Why the Daughter of an Italian Prætor is To-Day Selling Fruit in the Streets of Omaha.

Love, Devotion and Lemons

Probably a number of our citizens, more especially our business men have noticed a pleasant-faced little woman, who of late has been making daily trips through the business portions of our city, offering oranges and lemons for sale. This onlet, goodnatured little body has a history, the particulars of which might form the basis of a most interesting romance. Maria d'Arezzo for such is the woman's name, was the daughter of a well to-

One Beecher (no relation to the di ine) keeps a saloon on Thirteenth street, near Haney avenue. Recently he has had in his employ a young man whose honesty was never suspected until he was confidentially told by some friends that his employe had been making various collections among his (Beecher's) creditors, and had failed to report the same. Accordingly Mr. Beecher swore out a warrant against the young man, cherging him with having obtained money under false pretenses. He was quickly arrested, and yesterday evenng arraigned before his honor Pat.

The parties who had given the in ormation to Mr. Beecher relative to the young man's crookedness were present as witnesses, but testified upon being sworn that they had merely been joking in the matter, and that their statements to Beecher were mere fabrications.

PHYSICIANS RECOMMEND IT. - Your Thomas' Eclectric Oil commands a large and incressing sale, which it richly merits. I have always found it exceedingly helpful; I use it in all cases of Rheumatism, as well as frac-tures and dislocations. I made use of it myself to calm the pains of a broken leg with dislocation of the foot, and
