a circulation, the last year, averaging 176,000 daily.

During the season he has conducted such papers as Mercurio, Sir Francis Leighton, Volange, Sir Charles Court, Rodrigo, Sir Benjamin Blackburne, and the leading writers, all with great conception, indicating in all careful and thorough study.

A Courier-Journal reporter yesterday had a conversation with him regarding his intentions to enter into the theological arena.

He afterward supported her as a leading man throughout the country. He has been connected with Mr. Macaulay longer than with any other manager, playing for a long while in Cincinnati.

English and American Newspapers.

Although the English are not so universally a newspaper-reading people as the Americans, the proportion of the former who either can read or not can not afford to buy by much greater, the larger concentration of populations in Great Britain gives to the English press much greater circulation than ours can boast.
