MAY'S SUTOR.

"Has May come? Yes, Bertha; I have stowed her away safe and sound in the carriage."

While so engaged he did not perceive the antics of his irrepressible son, who was capering about the road in his vain endeavor to catch a glimpse of his cousin's face.

At last, Mr. Webb stopped his knee to alight, in response to her impatient remark "that he was waiting for her there all day."

She was a slender, delicate girl of about eighteen summers, with a soft, pleading complexion, and great, laughing brown eyes.

Her hair fell in ringlets about her shoulders, and looked like a shower of sparks as she tossed her nut-brown hair.

Mr. Webb, who had been brought up entirely at a fashionable boarding-school, came to her uncle's home, situated in the quiet country of S—.

In accordance with the wish of her mother, she was to live with her uncle after leaving school. Now her heroine did not like the idea of residing in a "dull, stupid country place," as she described it, and longed for the excitement of the gay life of the city.

She was speedily made welcome by her aunt and cousins, who had collected about the garden gate, all impatient to see the new cousin.

Mrs. Webb was a gentle, placid lady, with a kind, motherly manner, who was very kind to her.

Her cousin Bertha was a very pretty girl, with dreamy gray eyes and a sweet smile; her hair was fastened into a careless knot behind that became her wonderful curls.

It did not take May many minutes to learn that he was the most incorrigible tease she had ever met; he was a good-looking fellow, with a sunny, level, peaceful face that May's face brightened involuntarily as she thought, "I cannot help enjoying myself here with such a tempting scene before me."

"Well, May, I suppose that you are filled with rapture at the thought of spending your future days in this country place," said Edwin, looking at her with a teasing, mischievous smile.

She looked at him and said: "I cannot help enjoying myself here with such a tempting scene before me."

"I know you will be teasing me already. Really, it is too bad; but I will not quarrel with him, for he is incorrigible."

"May found that the time passed very quickly even in the country, and did not regret her city home."

"Do not get me wrong, my dear May; she possessed a frank, ingenuous countenance that was very attractive."

"His manner was a trifle awkward and comical, but she was a very nice girl, and for her constant ridicule, he bore all this with undiminished good humor, and was her constant companion."

"It was a pleasant day in September, and early in the morning young Oakland drove to the city, and stopped before Mrs. Webb's door. He jumped down and darted through the flower-beds, regardless of the damage he did to the plants."

"He looked at her with a mischievous smile, and she looked at him with a laughing face, and said: 'What a lovely day!'"

"I am all played out. If you see me, get a package of Kidney Pills, and take it once before breakfast. It is a wonderful discovery."

"For the speedy cure of Consumption and all diseases that lead to it, such as stubborn coughs, neglected Bronchitis, Croup, Asthma, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, and all chronic or long-standing diseases of the throat and lungs."

"The Best Sarsaparilla in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sore, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chills, Corns, and all kinds of Skin Eruptions. This Sarsaparilla is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction in every case or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by J. K. I. S. H. Omaha."

"I would like to try your good health enjoyer, each day and hour of your time; I would like to try your good health enjoyer, each day and hour of your time; I would like to try your good health enjoyer, each day and hour of your time."

"I would like to try your good health enjoyer, each day and hour of your time; I would like to try your good health enjoyer, each day and hour of your time; I would like to try your good health enjoyer, each day and hour of your time."

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS. Each box has a red wax seal on the lid with the impression, 'McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.' Each wrapper bears the signatures of Dr. C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS.

COUGHS, BRONCHITIS AND CONSUMPTION. A Well-Known Druggist says about Allen's Lung Balm: 'The demand for Allen's Lung Balm is increasing constantly. The ladies like them as no medicine equal to it for Croup and Whooping Cough. C. S. MARTIN, Druggist, 111 Madison St., St. Louis, Mo.'

Who want to know what my condition is like the other day? May turned around at this, and said quickly and imperatively: 'Edwin, do not repeat what I said to you!'

He looked at her with a provokingly innocent face, and went on heedlessly: 'Well, she told me privately that she would never marry a farmer, and that you were too awkward and simple for her refined taste.'

She shot a withering glance at Edwin, and replied 'yes' in a low tone. Gerald's face changed color, and he rose abruptly and bade them all good evening. He kept his eyes averted from May as he came to her side; then he went hastily from the room.
