A STOLEN STEED.

The Question Is, Who Stole Him, and Who Pays the Damages.

A case was tried on Thursday last in Justice Riley's court which is one of the most peculiar and complicated for the amount involved that has ever been tried in that court. The facts in the matter are as follows:

On October 10th, 1878, Mr. George L. Redman, residing at Waterloo, lost a gray horse valued at $150. The lost horse was advertised in The Bee and Republican at the time, but no information was received. Mr. Redman was in the city this spring, and while walking up one of our streets saw a horse, which appeared to be like the one he had lost, attached to the delivery wagon of Dewey & Stone.

Upon further examination he found sundry marks which convinced him that the horse was the identical one stolen. Suit was accordingly commenced for the animal, and Mr. E. M. Bartlett was engaged as attorney. The defense claim on trial that they bought the horse of a man named Wolcott. Wolcott is alleged to have bought the horse of a man by the name of Thompson, who, it is claimed, bought him of a party named Haney. Haney says he bought him in June, 1878, of a man named Reynolds, who claims to have purchased him of a party in Iowa in the same year.

Proof that Wolcott purchased the horse of Thompson, or that Thompson sold to Wolcott, seems to be lacking. It appears that Wolcott had a matched team of grays, and in all probability he was the horse now claimed to have been purchased by Haney. At all events there are two missing links in the chain of title set up by the defendants, while by marks and scars and proof by the gentleman who owned and raised the horse there was no doubt as to his identity as being the same horse lost by Mr. Redman.

Justice Riley decided in favor of the plaintiff. Dewey & Stone were compelled to procure themselves, to complete the case, but losing, they have recourse to the man of whom they purchased. The costs of the trial have already aggregated at least as much as the value of the horse, and as the case has been appealed to the district court, a rich feast for the lawyers is evidently in store.

L. B. WILLIAMS & SON Have reduced the price of all kinds of NOTIONS. Sea Moss Famine, at Pundt's. A SERIOUS CHARGE was made against Willis M. Yates by an old citizen which his children eat too much bread made from Rush Eggle Mills Flour, but when Mr. Yates convinced the angry man that nice bread was cheaper than a porous bill it was O. K.

The auction at Whipple & Co. is proving a grand success. Parties making purchases know that goods are just as represented with as good guarantee as if bought at private sale. Buss Ball. The Red Stockings and the Universities, at the association grounds, played one of their league games Saturday afternoon. Seven innings were played, the Reds defeating the 'Varsity nine. The score was 41 to 17. The victors were two men short throughout, while the 'Varsities had a complete nine.

Miss Hendricks' Benoit. Did not draw as full a house as the circumstances of the case and the merits of the play deserved. The 'Ticket-of-Love Man' was well rendered, considering the fact that most of the actors were amateurs. Miss Hendricks' 'May Edwards' is pronounced by many who witnessed the performance to be fully as good as Mrs. Florence's, and that lady has made the character a specialty for years. Miss Hendricks was still suffering from the effects of her recent accident and a slight lameness somewhat marred her part, but her features and convalescent appearance rather improved the general effect.

Fast Trains. The Chicago Inter-Ocean says: The officials of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railway were busily engaged yesterday in arranging the time table to go into effect Sunday. By this arrangement the 3:45 train will be arriving here at 2:30 p. m. The train will leave Council Bluffs at the regular time, 5:10 p. m., reaching Des Moines at 11:30 p. m., instead of 9:45; Rock Island at 8:15 instead of 9:00; Geneva at 9:00 instead of 9:30; Bureau Junction at 10:30 instead of 11:30; La Salle at 11:00 a. m. instead of 12:05 p. m.; Ottawa at 11:35 a. m. instead of 12:35 p. m.; Morris at 12:15 p. m. instead of 1:18; Joliet at 12:45 instead of 2:00, arriving here at 2:30 instead of 3:40 p. m. The same road has also decided that the local passenger train which now leaves Davenport at 10 o'clock a. m. daily, arriving here at 6:45 p. m. daily, will after Sunday next leave Davenport at 10:30 a. m. and arrive here at 6 p. m. The other western roads have not yet arranged their new time tables. There is a probability, however, that the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy trains will arrive here daily at 2:15 o'clock, fifteen minutes ahead of the other trains in the Iowa pool.

A MARSHAL MASHER.

He Attempts to Escape From the Clutches of the Law.

Yesterday afternoon a crowd of young fellows, among whom were the notorious Tuttle boys, raised quite a disturbance around Pat. O'Toole's place, on the corner of Thirteenth and Harney, and one of the outfit smashed a window in the front of the saloon.

Marshal Westerdahl appeared on the scene and took the glass crusher in custody. When on the corner of Fifteenth and Farnham streets, the chap hit the marshal severely, and making a break ran with the speed of a deer around the corner of the alley in the rear of Paton's & Gallagher's wholesale grocery store. As soon as the marshal could collect himself, he gave chase, and dashing around the corner of the alley found the fellow in the rear of Jacob's undertaking store, crushed behind a barrel with a couple of boards over him.

Pulling his revolver, the marshal told him to come out if he didn't want to be shot, and he came. He was conveyed to the jail without further mishap, and placed under the charge of the turnkey, who he dared to fight him. Westerdahl told him that he was not in the habit of fighting prisoners unless there was necessity for it. This calmed him down. His honor will give him an audience this morning.

Pioneer Sengerbund. The Annual Convention and Festivities at Metz Hall Yesterday. The annual convention of the Pioneer Sengerbund convened yesterday at 9 o'clock a. m., at Metz hall, in this city. There were present delegates from the following societies: Kansas City Arion, Columbus Mennerchor, Columbus Liederkranz, Atchison Liederkranz, St. Joseph Mennerchor, Leavenworth Mennerchor, Council Bluffs Mennerchor, Omaha Mennerchor and the Omaha Concordia.

The first business of the convention was the effecting of a temporary organization. G. Harman, of this city, called the meeting to order. E. Padburg, of St. Joseph, was elected president, and H. Rosenzweig, secretary. H. Stuenkel, of Kansas City, G. Henniger, of Atchison, and L. Schroeder, of Leavenworth, were appointed as committee on credentials. The temporary organization was eventually made permanent. President Harman read the yearly message, which was received with great applause.

Secretary Rosenzweig submitted his report, from which we have ascertained that there has been an increase of 154 members during the past year, making a present total of 508. The total assets of the society are valued at $640. A resolution of thanks was tendered to the Omaha societies by the visiting societies for their liberal entertainment. Also, a resolution of thanks to their efficient secretary, Mr. Rosenzweig.

The afternoon was devoted to an instrumental musical concert at the hall. An early hour in the evening the gardens attached to the hall began to fill, and before 9 o'clock there was scarcely standing room. The strains of the orchestra and the click of the glasses were merry music to Teutonic ears. Good humor was portrayed on every face, and even Mayor Chase, in faultless attire, was thoroughly at home in the crowd.

At the termination of the evening concert a grand march to the ball-room, where the light fantastic was tripped till the wee sma' hours, concluded one of the most pleasant and successful fetes of the season. Sunday School Concert. The Sunday-school connected with the Eighteenth street Methodist church, gave a concert last evening. The exercises were quite interesting, and the entertainment was an improvement on the average Sunday-school concert. The church has been abetted, making way for a fast train arriving here at 2:30 p. m. The train will leave Council Bluffs at the regular time, 5:10 p. m., reaching Des Moines at 11:30 p. m., instead of 9:45; Rock Island at 8:15 instead of 9:00; Geneva at 9:00 instead of 9:30; Bureau Junction at 10:30 instead of 11:30; La Salle at 11:00 a. m. instead of 12:05 p. m.; Ottawa at 11:35 a. m. instead of 12:35 p. m.; Morris at 12:15 p. m. instead of 1:18; Joliet at 12:45 instead of 2:00, arriving here at 2:30 instead of 3:40 p. m. The same road has also decided that the local passenger train which now leaves Davenport at 10 o'clock a. m. daily, arriving here at 6:45 p. m. daily, will after Sunday next leave Davenport at 10:30 a. m. and arrive here at 6 p. m. The other western roads have not yet arranged their new time tables. There is a probability, however, that the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy trains will arrive here daily at 2:15 o'clock, fifteen minutes ahead of the other trains in the Iowa pool.

Bas & Co's Ale, at Pundt's. A Narrow Escape. Yesterday afternoon at about three o'clock an alarm was turned in from Box 7. The fire was found to be in a small shed at the south end of the barn attached to M. H. Goble's residence, and was extinguished before department arrived. It seems that four or five children were playing with matches in the shed, which was full of shingles, and started a fire on the floor, which communicated with the shingles. Mr. James Boyd's hired man ran the smoke issuing through the roof, and immediately called for assistance, which was as quickly given, and the incipient conflagration extinguished before much damage had been done. The call for the department was timely but proved to be unnecessary.

While the east-bound Union Pacific express was lumbering over the Rockies on Wednesday night, a Mrs. White, of Oskaloosa, occupying an apartment in the Pullman car "Humboldt" gave birth to a bouncing boy baby. Governor Nance was aboard of the train; he didn't order out the militia, but on the contrary, tendered the services of his father, Dr. Nance, who also chanced to be one of the passengers. The doctor kindly attended the lady until she reached Omaha Friday afternoon. At the request of the passengers the mother has agreed to call her boy Humboldt, in honor of the palace car which bore him over the Rockies and into existence. The child and the car were doing as well as could be expected when the train reached Omaha. May they all prosper, and if Humboldt grows up to be a man, and runs off with a free-lance girl in a variety show, people will say, "He was born fast."
