> GARFIELD AS A CANAL-BOY. REMINISCENCES OF OLD CAPT. MYERS. WHO FIRST GAVE HIM WORK.

Mr. Jona'han Myers, whose office is at No. 152 Monticello avenue, Jersey City, 30 odd years ago was the Captain of a canal boat on the Ohio Canal. He it was who gave the first employment to "Jim" Garfield, as he was then known, a poor, but very bright and intelligent lad of 13. A Times reporter called on Mr. Myers a few days ago, and the following conversation occurred concerning the boy: "Mr. Myers," asked the reporter, will you be kind enough to state what you know concerning young Garfield while he was in your employment as a driver of your boat?"

"He was a driver for me on the Ohio canal," replied Mr. Myers. "I have watched his career ever since he left me, and have felt very much in-terested in him, and gratified to see what he has achieved. The first time he ran for the legislature of Ohio he was in my district, and I voted for him; after that I moved east, and that she feared her sex was suspected. is the only time I ever voted for him. When he left me he did not 'boat' any more. It is a mistake about his ever having been a steersman. He was not large enough for a steersman. When he was in my employ he was not more than 13 years of age. I remember well when he applied to me for a job on my boat. He was a stout, healthy boy, and his frank, open countenance impressed me so much that I at once employed him. He was always full of fun, and
