THE RAILWAYS.

The Land Grant Roads' Excursion to Arrive To-Day.

Preparations for Receiving the Visitors.

Tuesday was the date fixed upon for the starting of the great excursion from the east to the land grant roads in the west, and to-day will witness the arrival in Nebraska of the first detachments of the crowd that is announced as bound to come. The Bee has kept its readers posted in the matter from the first, and in another portion of this paper will be found the action taken by the Board of Trade at its meeting last evening for the proper reception of the visitors who are coming in such annual numbers. It has been the case to our knowledge that men who came to spy out the land, representing a colony of perhaps forty or fifty families have been taken in hand and treated like princes, to insure their being favorably impressed with the hospitality of Nebraska, as well as the advantages we offer the settler. In this case it is estimated that not less than 2000 people will land on our shores in two consecutive days, 500 of these at Omaha. Of these the majority will come to-morrow. They will represent thousands of families, and their report on returning home will have much to do with determining the additions that should be made to our population not only next year but for years to come. The committee appointed by the board of trade met at 7 sharp this evening, and it is hoped all the members will be present. The necessity of doing something to exhibit to the best advantage our improvements, growth and general prosperity, cannot be too strongly urged. It is not enough to recognize their presence, but they must be made to recognize our importance, and arrangements should be made to show them something of our manufactures, the shops, smelting works and other institutions, and they should be taken to the high school and ward school buildings to convince them that in educational advantages, we are not behind the states they come from. Lincoln was quick to appreciate the advantages of a thorough advertisement of her resources at this time and will meet her visitors with bands of music, waving banners, free carriages, free hotels and so on. While Omaha does not need to go quite so far as she should do something extra, and no doubt will, as the committee are composed of good men.

THE BURLINGTON BRANCH.

The Chicago Times, of Monday, contains the news of the U. C. B. & Q. in Southern Nebraska: "The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy is building a road from Blue Springs on the Big Blue river, in Nebraska, eastward to the Missouri river, the objective point of the project is not determined, but it will probably strike the Nebraska City branch. The length of this new branch will be seventy-five miles, and the grading now in progress from Nemaha City westward. About fifteen miles have been built eastward from Chester toward Blue Springs, the intention being to connect with the new branch at that place. A branch line is to be built from Beatrice to Blue Springs, a distance of twenty miles. The bridges are being put in, and as soon as they are completed, grading will begin. The company intend to extend the Burlington Valley road from Indians to Culbertson, a distance of fifty miles, in order to furnish employment to the poor homesteaders along the line during the winter."

FIRST BUT ONE.

The news of the explosion of the Sioux City and Pacific locomotive at Blair Saturday morning was received in this city in the afternoon. The latest news received is to the effect that both the injured men will probably recover. The engine is a total wreck, and the escape of the men with their lives is next door to a miracle. Engine No. 2, as the name implies, is the first but one received by the road, and has been in use since 1867. Its age alone should not have weakened it so as to make an explosion likely.

Board of Trade.

An important meeting of the Omaha Board of Trade was held Monday evening for the purpose of preparing and receiving and entertaining the eastern excursionists who are expected to arrive in Omaha 1000 strong to-morrow morning and remain until the leaving time of the evening B. & M. train, 6 o'clock. The following committee of arrangements, consisting of the members of the board of trade and citizens, was appointed: Mayor Chase, O. F. Davis, W. C. Allen, Leavitt Burnham, P. S. Eastis, J. H. Brady, and Max Meyer. The members of the committee are requested to meet at the board of trade rooms this evening promptly at 7 o'clock, to make arrangements for the reception and entertainment of the excursionists. It is intended to meet them either at the transfer or at the Union Pacific depot, and have an address of welcome delivered, in which reference shall be made to the state and its resources, advantages, etc. Another committee was also appointed—W. C. Allen, W. J. Beach, G. H. Bogg, Lewis S. Reed and E. F. Tait—to prepare a report on the resources and advantages of Douglas county, showing the prices of land, the market facilities, population, railroad transportation, etc., the intention being to have this report printed in pamphlet form in time for distribution among the visitors, who will be in Omaha—different parties of them—on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. It is a well-known fact that country lands are much cheaper, especially when there is speculation that prices are always much higher at these points.

A PLUCKY PAIR.

How a Bride and Groom Passed Their Honey-moon.

Seeing California Under Difficulties.

The overland train from the west Monday brought to this city, on their way to their home down in Maine, a young couple who met with some rather disconcerting adventures on their bridal tour. The husband's name was Philip Mann, and he married his very pretty and modest looking wife early in September. The couple of both were well-to-do, and a wedding trip to the Pacific coast was considered about the proper thing for the occasion, and accordingly was undertaken. Mann is an innocent young farmer, with no experience whatever with the ways of the world, and on his way to the coast he was taken in by a confidence man, on the old "check" game, to the tune of $840, and on discovering that he had been duped, also discovered that he was dead broke. He consulted with his wife, and it was determined not to telegraph home nor return home to be laughed at, but to go ahead and see it out. They accordingly put up their wedding outfit, with several hundred dollars with a responsible party on the route as security for $100 with which they went on to the GOLDEN GATE. There the young man went to work as hostler in a livery stable, and his wife obtained work in a boarding house. Here they stayed until they had secured the practical side of life on the coast, and Mann having by skillful maneuvering raised money enough to redeem their baggage and go home in a respectable style, the two started at once on the return trip, and it is not their intention to give the matter away to the old folks at all. There is one thing certain, they have the nerve, and if they don't get along in life we shall greatly miss our guess.

The Working Forces of the Y. M. C. A. for the Ensuing Year.

On month ago Monday evening the officers of the Young Men's Christian Association were elected for the ensuing year. They are as follows: W. P. West, president; Geo. Nichols, vice president; John L. McCague, treasurer; Chas. E. Reynolds, secretary; Geo. T. Hower, general secretary. On last evening the association held its regular monthly meeting with the officers of the association took their seats. The association then elected the following members from the respective churches, as association directors: First Presbyterian, Dr. J. C. Dennis. United Presbyterian, A. G. Charlton. Congregational, H. W. Snow. Lutheran, A. W. Fullriede. First Methodist, J. W. Johnson. 18th Street Methodist, R. W. Swayne. South Omaha M. E., David Cole. First Baptist, Col. Watson B. Smith. After the election of board of directors, the following association committee were appointed: Devotional—J. R. Cannon, P. L. Parine, O. H. Samson. Visiting—Joseph Nichols, O. H. Higgins, Thos. Groves. Employment—Wm. Fleming, D. S. Benton, A. G. Charlton. Boarding House—D. A. Benton, F. M. Bennett, A. G. Charlton. After the adjournment of the association which was in such high glow over the good reports of the past year's work, and the flattering outlook for the future of the association, the president called a special meeting of the board of directors and appointed the following committees: Finance—John L. McCague, Thos. A. Craig, Wm. Fleming. Public Meetings and Social—H. W. Snow, A. G. Charlton, Robert W. Swayne. Lectures and Classes—Judge Wm. Peabody, W. B. Smith, Eugene L. Ward. Rooms—C. E. Reynolds, Eugene L. Ward, J. W. Johnson. Periodicals—J. W. Johnson, C. H. Higgins, Dr. P. S. Leisinger. Printing and Publishing—Charles Anderson, William Fleming, R. R. Baldwin. Reception—C. E. Reynolds, Philip Soxman, Will Sterens. It is unnecessary for us to say that the association starts out at this time with better prospects for future work than it has ever had in the past. The working forces of the association appreciate the positions to which each of them have been chosen, and an aggressive and faithful work may be expected at their hands. The interests of the Y. M. C. A. are the interests of every business man and manufacturer in the city of Omaha, and we may say the world, for if every young man was a member of the Young Men's Christian Association, we would have better business men and mechanics, and more for the dens of iniquity, and very soon there would be more work of the Y. M. C. A. and like institutions, and we are glad to note the progress and usefulness of the association in our city. We hope to note more rapid strides for the future than we have ever been able to in the past.

The working forces of the association appreciate the positions to which each of them have been chosen, and an aggressive and faithful work may be expected at their hands. The interests of the Y. M. C. A. are the interests of every business man and manufacturer in the city of Omaha, and we may say the world, for if every young man was a member of the Young Men's Christian Association, we would have better business men and mechanics, and more for the dens of iniquity, and very soon there would be more work of the Y. M. C. A. and like institutions, and we are glad to note the progress and usefulness of the association in our city. We hope to note more rapid strides for the future than we have ever been able to in the past.
