

BARGAINS REAL ESTATE AT BEMIS' AGENCY, 15th and Douglas Street.

FOREIGN EVENTS. Spirited Times Looked For in the East. England Regarded as Being Bound to Fight or Lose Prestige in Europe.

AMONG THE STARS. William Lassall, the astronomer, is dead. DEPOSING THE SULTAN. A dispatch from Constantinople says there are rumors that the powers will incite or encourage the deposition of the sultan.

FAILING FRIZZ. Joe Emmet, the Actor, Ends Up His Spree in Bed. Special Dispatch to The Bee. St. Louis, October 8, 1 a. m.—Last Sunday a week ago Joe Emmet spent two weeks' engagement. Manager Norton had gone on to straighten him up after the Pittsburgh episode, and he had not yet recovered from his bout with the bottle when he was to appear. This being his home, he was in the company of a party of his friends, and it was noticed that he was drinking as usual. He played during the first two or three overhauling houses, in which standing room was scarcely obtainable. His Saturday matinee was little less than a riot from the outset, and he was to the management that Emmet was the city. He sang with evident effort, which became more pronounced on the following night. On Saturday afternoon notwithstanding his present throat affection, his performance was never more enjoyed. On Saturday evening he fairly broke down, and his sister, Mrs. Roy, was obliged to sing the "Lullaby" behind the scenes, while he played an accompaniment in front. It was then apparent to the management that Emmet was in a bad way, which was indirectly, but not directly, chargeable to his excesses. A physician who made an examination of his throat said he would have to operate permanently to cure him. He decided to withdraw temporarily, although he was announced to appear on the following Wednesday. His company, meanwhile, put on a "Ticket of Leave Man," and continued the engagement, but Emmet grew worse instead of better, and he seemed to be sinking with general debility. He was removed to the residence of his sister for better care, and, until yesterday, the outside public had little about him. Yesterday a rumor was circulated that he was dead; but this was soon denied. The fact cannot be denied, however, that he has been a long time in bed, and that the physician, at first, prescribed small doses of whisky, but they were taken at too frequent intervals, and have since been stopped altogether. He is now resting quietly in a room at the corner of the city, where no one is allowed to visit him. His sister says he is now resting much easier than he has been, and that if he continues to improve he would be able to be about by next week. She is probably over-optimistic, however, and it would not be surprising if he had long since departed this life. His wife has been telegraphed for twice to New York; to the first dispatch she sent a reply that she would not come on, thinking, no doubt, that her husband was capable of his previous one. A second telegram met with a better reception, and she will probably reach here by Saturday. Meantime all news concerning Emmet's condition is generally sought after, and it is with difficulty that the throng of callers is kept out of the house.

DARING DAVENPORT. The New York Supervisor of Elections Shows He Cannot be Bulldozed. A Bright Theatrical Star Gradually Growing Dim in St. Louis. Proceeding of the Stalwart Picnickers at Decatur, Illinois. The Epizootic Epidemic in New York Shows No Signs of Abatement.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL. The Reservoir. The city engineer is engaged in making a survey of the proposed new site of the reservoir of the Omaha Water Works company, preparatory to making his report to-morrow night. The location for the first settling reservoir will probably be in blocks Q and 228, including also the ground lying between them and the river. This location is a short distance north of the Union Pacific steam pump. Andrew Rosewater is to-day making the survey, and will draw a topographical map for the company. It is quite likely that the pumping machinery will be located in the same vicinity.

On Tuesday last the Washah, St. Louis & Pacific road did a wonderful business. On that day it ran on its lines west of the Mississippi alone 117 coaches, all filled with people, which represented upwards of 7,000 passengers. The Council Bluffs Iron company yesterday shipped a steam pile driver to Beatrice, Neb., the first ever manufactured in this city. The company is also loading a car of fine and elaborate iron fronts for Hastings, Neb., and yesterday received orders for a car load of mining machinery to be shipped to Denver. There are now employed at the works over fifty men, and a very large amount of work is being turned out.—[Nonpar.

A. B. HUBERMANN, THE RELIABLE JEWELER, Cor. Douglas and 13th Sts. Gives Great Bargains in Ladies' and Gents' AMERICAN GOLD AND SILVER WATCHES All Kinds of JEWELRY, SILVER WARE AND DIAMONDS. We Guarantee The Best Goods For The Least Money. MORE POPULAR THAN EVER. The Genuine SINGER NEW FAMILY SEWING MACHINE. In 1878 we sold 356,422 Machines. In 1879 we sold 431,167 Machines. Excess over any previous year, 74,735 Machines. Our sales last year were at the rate of over 1400 Sewing Machines a Day!

REAL ESTATE AT BEMIS' AGENCY, 15th and Douglas Street.

FOREIGN EVENTS. The Powers to Pluck the Sultan from his Magnificence. Irish Landlords Resolve that a Reign of Terror Prevails.

AMONG THE STARS. Prof. Lowell, the American minister, inaugurated the season of the Workmen's College in London yesterday, and delivered a warmly applauded address on "Self Education." The building was crowded with a fashionable audience.

FAILING FRIZZ. Special Dispatch to The Bee. St. Louis, October 8, 1 a. m.—Last Sunday a week ago Joe Emmet spent two weeks' engagement. Manager Norton had gone on to straighten him up after the Pittsburgh episode, and he had not yet recovered from his bout with the bottle when he was to appear. This being his home, he was in the company of a party of his friends, and it was noticed that he was drinking as usual. He played during the first two or three overhauling houses, in which standing room was scarcely obtainable. His Saturday matinee was little less than a riot from the outset, and he was to the management that Emmet was the city. He sang with evident effort, which became more pronounced on the following night. On Saturday afternoon notwithstanding his present throat affection, his performance was never more enjoyed. On Saturday evening he fairly broke down, and his sister, Mrs. Roy, was obliged to sing the "Lullaby" behind the scenes, while he played an accompaniment in front. It was then apparent to the management that Emmet was in a bad way, which was indirectly, but not directly, chargeable to his excesses. A physician who made an examination of his throat said he would have to operate permanently to cure him. He decided to withdraw temporarily, although he was announced to appear on the following Wednesday. His company, meanwhile, put on a "Ticket of Leave Man," and continued the engagement, but Emmet grew worse instead of better, and he seemed to be sinking with general debility. He was removed to the residence of his sister for better care, and, until yesterday, the outside public had little about him. Yesterday a rumor was circulated that he was dead; but this was soon denied. The fact cannot be denied, however, that he has been a long time in bed, and that the physician, at first, prescribed small doses of whisky, but they were taken at too frequent intervals, and have since been stopped altogether. He is now resting quietly in a room at the corner of the city, where no one is allowed to visit him. His sister says he is now resting much easier than he has been, and that if he continues to improve he would be able to be about by next week. She is probably over-optimistic, however, and it would not be surprising if he had long since departed this life. His wife has been telegraphed for twice to New York; to the first dispatch she sent a reply that she would not come on, thinking, no doubt, that her husband was capable of his previous one. A second telegram met with a better reception, and she will probably reach here by Saturday. Meantime all news concerning Emmet's condition is generally sought after, and it is with difficulty that the throng of callers is kept out of the house.

DARING DAVENPORT. Special Dispatch to The Bee. New York, October 8.—1 a. m.—The general supervisor of elections, John I. Davenport, proposes to follow the same tactics that he adopted in 1876 in reference to the nomination of the republican national committee, and will, however, issue them new papers in their place, if the claimants are entitled to them. References to the subject of his copy-right paper made by the Tammany Hall committee on organization Wednesday was warmly discussed by the republican leaders yesterday. At the headquarters of the republican national committee there was a conference of leading republicans held in the morning, at which Mr. Davenport expressed his views regarding the law of intimidation, emanating from speakers at the Tammany meeting. He said it only made him more determined to enforce the law, and added that he should issue an extra order to his subordinates charging them to fully carry out his previous orders relating to the '66 papers, and advise them what course to pursue if resistance was offered. Mr. Davenport says: "I know that it is my right. I have law and the United States government at my back. The papers I object to are fraudulent, and will be seized by the supervisors wherever offered, and if the advice of foolish men is followed and the supervisors are interfered with, while pursuing their duty, they shall have all the protection necessary to carry out their instructions."

ADDITIONAL LOCAL. Iron Castings. The Council Bluffs Iron company yesterday shipped a steam pile driver to Beatrice, Neb., the first ever manufactured in this city. The company is also loading a car of fine and elaborate iron fronts for Hastings, Neb., and yesterday received orders for a car load of mining machinery to be shipped to Denver. There are now employed at the works over fifty men, and a very large amount of work is being turned out.—[Nonpar.

THE SINGER MANUFACTURING CO. Principal Office: 34 Union Square, New York. 1,500 Subordinate Offices in the United States and Canada, and 3,000 Offices in the Old World and South America. TO THE TRADE. Having just opened an entirely new line of MEN'S FURNISHING GOODS, We would ask the Merchants of Nebraska to inspect our Stock, feeling confident we can meet the wants of all in good Goods and Low Prices. SHREVE, JARVIS & CO., Cor. 14th and Dodge Sts.

REAL ESTATE AT BEMIS' AGENCY, 15th and Douglas Street.

FOREIGN EVENTS. The Powers to Pluck the Sultan from his Magnificence. Irish Landlords Resolve that a Reign of Terror Prevails.

AMONG THE STARS. Prof. Lowell, the American minister, inaugurated the season of the Workmen's College in London yesterday, and delivered a warmly applauded address on "Self Education." The building was crowded with a fashionable audience.

FAILING FRIZZ. Special Dispatch to The Bee. St. Louis, October 8, 1 a. m.—Last Sunday a week ago Joe Emmet spent two weeks' engagement. Manager Norton had gone on to straighten him up after the Pittsburgh episode, and he had not yet recovered from his bout with the bottle when he was to appear. This being his home, he was in the company of a party of his friends, and it was noticed that he was drinking as usual. He played during the first two or three overhauling houses, in which standing room was scarcely obtainable. His Saturday matinee was little less than a riot from the outset, and he was to the management that Emmet was the city. He sang with evident effort, which became more pronounced on the following night. On Saturday afternoon notwithstanding his present throat affection, his performance was never more enjoyed. On Saturday evening he fairly broke down, and his sister, Mrs. Roy, was obliged to sing the "Lullaby" behind the scenes, while he played an accompaniment in front. It was then apparent to the management that Emmet was in a bad way, which was indirectly, but not directly, chargeable to his excesses. A physician who made an examination of his throat said he would have to operate permanently to cure him. He decided to withdraw temporarily, although he was announced to appear on the following Wednesday. His company, meanwhile, put on a "Ticket of Leave Man," and continued the engagement, but Emmet grew worse instead of better, and he seemed to be sinking with general debility. He was removed to the residence of his sister for better care, and, until yesterday, the outside public had little about him. Yesterday a rumor was circulated that he was dead; but this was soon denied. The fact cannot be denied, however, that he has been a long time in bed, and that the physician, at first, prescribed small doses of whisky, but they were taken at too frequent intervals, and have since been stopped altogether. He is now resting quietly in a room at the corner of the city, where no one is allowed to visit him. His sister says he is now resting much easier than he has been, and that if he continues to improve he would be able to be about by next week. She is probably over-optimistic, however, and it would not be surprising if he had long since departed this life. His wife has been telegraphed for twice to New York; to the first dispatch she sent a reply that she would not come on, thinking, no doubt, that her husband was capable of his previous one. A second telegram met with a better reception, and she will probably reach here by Saturday. Meantime all news concerning Emmet's condition is generally sought after, and it is with difficulty that the throng of callers is kept out of the house.

DARING DAVENPORT. Special Dispatch to The Bee. New York, October 8.—1 a. m.—The general supervisor of elections, John I. Davenport, proposes to follow the same tactics that he adopted in 1876 in reference to the nomination of the republican national committee, and will, however, issue them new papers in their place, if the claimants are entitled to them. References to the subject of his copy-right paper made by the Tammany Hall committee on organization Wednesday was warmly discussed by the republican leaders yesterday. At the headquarters of the republican national committee there was a conference of leading republicans held in the morning, at which Mr. Davenport expressed his views regarding the law of intimidation, emanating from speakers at the Tammany meeting. He said it only made him more determined to enforce the law, and added that he should issue an extra order to his subordinates charging them to fully carry out his previous orders relating to the '66 papers, and advise them what course to pursue if resistance was offered. Mr. Davenport says: "I know that it is my right. I have law and the United States government at my back. The papers I object to are fraudulent, and will be seized by the supervisors wherever offered, and if the advice of foolish men is followed and the supervisors are interfered with, while pursuing their duty, they shall have all the protection necessary to carry out their instructions."

ADDITIONAL LOCAL. Iron Castings. The Council Bluffs Iron company yesterday shipped a steam pile driver to Beatrice, Neb., the first ever manufactured in this city. The company is also loading a car of fine and elaborate iron fronts for Hastings, Neb., and yesterday received orders for a car load of mining machinery to be shipped to Denver. There are now employed at the works over fifty men, and a very large amount of work is being turned out.—[Nonpar.

THE SINGER MANUFACTURING CO. Principal Office: 34 Union Square, New York. 1,500 Subordinate Offices in the United States and Canada, and 3,000 Offices in the Old World and South America. TO THE TRADE. Having just opened an entirely new line of MEN'S FURNISHING GOODS, We would ask the Merchants of Nebraska to inspect our Stock, feeling confident we can meet the wants of all in good Goods and Low Prices. SHREVE, JARVIS & CO., Cor. 14th and Dodge Sts.

REAL ESTATE AT BEMIS' AGENCY, 15th and Douglas Street.

FOREIGN EVENTS. The Powers to Pluck the Sultan from his Magnificence. Irish Landlords Resolve that a Reign of Terror Prevails.

AMONG THE STARS. Prof. Lowell, the American minister, inaugurated the season of the Workmen's College in London yesterday, and delivered a warmly applauded address on "Self Education." The building was crowded with a fashionable audience.

FAILING FRIZZ. Special Dispatch to The Bee. St. Louis, October 8, 1 a. m.—Last Sunday a week ago Joe Emmet spent two weeks' engagement. Manager Norton had gone on to straighten him up after the Pittsburgh episode, and he had not yet recovered from his bout with the bottle when he was to appear. This being his home, he was in the company of a party of his friends, and it was noticed that he was drinking as usual. He played during the first two or three overhauling houses, in which standing room was scarcely obtainable. His Saturday matinee was little less than a riot from the outset, and he was to the management that Emmet was the city. He sang with evident effort, which became more pronounced on the following night. On Saturday afternoon notwithstanding his present throat affection, his performance was never more enjoyed. On Saturday evening he fairly broke down, and his sister, Mrs. Roy, was obliged to sing the "Lullaby" behind the scenes, while he played an accompaniment in front. It was then apparent to the management that Emmet was in a bad way, which was indirectly, but not directly, chargeable to his excesses. A physician who made an examination of his throat said he would have to operate permanently to cure him. He decided to withdraw temporarily, although he was announced to appear on the following Wednesday. His company, meanwhile, put on a "Ticket of Leave Man," and continued the engagement, but Emmet grew worse instead of better, and he seemed to be sinking with general debility. He was removed to the residence of his sister for better care, and, until yesterday, the outside public had little about him. Yesterday a rumor was circulated that he was dead; but this was soon denied. The fact cannot be denied, however, that he has been a long time in bed, and that the physician, at first, prescribed small doses of whisky, but they were taken at too frequent intervals, and have since been stopped altogether. He is now resting quietly in a room at the corner of the city, where no one is allowed to visit him. His sister says he is now resting much easier than he has been, and that if he continues to improve he would be able to be about by next week. She is probably over-optimistic, however, and it would not be surprising if he had long since departed this life. His wife has been telegraphed for twice to New York; to the first dispatch she sent a reply that she would not come on, thinking, no doubt, that her husband was capable of his previous one. A second telegram met with a better reception, and she will probably reach here by Saturday. Meantime all news concerning Emmet's condition is generally sought after, and it is with difficulty that the throng of callers is kept out of the house.

DARING DAVENPORT. Special Dispatch to The Bee. New York, October 8.—1 a. m.—The general supervisor of elections, John I. Davenport, proposes to follow the same tactics that he adopted in 1876 in reference to the nomination of the republican national committee, and will, however, issue them new papers in their place, if the claimants are entitled to them. References to the subject of his copy-right paper made by the Tammany Hall committee on organization Wednesday was warmly discussed by the republican leaders yesterday. At the headquarters of the republican national committee there was a conference of leading republicans held in the morning, at which Mr. Davenport expressed his views regarding the law of intimidation, emanating from speakers at the Tammany meeting. He said it only made him more determined to enforce the law, and added that he should issue an extra order to his subordinates charging them to fully carry out his previous orders relating to the '66 papers, and advise them what course to pursue if resistance was offered. Mr. Davenport says: "I know that it is my right. I have law and the United States government at my back. The papers I object to are fraudulent, and will be seized by the supervisors wherever offered, and if the advice of foolish men is followed and the supervisors are interfered with, while pursuing their duty, they shall have all the protection necessary to carry out their instructions."

ADDITIONAL LOCAL. Iron Castings. The Council Bluffs Iron company yesterday shipped a steam pile driver to Beatrice, Neb., the first ever manufactured in this city. The company is also loading a car of fine and elaborate iron fronts for Hastings, Neb., and yesterday received orders for a car load of mining machinery to be shipped to Denver. There are now employed at the works over fifty men, and a very large amount of work is being turned out.—[Nonpar.

THE SINGER MANUFACTURING CO. Principal Office: 34 Union Square, New York. 1,500 Subordinate Offices in the United States and Canada, and 3,000 Offices in the Old World and South America. TO THE TRADE. Having just opened an entirely new line of MEN'S FURNISHING GOODS, We would ask the Merchants of Nebraska to inspect our Stock, feeling confident we can meet the wants of all in good Goods and Low Prices. SHREVE, JARVIS & CO., Cor. 14th and Dodge Sts.

REAL ESTATE AT BEMIS' AGENCY, 15th and Douglas Street.

FOREIGN EVENTS. The Powers to Pluck the Sultan from his Magnificence. Irish Landlords Resolve that a Reign of Terror Prevails.

AMONG THE STARS. Prof. Lowell, the American minister, inaugurated the season of the Workmen's College in London yesterday, and delivered a warmly applauded address on "Self Education." The building was crowded with a fashionable audience.

FAILING FRIZZ. Special Dispatch to The Bee. St. Louis, October 8, 1 a. m.—Last Sunday a week ago Joe Emmet spent two weeks' engagement. Manager Norton had gone on to straighten him up after the Pittsburgh episode, and he had not yet recovered from his bout with the bottle when he was to appear. This being his home, he was in the company of a party of his friends, and it was noticed that he was drinking as usual. He played during the first two or three overhauling houses, in which standing room was scarcely obtainable. His Saturday matinee was little less than a riot from the outset, and he was to the management that Emmet was the city. He sang with evident effort, which became more pronounced on the following night. On Saturday afternoon notwithstanding his present throat affection, his performance was never more enjoyed. On Saturday evening he fairly broke down, and his sister, Mrs. Roy, was obliged to sing the "Lullaby" behind the scenes, while he played an accompaniment in front. It was then apparent to the management that Emmet was in a bad way, which was indirectly, but not directly, chargeable to his excesses. A physician who made an examination of his throat said he would have to operate permanently to cure him. He decided to withdraw temporarily, although he was announced to appear on the following Wednesday. His company, meanwhile, put on a "Ticket of Leave Man," and continued the engagement, but Emmet grew worse instead of better, and he seemed to be sinking with general debility. He was removed to the residence of his sister for better care, and, until yesterday, the outside public had little about him. Yesterday a rumor was circulated that he was dead; but this was soon denied. The fact cannot be denied, however, that he has been a long time in bed, and that the physician, at first, prescribed small doses of whisky, but they were taken at too frequent intervals, and have since been stopped altogether. He is now resting quietly in a room at the corner of the city, where no one is allowed to visit him. His sister says he is now resting much easier than he has been, and that if he continues to improve he would be able to be about by next week. She is probably over-optimistic, however, and it would not be surprising if he had long since departed this life. His wife has been telegraphed for twice to New York; to the first dispatch she sent a reply that she would not come on, thinking, no doubt, that her husband was capable of his previous one. A second telegram met with a better reception, and she will probably reach here by Saturday. Meantime all news concerning Emmet's condition is generally sought after, and it is with difficulty that the throng of callers is kept out of the house.

DARING DAVENPORT. Special Dispatch to The Bee. New York, October 8.—1 a. m.—The general supervisor of elections, John I. Davenport, proposes to follow the same tactics that he adopted in 1876 in reference to the nomination of the republican national committee, and will, however, issue them new papers in their place, if the claimants are entitled to them. References to the subject of his copy-right paper made by the Tammany Hall committee on organization Wednesday was warmly discussed by the republican leaders yesterday. At the headquarters of the republican national committee there was a conference of leading republicans held in the morning, at which Mr. Davenport expressed his views regarding the law of intimidation, emanating from speakers at the Tammany meeting. He said it only made him more determined to enforce the law, and added that he should issue an extra order to his subordinates charging them to fully carry out his previous orders relating to the '66 papers, and advise them what course to pursue if resistance was offered. Mr. Davenport says: "I know that it is my right. I have law and the United States government at my back. The papers I object to are fraudulent, and will be seized by the supervisors wherever offered, and if the advice of foolish men is followed and the supervisors are interfered with, while pursuing their duty, they shall have all the protection necessary to carry out their instructions."

ADDITIONAL LOCAL. Iron Castings. The Council Bluffs Iron company yesterday shipped a steam pile driver to Beatrice, Neb., the first ever manufactured in this city. The company is also loading a car of fine and elaborate iron fronts for Hastings, Neb., and yesterday received orders for a car load of mining machinery to be shipped to Denver. There are now employed at the works over fifty men, and a very large amount of work is being turned out.—[Nonpar.

THE SINGER MANUFACTURING CO. Principal Office: 34 Union Square, New York. 1,500 Subordinate Offices in the United States and Canada, and 3,000 Offices in the Old World and South America. TO THE TRADE. Having just opened an entirely new line of MEN'S FURNISHING GOODS, We would ask the Merchants of Nebraska to inspect our Stock, feeling confident we can meet the wants of all in good Goods and Low Prices. SHREVE, JARVIS & CO., Cor. 14th and Dodge Sts.

REAL ESTATE AT BEMIS' AGENCY, 15th and Douglas Street.

FOREIGN EVENTS. The Powers to Pluck the Sultan from his Magnificence. Irish Landlords Resolve that a Reign of Terror Prevails.

AMONG THE STARS. Prof. Lowell, the American minister, inaugurated the season of the Workmen's College in London yesterday, and delivered a warmly applauded address on "Self Education." The building was crowded with a fashionable audience.

FAILING FRIZZ. Special Dispatch to The Bee. St. Louis, October 8, 1 a. m.—Last Sunday a week ago Joe Emmet spent two weeks' engagement. Manager Norton had gone on to straighten him up after the Pittsburgh episode, and he had not yet recovered from his bout with the bottle when he was to appear. This being his home, he was in the company of a party of his friends, and it was noticed that he was drinking as usual. He played during the first two or three overhauling houses, in which standing room was scarcely obtainable. His Saturday matinee was little less than a riot from the outset, and he was to the management that Emmet was the city. He sang with evident effort, which became more pronounced on the following night. On Saturday afternoon notwithstanding his present throat affection, his performance was never more enjoyed. On Saturday evening he fairly broke down, and his sister, Mrs. Roy, was obliged to sing the "Lullaby" behind the scenes, while he played an accompaniment in front. It was then apparent to the management that Emmet was in a bad way, which was indirectly, but not directly, chargeable to his excesses. A physician who made an examination of his throat said he would have to operate permanently to cure him. He decided to withdraw temporarily, although he was announced to appear on the following Wednesday. His company, meanwhile, put on a "Ticket of Leave Man," and continued the engagement, but Emmet grew worse instead of better, and he seemed to be sinking with general debility. He was removed to the residence of his sister for better care, and, until yesterday, the outside public had little about him. Yesterday a rumor was circulated that he was dead; but this was soon denied. The fact cannot be denied, however, that he has been a long time in bed, and that the physician, at first, prescribed small doses of whisky, but they were taken at too frequent intervals, and have since been stopped altogether. He is now resting quietly in a room at the corner of the city, where no one is allowed to visit him. His sister says he is now resting much easier than he has been, and that if he continues to improve he would be able to be about by next week. She is probably over-optimistic, however, and it would not be surprising if he had long since departed this life. His wife has been telegraphed for twice to New York; to the first dispatch she sent a reply that she would not come on, thinking, no doubt, that her husband was capable of his previous one. A second telegram met with a better reception, and she will probably reach here by Saturday. Meantime all news concerning Emmet's condition is generally sought after, and it is with difficulty that the throng of callers is kept out of the house.

DARING DAVENPORT. Special Dispatch to The Bee. New York, October 8.—1 a. m.—The general supervisor of elections, John I. Davenport, proposes to follow the same tactics that he adopted in 1876 in reference to the nomination of the republican national committee, and will, however, issue them new papers in their place, if the claimants are entitled to them. References to the subject of his copy-right paper made by the Tammany Hall committee on organization Wednesday was warmly discussed by the republican leaders yesterday. At the headquarters of the republican national committee there was a conference of leading republicans held in the morning, at which Mr. Davenport expressed his views regarding the law of intimidation, emanating from speakers at the Tammany meeting. He said it only made him more determined to enforce the law, and added that he should issue an extra order to his subordinates charging them to fully carry out his previous orders relating to the '66 papers, and advise them what course to pursue if resistance was offered. Mr. Davenport says: "I know that it is my right. I have law and the United States government at my back. The papers I object to are fraudulent, and will be seized by the supervisors wherever offered, and if the advice of foolish men is followed and the supervisors are interfered with, while pursuing their duty, they shall have all the protection necessary to carry out their instructions."

ADDITIONAL LOCAL. Iron Castings. The Council Bluffs Iron company yesterday shipped a steam pile driver to Beatrice, Neb., the first ever manufactured in this city. The company is also loading a car of fine and elaborate iron fronts for Hastings, Neb., and yesterday received orders for a car load of mining machinery to be shipped to Denver. There are now employed at the works over fifty men, and a very large amount of work is being turned out.—[Nonpar.

THE SINGER MANUFACTURING CO. Principal Office: 34 Union Square, New York. 1,500 Subordinate Offices in the United States and Canada, and 3,000 Offices in the Old World and South America. TO THE TRADE. Having just opened an entirely new line of MEN'S FURNISHING GOODS, We would ask the Merchants of Nebraska to inspect our Stock, feeling confident we can meet the wants of all in good Goods and Low Prices. SHREVE, JARVIS & CO., Cor. 14th and Dodge Sts.

REAL ESTATE AT BEMIS' AGENCY, 15th and Douglas Street.

FOREIGN EVENTS. The Powers to Pluck the Sultan from his Magnificence. Irish Landlords Resolve that a Reign of Terror Prevails.

AMONG THE STARS. Prof. Lowell, the American minister, inaugurated the season of the Workmen's College in London yesterday, and delivered a warmly applauded address on "Self Education." The building was crowded with a fashionable audience.

FAILING FRIZZ. Special Dispatch to The Bee. St. Louis, October 8, 1 a. m.—Last Sunday a week ago Joe Emmet spent two weeks' engagement. Manager Norton had gone on to straighten him up after the Pittsburgh episode, and he had not yet recovered from his bout with the bottle when he was to appear. This being his home, he was in the company of a party of his friends, and it was noticed that he was drinking as usual. He played during the first two or three overhauling houses, in which standing room was scarcely obtainable. His Saturday matinee was little less than a riot from the outset, and he was to the management that Emmet was the city. He sang with evident effort, which became more pronounced on the following night. On Saturday afternoon notwithstanding his present throat affection, his performance was never more enjoyed. On Saturday evening he fairly broke down, and his sister, Mrs. Roy, was obliged to sing the "Lullaby" behind the scenes, while he played an accompaniment in front. It was then apparent to the management that Emmet was in a bad way, which was indirectly, but not directly, chargeable to his excesses. A physician who made an examination of his throat said he would have to operate permanently to cure him. He decided to withdraw temporarily, although he was announced to appear on the following Wednesday. His company, meanwhile, put on a "Ticket of Leave Man," and continued the engagement, but Emmet grew worse instead of better, and he seemed to be sinking with general debility. He was removed to the residence of his sister for better care, and, until yesterday, the outside public had little about him. Yesterday a rumor was circulated that he was dead; but this was soon denied. The fact cannot be denied, however, that he has been a long time in bed, and that the physician, at first, prescribed small doses of whisky, but they were taken at too frequent intervals, and have since been stopped altogether. He is now resting quietly in a room at the corner of the city, where no one is allowed to visit him. His sister says he is now resting much easier than he has been, and that if he continues to improve he would be able to be about by next week. She is probably over-optimistic, however, and it would not be surprising if he had long since departed this life. His wife has been telegraphed for twice to New York; to the first dispatch she sent a reply that she would not come on, thinking, no doubt, that her husband was capable of his previous one. A second telegram met with a better reception, and she will probably reach here by Saturday. Meantime all news concerning Emmet's condition is generally sought after, and it is with difficulty that the throng of callers is kept out of the house.

DARING DAVENPORT. Special Dispatch to The Bee. New York, October 8.—1 a. m.—The general supervisor of elections, John I. Davenport, proposes to follow the same tactics that he adopted in 1876 in reference to the nomination of the republican national committee, and will, however, issue them new papers in their place, if the claimants are entitled to them. References to the subject of his copy-right paper made by the Tammany Hall committee on organization Wednesday was warmly discussed by the republican leaders yesterday. At the headquarters of the republican national committee there was a conference of leading republicans held in the morning, at which Mr. Davenport expressed his views regarding the law of intimidation, emanating from speakers at the Tammany meeting. He said it only made him more determined to enforce the law, and added that he should issue an extra order to his subordinates charging them to fully carry out his previous orders relating to the '66 papers, and advise them what course to pursue if resistance was offered. Mr. Davenport says: "I know that it is my right. I have law and the United States government at my back. The papers I object to are fraudulent, and will be seized by the supervisors wherever offered, and if the advice of foolish men is followed and the supervisors are interfered with, while pursuing their duty, they shall have all the protection necessary to carry out their instructions."

ADDITIONAL LOCAL. Iron Castings. The Council Bluffs Iron company yesterday shipped a steam pile driver to Beatrice, Neb., the first ever manufactured in this city. The company is also loading a car of fine and elaborate iron fronts for Hastings, Neb., and yesterday received orders for a car load of mining machinery to be shipped to Denver. There are now employed at the works over fifty men, and a very large amount of work is being turned out.—[Nonpar.

THE SINGER MANUFACTURING CO. Principal Office: 34 Union Square, New York. 1,500 Subordinate Offices in the United States and Canada, and 3,000 Offices in the Old World and South America. TO THE TRADE. Having just opened an entirely new line of MEN'S FURNISHING GOODS, We would ask the Merchants of Nebraska to inspect our Stock, feeling confident we can meet the wants of all in good Goods and Low Prices. SHREVE, JARVIS & CO., Cor. 14th and Dodge Sts.