BOLD BURGLARIES.

The Safe in Metz' Hall Blown Open by Experts. Artistic Work at Philip Koch's Place. Although such items are getting rather monotonous, yet we must tell the story to-day of another bold burglary which happened at the early hour of 4 o'clock Saturday. While the perpetrators carried out successfully their part of the job, the fruit of their labor was very light and the return enough to discourage them into quitting the business. The scene of this latest raid by the villainous gang which is bidding defiance to officers of the law generally, was the store room of Metz' hall, run by Mr. Henry Koch, lessee of the hall. An entrance was made by talking out the side window of the hall, opening on the alley to the south. The strips holding the upper sash in place were first removed, and then the nails which held the lower sash were taken out and those raised up. After gaining the interior, the rascals, to provide an easy mode of exit, took off the lock from the front door and had them away of retreat either by the front or rear. Having put a watcher out, they proceeded to go for the safe, one of Anderson's, small size, in the door of which they drilled four holes before they succeeded in making one through which powder could be inserted. No attempt was made to destroy the safe by the explosion, and it was used by all in the vicinity, waking up Mr. Metz, who lives across the street nearly opposite the hall, also Mr. Cough, who sleeps over the saloon. The latter heard footsteps on the floor below, and only waiting to partially clothe himself he hastened down stairs, where he found the big room filled with so dense a smoke that he at first supposed the hall was on fire. He soon, however, discovered the front door open, the door of the saloon in a wrecked condition. The door of the latter was blown clear off, the lock torn all to pieces and the lining badly demoralized. The small iron money vault inside containing some papers of no importance to anyone except the owner, was carried away bodily. Nothing else in the saloon was touched, and it was found that some of the gang were in the saloon, but no one was seen. The money drawer was ignored, and a quantity of cash stored in another portion of the room was relocked. The loss of the money was nothing but a loss of time, for the gang certainly have all the glory there is in success. As this is the fourth safe robbery within a short time, it is pretty evident that a gang is at work that can only be broken up when some of its members are caught and sent to the penitentiary. That our police force is entirely inadequate to protect the town against the daring crew, is certain, and that the block watchmen are equally unable to cover a large territory not less certain. The only hope is that some of the gang will be caught and the work stopped, or that some detective or private individual will get the drop on them. As the robbery was left a portion of their tools this morning, but that is of very light assistance in detecting the workmen. KOCH'S CASE. From a gentleman who lives on the south side of the street, between the 24th and 25th streets, we learn of the robbery Friday night of Mr. Philip Koch. The burglars broke a pane of glass from Mr. Koch's window, and took from a couch which sat near it several articles of apparel. In so doing he aroused the family, and in his haste to make good his escape, he fell on a chair, and his head struck the floor, and he was injured. The man in his tussle with the burglars was certainly caught out second best, for he dropped there and in the vicinity a wooden chair, which was not injured in the slightest more than simply being knocked down. We understand Mr. K. lost about $13 in the transaction. My stock consisting of Fancy Goods, Notions, Ladies and Gents' Furnishing Goods, etc., for sale cheap! Can give good reason for selling. ON THE RAIL.

Serious Collision Between Two Union Pacific Freight Trains. Headlight Gleams From all Quarters. A serious accident occurred on the Union Pacific Sunday morning by which a brakeman named McCreone, who resides in this city was a severely, though not fatally injured. The railway officials were very reticent yesterday on the subject, but from a passenger who came in on the delayed mail train we learned that the accident was caused by the second section of freight train No. 11, bound west, running into the first section of the same train, at Silver Creek Station, 110 miles west of this city. The latter was lying at the station and the first warning the occupants of the caboose had of the approaching danger was when it was too near to be averted. McCreone, who was the only one in the caboose at the time, was hurt in the attempt to get out of the car, being caught on the platform. He was badly injured about the groin and was taken to the hotel where the best medical aid at hand was rendered him. The co-driver of the locomotive, No. 86, ran under the caboose, the latter landing on top of her boiler, knocking off the stack and cab, and wrecking her upper works generally. The damage beyond this was less than might have been expected, and no one else was hurt than the brakeman. RAILROAD NOTES. Seventy-seven cars of stock passed through the city yesterday. The overload train for the west was an hour late yesterday. The noon train west yesterday had among its passengers the Sisters of Mercy. It also had a number of land settlers for Hastings and Wahoo. By abandoning the remainder for the iron horse, Christmas arrived in Omaha a month ahead of time. It was a Pullman passenger west yesterday. The special hunting car "Davy Crockett," passed west yesterday with Gen. Clinton Flak and party, of New Jersey, on board, bound for Arizona. Arrangements have been made by which the Omaha papers, with the eastern mail, will reach Wahoo four hours earlier than usual, a pouch being made up for the Omaha postoffice to leave on the 10:15 a. m. train via the O. & R. V. branch of the U. P. Democratic County Convention.
