Pickup at Police Court and Elsewhere. The City Council to be Enjoined. The city marshal yesterday morning closed up Henry Lucas' place on Eleventh street in pursuance to the orders of the city council at its session last evening.

During the performance at the Academy Tuesday, Sam. Deerin, the originator of comic musical instruments, discovered that he had been robbed of his fiddle and a distinctive piece of his performance depended. He apologized to the audience, through Sam Gardner, but they rather thought he was playing off. Such was not the case however and their instruments were found later in the evening by the police, con cealed in an old stove in some back yard.

What Each Day Promises for the Coming Fair. Additional Entries, New Attractions and Items of News About Nebraska's Next Week's Work. The officers of the state board of agriculture and managers of the coming state fair were kept at work late Tuesday in their office at D. T. Mount's store, No. 1513 Farnham street, arranging for the coming state fair. Yesterday President Dunham, Secretary Wheeler and other officers of the fair were early at their desks and up to the hour of going to press they were busily and continually engaged in attending to exhibitors and the many others having work laid out for next week's exhibition.

At the regular meeting of the City Council Sept. 6th, among other reports made by the city officers was that by the city physician, Dr. J. S. Letourneur. The possession of this document is always a bone of contention among the various committees, and has been referred alternately to the committee on public property and improvements, the committee on police, on gas etc. After referring it to these committees it has generally been left right of, at least no report has ever been made in regard to the subject beyond returning the paper to be filed. The last report was, however, referred to the committee on streets and grades, who last night made the following report:
