

E. ROSEWATER, EDITOR. NATIONAL REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT: JAMES A. GARFIELD, of Ohio.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT: CHESTER A. ARTHUR, of New York.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS. GEORGE W. COLLINGS, of Kansas.

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET. For Member of Congress, EDWARD K. VALENTINE.

For Member of Congress (Contingent), THOMAS J. MAJORS.

For Governor, ALBINO S. NANCE.

For Lieutenant-Governor, F. C. CARNS.

For Secretary of State, S. J. ALEXANDER.

For Auditor, JOHN WALLICHES.

For Treasurer, G. M. BARRETT.

For Attorney-General, C. J. DILLWORTH.

For Commissioner of Public Lands and Buildings, A. G. KENDALL.

For Superintendent of Public Instruction, W. W. JONES.

DISTRICT TICKET. For Attorney, J. B. BURHAM.

MAJORS—2104. Next.

Now we are up and now we are down in the Maine game of success.

"Census" Deluge is likely to bring a costly crop of troubles to Turkey.

The Ohio republican state committee claim by their canvass 25,400 republican majority.

The democratic committee promises 8775 democratic majority. And both sides will be disappointed.

The bourgeois are getting desperate and threaten to arrest Senator Blaine for alleged corruption during the late campaign.

If we remember rightly the same parties threatened Mr. Blaine's arrest during the Garfield steal. If this arresting business begins in Maine it may proceed to Senator Barnum's home in Connecticut.

The Whittensappers and henchmen of Valente and Carns appear very much chagrined because the latter has seen fit to present his bill of particulars in the indictment of these political parasites.

We hope these self-constituted apologists of official knavery will be content to give us a few days and we will furnish testimonials of Carns' and Val's reasonings to their hearts content. There'll be music in the air, perhaps even before the state fair is over.

Mr. BROOKS, who for the first time slept in a tent at Central City, grumbles terribly over the bad accommodations.

Mr. Brooks evidently expected the Grand Army quartermaster to furnish him with a Dutch feather bed to sleep in, Axminster carpet to step on, warm water to wash in, and a French plate looking glass to finish his toilet.

The next time there is an army encampment in Nebraska, he ought to issue a requisition for these little articles of comfort to the department commander. They will doubtless be forthcoming.

The editor of the Republican in his review of the doings at the army review refers to the Omaha Herald and his own sheet as the only Nebraska papers that may be reckoned as friends of the soldier.

We should like to know who among the editors of the Republican ever served a day in the army in any capacity. We know very well that Dr. Miller served gallantly as a sutler at Fort Kearney before the late unpleasantness and acted very efficiently as cotton scavenger in Arkansas, in the wake of Gen. Steele's army.

We presume that would entitle him to high rank in the Grand Army of the Republic. We apprehend, however, that the veterans in Nebraska don't depend exclusively on the Herald and Republican as the champions of the principles and cause they fought for.

According to the Omaha Herald the democrats of Douglas county held their primary election Saturday, and on Tuesday will elect delegates to the state convention that meets at Hastings on the 29th.

If the Herald had not been informed as to a primary had been held nobody in Omaha would have been in a sorry condition. This is easily accounted for. The primaries are called for nominating a delegation to a convention that will go through the face of putting a democratic state ticket in the field.

Inasmuch as the Union Pacific had no apprehension that any one on that ticket is in danger of being elected, the U. P. strikers left the democratic primary severely alone. When the next primary comes up and the bourgeois are about to nominate members of the legislature and a county commissioner, the U. P. attorneys will take an active hand. Even Hanlon and Frank Waller will exhibit a lively interest in the outcome of that primary, and it is a foregone conclusion that the nominations for the legislature will be made up from the U. P. slate, just as the nominations to be made on the 20th of October by the so-called republican convention will be dictated by Thomson and his bosses.

Them, of course, the people who belong to both parties will be asked to take their choice between a U. P. republican nominee and a U. P. democratic candidate. The indications are, however, that the people will insist on sending men to the legislature who will represent them and their interests, and who are not mere corporation tools.

STATE JOTTINGS.

The fair grounds at Osceola are being improved. Norfolk has begun work on a Catholic church.

Piles are being put down for the new St. Paul mill. The Kearney W. C. T. U. talk of soon opening a reading room.

An association has been formed in Genoa to study history. Thousands of sheep will be brought into Johnson county this fall.

There is a good quarry of rock in the river bed and adjoining, near O'Neill. The corn crop of Pawnee county will be the largest and best ever grown.

A bridge is being built across the Missouri five miles this side of the Fort. A new one will have been set up four miles northwest of La Porte, Wayne county.

Papillon will soon have another hotel, making five in all, which are doing well. In many localities most of the hay put up during dog days has been ruined by the rains.

The B. & M. is breaking up its yard at Plattsmouth till it begins to look quite respectable. A Hastings firm expect to pack from two to three thousand hogs during the coming winter.

Mill men are shortly to examine the water privileges of Pierce, to see about starting a mill there. All the town lots of Chester, Thayer county, have been sold and the proceeds are being made.

Fullerton talks of a woman mill and it is proposed to start a small one to use up some of the home crop. The contract for the new Kearney school house has been let to the builder of the reform school building for $21,000.

Niobrara Presbyterians are advertising for bids on their new church building, which is it is proposed to erect shortly. "Humpback" is the name of a potato just established in the western part of Dawson county, on the south side.

A proposition to vote $3000 to erect buildings on the Dodge county poor farm will be voted on at the coming election. Work will commence on the new Alton Catholic church this week. It will be 24-40 feet in size, with a sixteen-foot ceiling.

Nelson has a large fair building, nearly or quite completed, which will be filled with exhibits of the Nebraskian county fair. A full force of Santee Indians are hard at work on the Santee prairie mill. The mill will be in readiness for work in about two or three weeks.

The conservatory of music at the University opened with twenty-six piano and voice culture students. The movement proceeds apace. Fullerton decided by a vote of 47 to 22 to build a bridge across the Loup, but the citizens are undecided now what sort of a bridge they want.

An election in Red Willow county has just published, shows three favorable results. The first is a vote of 1000 for the bridge across the Republican at Indianola. At Sarry Center the christian denomination are erecting a fine church. The foundation is already in, and lumber is on the ground for the building.

It is said that Ulysses will have the largest elevator on the road between Atchison and Columbus when the present steam elevator is completed. Improvements at the Nebraska City distillery are rapidly going on. Large cattle sheds, sufficient to accommodate 1500 cattle are being erected.

Government engineers have been surveying the Missouri river at Niobrara and Running Water to enable congress to make appropriations for improvements here. A young woman, giving her name as Lina Chapman, a widow from Spring Valley, Wis., committed suicide at Fremont by strychnine. Several sorghum mills have been shipped to the farmers of Cambridge during the past few weeks. Some can be produced there, and the business promises to become a profitable one to the farmers.

O'Neill is to have a Hoisting mill. It is expected that the mill will be built this fall. It is found by survey that there is a fall of eleven feet. This is sufficient to run numerous manufacturing establishments. The new elevator at St. Paul is about completed and will cost $25,000. It has a sixteen foot ceiling, and the owners expect to fill it with wheat this fall. As yet, what comes in slow, but it is expected to reach a steady state this year.

The stock yards put up by the B. & M. company, at Indianola, are said to be the finest west of the Missouri river. It is expected that in future years there will be a considerable shipping point of Texas stock, as well as of the cattle of the Republican valley. An addition to the West Point paper mill 80x110 and four stories high will be commenced shortly. Work on the frame at the paper mill, which was completed for a few days, will be resumed and a building at the creamery, has resumed and will be pushed rapidly to completion.

The work of filling in the residue of the Plattsmouth bridge, on the east bank of the Missouri, will be begun. Two trains with about forty men are regularly run, and the cars are unloaded with the steam plow, which unloads thirteen cars in four minutes. Steam shovels will soon be used for loading, and the work will be pushed through the entire winter if possible to insure the early completion of the work.

The Elections in October: Georgia will elect on Wednesday, October 6th; state officers and a legislature, which will choose a United States senator. It should be noted that Georgia will not elect representatives in congress at this election, owing to the fact that those chosen on Tuesday, November 2.

Indiana will elect on Tuesday, October 12th, state officers, representatives in congress and a United States senator. Indiana will elect on Tuesday, October 12th, state officers, representatives in congress and a United States senator. Ohio will elect on Tuesday, October 12, minor officers, representatives in congress, and a legislature, which, in the case of the election of General Garfield as president, will choose a United States senator.

West Virginia will elect on Tuesday, October 12, state officers and a legislature, which will choose a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator.

West Virginia will elect on Tuesday, October 12, state officers and a legislature, which will choose a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator.

West Virginia will elect on Tuesday, October 12, state officers and a legislature, which will choose a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator.

West Virginia will elect on Tuesday, October 12, state officers and a legislature, which will choose a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator.

West Virginia will elect on Tuesday, October 12, state officers and a legislature, which will choose a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator.

West Virginia will elect on Tuesday, October 12, state officers and a legislature, which will choose a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator.

West Virginia will elect on Tuesday, October 12, state officers and a legislature, which will choose a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator.

West Virginia will elect on Tuesday, October 12, state officers and a legislature, which will choose a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator.

West Virginia will elect on Tuesday, October 12, state officers and a legislature, which will choose a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator.

West Virginia will elect on Tuesday, October 12, state officers and a legislature, which will choose a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator.

West Virginia will elect on Tuesday, October 12, state officers and a legislature, which will choose a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator.

West Virginia will elect on Tuesday, October 12, state officers and a legislature, which will choose a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator.

West Virginia will elect on Tuesday, October 12, state officers and a legislature, which will choose a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator.

West Virginia will elect on Tuesday, October 12, state officers and a legislature, which will choose a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator.

West Virginia will elect on Tuesday, October 12, state officers and a legislature, which will choose a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator.

West Virginia will elect on Tuesday, October 12, state officers and a legislature, which will choose a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator.

West Virginia will elect on Tuesday, October 12, state officers and a legislature, which will choose a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator.

West Virginia will elect on Tuesday, October 12, state officers and a legislature, which will choose a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator.

West Virginia will elect on Tuesday, October 12, state officers and a legislature, which will choose a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator.

West Virginia will elect on Tuesday, October 12, state officers and a legislature, which will choose a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator.

West Virginia will elect on Tuesday, October 12, state officers and a legislature, which will choose a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator.

West Virginia will elect on Tuesday, October 12, state officers and a legislature, which will choose a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator.

West Virginia will elect on Tuesday, October 12, state officers and a legislature, which will choose a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator. The legislature will also elect a United States senator.

INVALEIDS AND OTHERS SEEKING HEALTH, STRENGTH AND ENERGY.

WITHOUT THE USE OF DRUGS, ARE REQUESTED TO SEND FOR THE ELECTRIC REVIEW, AN ILLUSTRATED JOURNAL, WHICH IS PUBLISHED FOR FREE DISTRIBUTION.

THE ELECTRIC REVIEW contains the most complete and reliable information on all the latest scientific discoveries in the field of electricity, and is especially adapted to the needs of invalids, the aged, and those who are suffering from various ailments.

It is a most valuable and interesting journal, and is published for the purpose of disseminating the benefits of electricity to the general public.

Send for your copy today. The Electric Review is published by the Electric Review Co., 1234 Broadway, New York, N.Y.

Address: Electric Review Co., 1234 Broadway, New York, N.Y.

Subscription price: $1.00 per annum in advance.

Single copies: 10 cents.

Advertisement for Dr. C. McLane's Liver Pills.

THE OHIO REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE.

claim by their canvass 25,400 republican majority. The democratic committee promises 8775 democratic majority.

And both sides will be disappointed. The bourgeois are getting desperate and threaten to arrest Senator Blaine.

for alleged corruption during the late campaign. If we remember rightly the same parties threatened Mr. Blaine's arrest.

during the Garfield steal. If this arresting business begins in Maine it may proceed to Senator Barnum's home in Connecticut.

The Whittensappers and henchmen of Valente and Carns appear very much chagrined because the latter has seen fit to present his bill of particulars.

in the indictment of these political parasites. We hope these self-constituted apologists of official knavery will be content to give us a few days and we will furnish testimonials of Carns' and Val's reasonings to their hearts content.

There'll be music in the air, perhaps even before the state fair is over. Mr. BROOKS, who for the first time slept in a tent at Central City, grumbles terribly over the bad accommodations.

Mr. Brooks evidently expected the Grand Army quartermaster to furnish him with a Dutch feather bed to sleep in, Axminster carpet to step on, warm water to wash in, and a French plate looking glass to finish his toilet.

The next time there is an army encampment in Nebraska, he ought to issue a requisition for these little articles of comfort to the department commander. They will doubtless be forthcoming.

The editor of the Republican in his review of the doings at the army review refers to the Omaha Herald and his own sheet as the only Nebraska papers that may be reckoned as friends of the soldier.

We should like to know who among the editors of the Republican ever served a day in the army in any capacity. We know very well that Dr. Miller served gallantly as a sutler at Fort Kearney before the late unpleasantness and acted very efficiently as cotton scavenger in Arkansas, in the wake of Gen. Steele's army.

We presume that would entitle him to high rank in the Grand Army of the Republic. We apprehend, however, that the veterans in Nebraska don't depend exclusively on the Herald and Republican as the champions of the principles and cause they fought for.

According to the Omaha Herald the democrats of Douglas county held their primary election Saturday, and on Tuesday will elect delegates to the state convention that meets at Hastings on the 29th.

If the Herald had not been informed as to a primary had been held nobody in Omaha would have been in a sorry condition. This is easily accounted for. The primaries are called for nominating a delegation to a convention that will go through the face of putting a democratic state ticket in the field.

Inasmuch as the Union Pacific had no apprehension that any one on that ticket is in danger of being elected, the U. P. strikers left the democratic primary severely alone. When the next primary comes up and the bourgeois are about to nominate members of the legislature and a county commissioner, the U. P. attorneys will take an active hand. Even Hanlon and Frank Waller will exhibit a lively interest in the outcome of that primary, and it is a foregone conclusion that the nominations for the legislature will be made up from the U. P. slate, just as the nominations to be made on the 20th of October by the so-called republican convention will be dictated by Thomson and his bosses.

Them, of course, the people who belong to both parties will be asked to take their choice between a U. P. republican nominee and a U. P. democratic candidate. The indications are, however, that the people will insist on sending men to the legislature who will represent them and their interests, and who are not mere corporation tools.

THE OHIO REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE claim by their canvass 25,400 republican majority. The democratic committee promises 8775 democratic majority. And both sides will be disappointed.

The bourgeois are getting desperate and threaten to arrest Senator Blaine for alleged corruption during the late campaign. If we remember rightly the same parties threatened Mr. Blaine's arrest during the Garfield steal. If this arresting business begins in Maine it may proceed to Senator Barnum's home in Connecticut.

The Whittensappers and henchmen of Valente and Carns appear very much chagrined because the latter has seen fit to present his bill of particulars in the indictment of these political parasites. We hope these self-constituted apologists of official knavery will be content to give us a few days and we will furnish testimonials of Carns' and Val's reasonings to their hearts content. There'll be music in the air, perhaps even before the state fair is over.

Mr. BROOKS, who for the first time slept in a tent at Central City, grumbles terribly over the bad accommodations. Mr. Brooks evidently expected the Grand Army quartermaster to furnish him with a Dutch feather bed to sleep in, Axminster carpet to step on, warm water to wash in, and a French plate looking glass to finish his toilet.

The next time there is an army encampment in Nebraska, he ought to issue a requisition for these little articles of comfort to the department commander. They will doubtless be forthcoming. The editor of the Republican in his review of the doings at the army review refers to the Omaha Herald and his own sheet as the only Nebraska papers that may be reckoned as friends of the soldier.

We should like to know who among the editors of the Republican ever served a day in the army in any capacity. We know very well that Dr. Miller served gallantly as a sutler at Fort Kearney before the late unpleasantness and acted very efficiently as cotton scavenger in Arkansas, in the wake of Gen. Steele's army. We presume that would entitle him to high rank in the Grand Army of the Republic. We apprehend, however, that the veterans in Nebraska don't depend exclusively on the Herald and Republican as the champions of the principles and cause they fought for.

According to the Omaha Herald the democrats of Douglas county held their primary election Saturday, and on Tuesday will elect delegates to the state convention that meets at Hastings on the 29th. If the Herald had not been informed as to a primary had been held nobody in Omaha would have been in a sorry condition. This is easily accounted for. The primaries are called for nominating a delegation to a convention that will go through the face of putting a democratic state ticket in the field. Inasmuch as the Union Pacific had no apprehension that any one on that ticket is in danger of being elected, the U. P. strikers left the democratic primary severely alone. When the next primary comes up and the bourgeois are about to nominate members of the legislature and a county commissioner, the U. P. attorneys will take an active hand. Even Hanlon and Frank Waller will exhibit a lively interest in the outcome of that primary, and it is a foregone conclusion that the nominations for the legislature will be made up from the U. P. slate, just as the nominations to be made on the 20th of October by the so-called republican convention will be dictated by Thomson and his bosses.

Them, of course, the people who belong to both parties will be asked to take their choice between a U. P. republican nominee and a U. P. democratic candidate. The indications are, however, that the people will insist on sending men to the legislature who will represent them and their interests, and who are not mere corporation tools.

THE OHIO REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE claim by their canvass 25,400 republican majority. The democratic committee promises 8775 democratic majority. And both sides will be disappointed.

The bourgeois are getting desperate and threaten to arrest Senator Blaine for alleged corruption during the late campaign. If we remember rightly the same parties threatened Mr. Blaine's arrest during the Garfield steal. If this arresting business begins in Maine it may proceed to Senator Barnum's home in Connecticut.

The Whittensappers and henchmen of Valente and Carns appear very much chagrined because the latter has seen fit to present his bill of particulars in the indictment of these political parasites. We hope these self-constituted apologists of official knavery will be content to give us a few days and we will furnish testimonials of Carns' and Val's reasonings to their hearts content. There'll be music in the air, perhaps even before the state fair is over.

Mr. BROOKS, who for the first time slept in a tent at Central City, grumbles terribly over the bad accommodations. Mr. Brooks evidently expected the Grand Army quartermaster to furnish him with a Dutch feather bed to sleep in, Axminster carpet to step on, warm water to wash in, and a French plate looking glass to finish his toilet.

The next time there is an army encampment in Nebraska, he ought to issue a requisition for these little articles of comfort to the department commander. They will doubtless be forthcoming. The editor of the Republican in his review of the doings at the army review refers to the Omaha Herald and his own sheet as the only Nebraska papers that may be reckoned as friends of the soldier.

We should like to know who among the editors of the Republican ever served a day in the army in any capacity. We know very well that Dr. Miller served gallantly as a sutler at Fort Kearney before the late unpleasantness and acted very efficiently as cotton scavenger in Arkansas, in the wake of Gen. Steele's army. We presume that would entitle him to high rank in the Grand Army of the Republic. We apprehend, however, that the veterans in Nebraska don't depend exclusively on the Herald and Republican as the champions of the principles and cause they fought for.

According to the Omaha Herald the democrats of Douglas county held their primary election Saturday, and on Tuesday will elect delegates to the state convention that meets at Hastings on the 29th. If the Herald had not been informed as to a primary had been held nobody in Omaha would have been in a sorry condition. This is easily accounted for. The primaries are called for nominating a delegation to a convention that will go through the face of putting a democratic state ticket in the field. Inasmuch as the Union Pacific had no apprehension that any one on that ticket is in danger of being elected, the U. P. strikers left the democratic primary severely alone. When the next primary comes up and the bourgeois are about to nominate members of the legislature and a county commissioner, the U. P. attorneys will take an active hand. Even Hanlon and Frank Waller will exhibit a lively interest in the outcome of that primary, and it is a foregone conclusion that the nominations for the legislature will be made up from the U. P. slate, just as the nominations to be made on the 20th of October by the so-called republican convention will be dictated by Thomson and his bosses.

Them, of course, the people who belong to both parties will be asked to take their choice between a U. P. republican nominee and a U. P. democratic candidate. The indications are, however, that the people will insist on sending men to the legislature who will represent them and their interests, and who are not mere corporation tools.

THE OHIO REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE claim by their canvass 25,400 republican majority. The democratic committee promises 8775 democratic majority. And both sides will be disappointed.

The bourgeois are getting desperate and threaten to arrest Senator Blaine for alleged corruption during the late campaign. If we remember rightly the same parties threatened Mr. Blaine's arrest during the Garfield steal. If this arresting business begins in Maine it may proceed to Senator Barnum's home in Connecticut.

The Whittensappers and henchmen of Valente and Carns appear very much chagrined because the latter has seen fit to present his bill of particulars in the indictment of these political parasites. We hope these self-constituted apologists of official knavery will be content to give us a few days and we will furnish testimonials of Carns' and Val's reasonings to their hearts content. There'll be music in the air, perhaps even before the state fair is over.

Mr. BROOKS, who for the first time slept in a tent at Central City, grumbles terribly over the bad accommodations. Mr. Brooks evidently expected the Grand Army quartermaster to furnish him with a Dutch feather bed to sleep in, Axminster carpet to step on, warm water to wash in, and a French plate looking glass to finish his toilet.

The next time there is an army encampment in Nebraska, he ought to issue a requisition for these little articles of comfort to the department commander. They will doubtless be forthcoming. The editor of the Republican in his review of the doings at the army review refers to the Omaha Herald and his own sheet as the only Nebraska papers that may be reckoned as friends of the soldier.

We should like to know who among the editors of the Republican ever served a day in the army in any capacity. We know very well that Dr. Miller served gallantly as a sutler at Fort Kearney before the late unpleasantness and acted very efficiently as cotton scavenger in Arkansas, in the wake of Gen. Steele's army. We presume that would entitle him to high rank in the Grand Army of the Republic. We apprehend, however, that the veterans in Nebraska don't depend exclusively on the Herald and Republican as the champions of the principles and cause they fought for.