Khan, was leading his brigade to the Music hall, where he was engaged in a dispute with his father, he drew his revolver to shoot him. His mother rushed between them preventing the murder, and she placed the revolver to her own head and fired, the ball entering near the right temple and passing entirely through his head.

Special Dispatch to The Bee. BOMBAY, July 29, 1 a. m.—Yesterday was a gala day, the occasion being the semi-annual encampment of the state department of the Grand Army of the Republic. Flags were displayed from public and private buildings. The festivities began Tuesday evening when President Parke gave a reception to the delegates. Headed by the department commander, L. C. Young, the demonstration yesterday was a success. The procession marched through the principal streets to the Music hall, where a public meeting was held. An address of welcome was made by Wm. Dowling and responded to by Commodore Young. Music and singing constituted the remainder of the public exercises. The encampment then took place with closed doors. At 3 o'clock the delegates took a boat for Conroy Island, where all points of interest were visited, and at 7:30 the banquet took place.

LATEST OF THE DISASTER. Later advices from Bombay state that Gen. Burrows was defeated in a rout, and the enemy pursued for three miles, but it is believed that four out of the six guns were saved. Stragglers continue to arrive at Candahar. The whole surrounding country is ringing. Gen. Phayre will at once retrace his steps, his men being strengthened by Bombay and Bengal troops, who have been ordered to march immediately. Considerable reinforcements have been advancing up the Bafon Pass. The Indian government's information greatly underrated Ayoub Khan's strength. There is much excitement in India and England over the terrible disaster. This morning thinks the first duty of the government is to vindicate its military reputation.

AT THE SLEET OF DEATH. Special Dispatch to The Bee. LONDON, July 28—4 p. m.—Latest dispatches state that Ayoub Khan crossed the Helmand on the 23rd inst. and surprised Gen. Burrows, whose force was encamped on the left bank of that stream opposite Gariak. Since the battle Gen. Primrose has retired, with a portion of Gen. Burrows' force, which succeeded in escaping to the citadel of Candahar, and will try to hold the place until the arrival of reinforcements. Meanwhile Ayoub Khan, who has MARCHED IN FRONT OF CANDAHAR, threatens an assault, and fears are entertained that he may take the Citadel before assistance may arrive. A relief force, under Gen. Phayre, is said to be concentrating for a march on Candahar. Owing to the recent dry weather, the Helmand is everywhere fordable, and this fact probably facilitated the assault.
