—A very slim gnatcatcher was that held by the democrats at the Academy of Music Saturday evening, not one-third of the space being filled. The U. P. Band drew, as usual, the lovers of good music. Judge Leavitt Redick threw the blame of his apostasy on the defeat of Gen. Grant. James W. Davis, William Greenbacher, demonstrated conclusively that figures will lie, and lie most atrociously.

—The east room of Max Meyer's new building is rapidly being prepared for occupancy by the A. & P. selectograph company. Painters and carpenters are hard at work and the room will be completed by Saturday next. Some of the wires have already been laid and the office will be transferred next Sunday, Saturday being the only day a telegraph message can be moved.

—Until the Washburn, St. Louis and Pacific R. I. started its fast train August 1, 1880, it took 26 hours to St. Louis, 36 to Indianapolis, Louisville and Cincinnati and 66 to New York and Boston. "Presto, change!" Now we have it—14 to St. Louis, 24 to Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Louisville, and but 60 to New York and other eastern cities. Ticket office, No. 1502, corner of 15th and Farnham. aug19-dim.

THE SITUATION.

The Report of the Executive Committee, on the Work of Registration.

They Ask to be Relieved From Further Duty.

OMAHA, Neb., August 23.

To the Chairman and Members of the Douglas County Central Committee:

The undersigned members of the executive committee appointed by your chairman in accordance with resolutions passed at the meeting of your committee on July 31st, beg leave to submit the following report:

Our committee has endeavored to discharge its responsible duties faithfully and impartially. We were met at the outset of our labor with bitter and unreasonable opposition. Our first duty was the appointment of registrars and we endeavored to make the selections from opposite factions wherever that could be done. In this city, we tendered appointment to Mr. Fred Nye, associate editor of The Republican or to any member or members of the faction with which he is identified, that he or others of that faction might name. Mr. Nye not only refused to accept the appointment, but he and every other member of that wing of the party, while professing to favor registration, declined to take part in the same. In the country precincts similar obstacles were placed in our way. The committee appointed Mr. Herman Timme as one of the registrars for Jefferson precinct, and Mr. Henry Eike as registrar for McAdams precinct. Both these gentlemen accepted the appointment, but a week later declined to act, and Mr. Timme publicly avowed his determination to desert and violate the established rules of your committee, and even went so far as to say that he would come to the convention and contest for his seat, whether he received a majority of the votes of his precinct or not.

In three other precincts the registrars were built up and bought up by emissaries of the Union Pacific railroad company, and after accepting the trust refused to act, compelling us to make other appointments at a late day, which delays the publication of the lists of several precincts beyond the time originally set. We found that Frank Hanlon, employed by the Union Pacific railway as a detective, had traversed the various county precincts, and hired parties to circulate a remonstrance against the proposed registration, and these parties secured many signatures to said remonstrance, by the most shameless misrepresentation, in some instances by assuming the garb of registrars and telling the signers they could not vote at the primaries unless they signed that paper. In this city the same dishonorable course was pursued in procuring signatures to the remonstrance. Several hundred employees of the Union Pacific, democrats as well as republicans, and many persons dependent upon that corporation for favor or protection were built up into signing this paper, while many foreigners were induced to sign upon assurance that they were being registered.

The places of registration in this city were always besieged by parties employed to intimidate and discourage by threats and misrepresentation republicans who came there to be enrolled.

The names of all republicans who registered at this city were kept standing in the Omaha Republican on under captions calculated to cast odium upon them and to intimidate those who disliked such notoriety from appearing for registration.

These are only some of the obstacles encountered by your committee in the discharge of its labor. The parties who were endeavoring to obstruct registration and defeat the measure of registration inaugurated by your committee, have waged most unscrupulous and disgraceful warfare on members of the executive committee, charging them in the public prints with conspiracy to commit gross frauds in registration and in the canvass of the election returns, and with the deliberate design to appoint supervisors, judges and clerks of election who would falsify the returns (frustrate republican voters and perpetrate other frauds).

These grave charges and malicious assaults were repeated and continued notwithstanding the public pledge given by your committee that they would impartially discharge the duties imposed on them. In trying to do this cautious opinion and unimpaired hostility your committee were compelled to modify the rules originally adopted by us for the conduct of registration. Inasmuch as the mode of registration was under your instruction discretionary with the executive committee these variations in no way conflict with the rules governing primaries adopted at the time of our appointment. After registration had closed your committee, by resolution, directed the city registers to include in their lists the names of all registrars who were enrolled in the various republican clubs and had not already been registered. The registration books and lists which were compiled by this report, certified registration of the following precincts: Florence, Saratoga, Union, Douglas, Elkhorn, Jefferson, McAdams, Lincoln and West Omaha. The lists of the Valley and Chicago precincts are promised by the registrars by Tuesday afternoon, when they will be published. The registration of this city includes a vast territory, a total from the country precincts and city of _____, estimating Valley and Chicago precincts at 225.

In view of the fact that many republicans in this city have been prevented from registration by parties who seek to perpetuate the old corrupt and unpopulous system of primaries, we would respectfully recommend that the names of all known republicans in this city who are not already registered be added to such lists, and thus deprive the opponents of the needed reform of all pretenses that this was a schismatic performed the principal work entrusted to us, and being desirous to remove all suspicion of factional discrimination in the discharge of our duty, we confer on you, your committees would respectfully ask to be relieved from further duty.

REST AND RECREATION.

A Quartette of Enjoyable Entertainments and Excursions.

Participated in by Hundreds of Omaha People.

From Saturday evening to midnight Sunday, quite a number of amusements were planned for Omaha people, who, being eminently a busy and hard working class, are always ready to patronize cheap, pleasant and harmless methods of recreation and relaxation.

THE Y. M. C. A. EXCURSION.

The first of the above entertainments was the steamboat, moonlight excursion on the Missouri Saturday night, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., arranged under direction of the general secretary, Mr. Geo. Howser. The Undine left her landing at the foot of Douglas street, shortly after 7 o'clock, with a good load of first-class passengers. Hundreds of citizens too timid to venture upon the treacherous river, assembled to see the excursionists off. The broad folds of an American flag floated from the bow of the Undine and sweet music floated up from her decks, occupied in part by Hoffman's full orchestra engaged to give a grand concert on the occasion. The trip up the river was delightful. A stop was made above the bend for wood, and the occasion was taken to make a raid upon the refreshments, consisting of cake, lemonade, etc. The moon rose a few moments later and shed a flood of silver light over stream and sandy flats and the bold bluffs of the Iowa shore. After ascending for six or seven miles the prow was directed southward and driven by the swift current and powerful engines the down trip was made in an incredibly short space of time. It was but half-past nine o'clock when the Undine again swept by the Union Pacific shops and smelting works and rounded to at her starting point. The excursion was a complete success.

THE MUSKOGEEAN OPEN AIR CONCERT AND PICNIC TOOK PLACE AS ANNOUNCED, Sunday, at the South Omaha park on Thirtieth street. About 10 o'clock in the morning the society, headed by a band of music and the beautiful and costly banners presented to them, marched through the streets and celebrated to the place fixed for the day's celebration. Besides the combined societies a very large crowd of friends was in attendance and was well entertained by vocal and instrumental music, speeches, etc. In the evening a display of fireworks took place and the day closed with a grand ball, participated in by a large crowd. The South Omaha park is a delightful place of resort for such picnic parties.

THE SCANDINAVIAN EXCURSION.

At 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon the Undine made her second excursion trip up the river with a party numbering two hundred and twenty-five people, gotten up under the able management of Mr. N. D. Johnson. An immense concourse witnessed the start. The Union Pacific band was engaged to furnish music and did their part well. The Undine ascended the river to a point opposite the military post, not returning to her landing until after 8 o'clock in the evening. Everything passed pleasantly. Refreshments were served on board and a few sets were danced in the broad space at the stern of the little craft. In this connection we would recommend to the proprietors of the boat the desirability of putting in a few seats to accommodate their passengers on such occasions, which is all that is required to make the Undine a box pleasure boat. It is to be hoped these excursions will be repeated at frequent intervals.

A brilliant event took place at the Tivoli Garden Sunday night, in the third Grand Concert by Prof. Steinhilber's unrivalled orchestra, assisted by Prof. Julius Meyer and Prof. Aaron and Martin A. Kahn. Notwithstanding the many attractions elsewhere, calculated to draw off the crowd, the garden was filled with the first class audience, over four hundred tickets being sold. The music was of rare excellence and elicited the most rapturous applause and several hearty encores. Three or more concerts will be given before the series close.
