WAS HE A ROBBER?

The Man Who Was Shot and What He Promised to Tell.

Did You Hear Anything Drop?

THE BEE of Saturday contained a statement relative to the wounding and capture of a stranger Saturday morning, about 2 a. m., in the alley way between Farnham and Harney streets. Special policeman, P. Hinchey, who made the arrest, is convinced that the wounded man is one of the gang who robbed the cathedral Friday evening. Mr. Hinchey's statement is substantially as follows: He and night watchman Collins had just met—their respective beats being in the same locality, when they heard the report of a pistol, some distance east of where they stood. Hinchey started off in the direction of the report—that is down the alley, between the bank building and Housel & Co.'s warehouse. He had not proceeded far, when he was met by two men, one of whom called out to him to "leave his road, the S— of a B—," accompanying his command with a shot from his revolver. The policeman had just had time to move aside when they both dashed past him, while he followed in pursuit. When they emerged on Thirteenth street, Collins joined Hinchey in the chase. But the two men kept on through the alley way, past M. W. Kennedy' place, firing two more shots at their pursuers. Unfortunately the weapons of the policemen missed fire, and after several ineffectual attempts to shoot, Hinchey returned to the scene of the first part of the proceedings. He had not gone far when he met a man who was barefooted, and having noticed that the larger of the two who had made their escape was also barefooted, he considered this coincidence sufficient to arrest his man. The latter made no resistance, however. He said he was wounded, and that he would like to have some medical help. The policeman asked him how he had got shot, and why he was barefooted. He replied that he had got shot while on the street, and that he had dropped his shoes. Just at this point Special Policeman Deutscher came along, and the wounded man was taken to the drug store on the corner of Thirteenth and Farnham.

The two pairs of shoes which were found belonged to the prisoner and the larger one of the men who made their escape. A shoe of each was dropped just at the place where Collins met Hinchey, on Thirteenth street, thus proving that the wounded man and the others were partners. It could not be otherwise, because the man who has been caught had not reached Thirteenth street, and therefore could not possibly have carried his shoe there. Again, the burglars' tools which were discovered there show conclusively that these parties were implicated in the cathedral robbery, and if anything were wanting to prove the guilt of the prisoner it is found he fact that his statements are conflicting in the extreme. He promised the policeman, Hinchey, that as soon as he could lie down somewhere he would explain all and tell about the men who had escaped, but instead of that he has not spoken a word about them. There is no doubt that after having "done" the church these fellows made a raid on Tenth or Eleventh street, intending to carry off some more booty, and were discovered fired upon, this fellow getting wounded, which compelled his "pals" to abandon him.

BISHOP WARREN'S LECTURE.

The coming lecture by Bishop Warren, of Philadelphia, to be given at Masonic Hall on the evening of the 28th inst., will be one of the finest literary treats the people of Omaha have ever enjoyed. The sale of tickets already promises a good attendance, which must certainly be increased when all lovers of the science of astronomy avail themselves of this opportunity of hearing one of the most popular lectures of the day from this truly interesting and eloquent speaker. The entire proceeds of the lecture are for the benefit of the S. O. M. E. church, who are taking this means of raising funds necessary to the building of a new church.

JESSE'S BRIDE.

The Youthful Scion of the House of Grant in Omaha.

The Fair One With the Golden Locks.

The overland train which arrived from the west Sunday evening an hour late, bore among other distinguished passengers a youthful bridal couple, whose marriage in San Francisco last Wednesday evening was one of the notable sociable events of the season, even in that city of brilliant events.

The groom was Jesse Root Grant, the third son of ex-President Grant, and his bride was Miss Lizzie Chapman, daughter of W. S. Chapman, one San Francisco's leading and wealthiest citizens. The wedding took place in the private parlors of the bride's parents, at the Palace Hotel, which were transformed into a bower of beauty by the wand of the florist, a floral marriage bell of lovely design and huge size, being among a thousand exquisite ornaments which adorned the room.

The affair was a very quiet one, and on Thursday morning the bridal party started for the east, arriving in Omaha yesterday. It included, besides the bride and groom, Ulysses S. Grant, Jr., H. H. Honore, Lieut. Harry Otis, Col. McCook of Gen. McDowell's staff, Mr. and Mrs. Buck of St. Louis, and Hon. Emory A. Storrs, the eloquent Chicago lawyer and orator. The party occupied a Pullman drawing-room car. At Lake station they were met by Col. Fred Grant, with the special directors' car of the C., B. & Q., which takes them through to Galena. They will there visit Gen and Mrs. Grant, and after a few days they will all go to New York for a short time, and then to Philadelphia, where they will be entertained by George W. Childs. They will subsequently go to Boston, where a banquet is to be given to General Grant, and where they will be met by the bride's father, who has been east for some time.

The party was by no means inclined to display and in fact were of very ordinary appearance. The bride and groom both look very youthful. Jesse is below medium height while his wife is of still shorter stature and would not pull the beam down at 110 pounds. She is a blonde of the most pronounced type, with hair as golden as the sunshine and eyes so large and lustrous as to be fairly startling at first sight. She is not pretty even but there is that in her face which demands a second look after the first. She was dressed in a plum-colored silk dress, over which was worn a magnificent real skin cloak, which reached to within four inches of the ground, and which made all the ladies who saw her turn gray with envy. Her hat was a marvel of millinery, but so complex in form and color as to defy description.

There was no great amount of enthusiasm left in the party after their long ride and not a smile flitted over the face of one of them. In going from the Pullman car to the special at Lake Station, they walked "Indian file," Jesse leading and mounting the platform of the special car first. His wife followed him unassisted.

—A meeting of the officers of the eight Turner Societies, comprising the district of the Missouri Valley, will be held at Atchison some time in November, when the representatives from Omaha propose to try to secure the next annual meeting which occurs early in June 1881, for this city. The only drawback is in the matter of suitable grounds, and it is now believed that the grounds of the Omaha driving park association can be secured. The proposed meeting would be a big thing for Omaha, as it would bring in thousands of people from all parts of the United States, including the famous Milwaukee Turners, who won such distinguished honors in the recent international contest, at Frankfort-on-the-Main. We trust the scheme will be successful, and readily believe that the Turners would be heartily welcomed in Omaha.

They Surprised Everybody.

When it was announced at the close of the state fair that C. B. DeGroat & Co., the hatters, had carried off the first prize and diploma in their line, it was a genuine surprise to their friends and a tremendous card for the firm. It is but a few months since this new house opened out in Omaha, yet in that time they have demonstrated their right to be ranked at once among our leading men for enterprise, taste and business tact, and now that they have by the committee been awarded the preference over all competitors, including those who have been in the trade here for years, they may well congratulate themselves upon their success. The fact is they knew the wants of the people before they embarked in the hat business. They carry at all times an assortment of the finest goods in the market and believing in the nimble penny they mark everything down to living prices and in consequence their patronage increases daily. The assortment is as large as any in the west and includes Stetson & Morris' best soft hats; Dunlap & Co's. silk and stiff hats, the finest in the United States, and in brief all the leading makers of the country. Charlie Rapp, a popular young gentleman who needs no introduction to the public, is to be found at this store where he invites all his friends to call and see him. He is a valuable acquisition to the strong team already at work, and the future prosperity of the place is assured.

FEBRIFUGE

A REMARKABLE LETTER FROM A CELEBRATED PHYSICIAN.

Bryan, Texas, June 11, 1879.

J. C. Richardson, St. Louis—Dear Sirs—My boy, 2 years old, had fever every other day, or every third day, for about 3 months. I used as much as 12 grains of Quinine during the day, but with no effect; tried Cinchonia (alkaloid) Sulph. Cinchonidin, Salacine, etc., etc., but the boy got worse all the time. I reluctantly sent down to my drug store for your Febrifuge, and I write just to say that he never had a symptom of fever after commencing Febrifuge, to date, being now over a month ago. I feel that I ought to say this much in behalf of your medicine. As a regular M. D., but retired from practice 3 years ago and devoting my time to drug business.

Very respectfully,

J. W. HOWELL.

IT IS THE BEST.

Stockton, Mo., Aug. 25th, 1879.

J. C. Richardson, St. Louis—Dear Sir:—Clifford's Febrifuge is the best thing for Chills and Fever that we have ever handled. There never has been a case that was NOT cured by it that was taken according to directions in this part of the country. Yours truly,

MACE & MITCHELL, Druggists.
