CONGRESSIONAL SENATE PROCEEDINGS.

Washington, February 28.—Mr. Conkling said that the appointing pension agent for New York, had on the 21st of February sent a bond of unexceptionable character representing $500,000 made out in the usual form, but it was objected on the ground that the justification should be unnumbered real property. Such a requirement was never made before and Conkling could not conform to it. The House bill to authorize construction of a bridge across the Missouri river at Glasgow was reported favorable and placed on the calendar.

Mr. Whyte submitted a resolution directing the Secretary of the Navy to transmit to the Senate a copy of all letters, documents and statements in writing relating to the conduct of the navigation officers of the steamer Huron, other than those contained in the proceedings of the naval court of inquiry.

Mr. Beck moved to make his resolution in relation to the ineffectual way of trying the case of the steamer Huron, and hoped to have it voted on the 29th.

Mr. Beck then gave notice that he would call on Tuesday next for a debate on the bill to amend the act relating to the Missouri river bridge, and hoped to have it voted on the 29th.

The resolution of Mr. Plumb, directing the secretary of the interior to inquire of government directors of the Union Pacific railroad company as to the nature of securities taken and held by that company for aid granted by it to the Colorado Central and other roads, was agreed to.

Mr. Paddock introduced a bill to provide for reconstruction of a bridge across the Missouri river at Decatur, Nebraska. Retired.

At 3 p. m. a message was received from the House of Representatives announcing that the body had passed the bill authorizing collocation of a standard silver dollar and to restore its legal tender character notwithstanding the objections of the President.

Mr. Conkling called Mr. Allison's attention to the silver bill on the table, and asked what the majority intended to do with it.

Mr. Allison said his friends were ready to proceed with it.

Messrs. Conkling, Hamilton and others favored speedy disposal of the bill, and on motion the pending business was tabled—4 to 9—and the chair then presented the silver bill, with objections of the President.

Messrs. Edmunds and Whyte objected, but objections were overruled and the motion was agreed to.

Mr. Conkling suggested that reading of the bill be dispensed with, but Mr. Sargent insisted that it be read in the other House of Congress when the demoralization act was passed as had been charged without reading. The bill and veto were therefore read. On roll call the bill was then passed over the veto—yeas 46, nays 19.

The president pro tem. in announcing the result of the vote said: "Two-thirds of the Senate having voted in its favor, the bill is passed and has become a law."

Mr. Allison withdrew his motion to reconsider the veto by which the Senate agreed to adjourn over until Monday.

MORNING PROCEEDINGS.

Mr. Whitthorne, from the naval committee, reported back the bill requiring detailed appropriation for the navy, the object being to provide the improper use of the appropriation. The bill passed.

Mr. Willis of the same committee reported back a bill appropriating $50,000 for expenses of establishing a temporary colony and expedition to the Arctic sea. Referred to committee of the whole.

The president's veto message was received, which the speaker laid on the table.

Mr. Stephens moved the previous question on the message, which was seconded enthusiastically.

During discussion Mr. Fort wanted the message read again, but the other objected.

Mr. Cox remarked it was a charge of fraud by a fraud, words which Mr. McCook objected to and demanded that it be taken out, but the speaker ruled them out of order, and said they should not go on record. A vote was then taken. The three votes were cast by Messrs. Bragg, Cook and Kelley, all of whom had been absent from the House by illness, but came up in time, by unanimous consent, to record their votes, which they did in the affirmative. The vote stood 196 to 78.

Mr. Spear announced the vote and in obedience to requirements of the constitution two-thirds have voted in the affirmative and the bill has passed, objecting to the contrary notwithstanding.

The announcement was received with general handclapping and other marks of jubilation.

The House then went into committee of the whole, Mr. Eden in the chair, and resumed consideration of the bill to pension soldiers of the Mexican and Indian wars.

Anderson's Patron.

Washington, February 28.—There is confidence felt by some members of the Cabinet that Gov. Nichols will pardon Anderson. A contrary opinion is shared by most Democrats here.

The subject of the possibility of reaching the Supreme Court has received, and is still receiving, close attention.

Information from New Orleans is to the effect that those served all points that would make the case one for the United States Courts.

There is no doubt that the case has been carried up to the Supreme Court of the United States.

The first step in the inquiry has brought out the fact that under the Louisiana laws there can be no interference by the courts after sentence and during the consideration of motions for a new trial, or any similar motion.

While these are under consideration, the sentenced men must remain in jail, so under these laws it will be impossible to release Anderson, except by order from Gov. Nichols, until the case has been carried up to the Supreme Court of the State.

The appeal is taken to the Supreme Court of the United States, and it is possible that a decision may be given when reached that a writ of superseas from the Supreme Court of the United States discharge a prisoner from the State authorities.

This seems to be the only chance for the United States authorities being able to help Gen. Anderson.
