OMAHA AND ST. PAUL.

The First Official Trip Over the Great Lumber Line.

The Excursionists Still Pour in from the East.

When heard from on Tuesday evening the tracklayers from the north end of the Omaha and St. Paul line had had 1500 feet of iron to lay. The south track gang had received iron and was at work. On account of the storm no track was put down Wednesday. If a full day's work was put on Thursday the two ends of the track will have to be done before the track can be much used, and it will be the first of December before regular trains are put on. Through passenger trains between St. Paul and Omaha over the new line will not be put on before spring.

President Porter and Manager Bishop are expected to arrive from St. Paul today. They will return by the newly completed Nebraska line, taking a glance at the proposed Florence cut-off by the way. The line of this cut-off is located, and there remains only the order for its building.

The construction of depots and other buildings along the line is going on actively, the depot in this city being framed and the rafters now going in. The completion of this line will add greatly to Omaha's business prosperity.

THE EASTERN EXCURSIONISTS. Friday was the last day upon which any great number of the westward-bound excursionists from the east are expected, as those who come from points farthest east are not more than three days ride from Omaha. The bulk of the passengers expected in Friday are from Buffalo and western New York and from Canada, 400 to 500 being expected from those sections. The trains were all late again Friday, the Rock Island not arriving until nearly noon, and the overland train not reaching this side of the river until nearly two o'clock, and consequently making it impossible to get the figures of the third day's travel.

Thursday's trains brought almost as many as those of Wednesday, the majority being from Ohio, Indiana and Michigan. In addition to the regular trains a special was sent south on the B. & M. last evening, another of those coaches to Lincoln over the U. P., and one of two coaches west over the main line of the Union Pacific. Over 600 were sent over the Union Pacific alone. There was one carload of Canadians for Plum Creek, where there is already quite a settlement from Her Majesty's Domain. The B. & M. sent three coaches loaded from Omaha and twenty-five from Plattsmouth. Thursday and yesterday have, while cold, been clear and beautiful days, and such will assist materially in giving the excursionists a good idea of the nature of Nebraska's farming lands. There is no doubt but that on the whole the scheme has been a grand success, and that the courteous concessions of the passenger agents of the eastern roads to the land grant roads, has borne the desired fruits and that the portion of the country which grows and prospers, they recognize as one which will be as greatly benefited by their magnanimity, though not entirely unselfish, after as they could possibly have desired.

PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS.

Work on the Sewer and Water Works Booming.

Omaha's Unprecedented Prosperity.

There is an immense amount of work going on in Omaha now in the way of public improvements, backed by private individuals and by the city. We have from time to time alluded to the many new business blocks and public buildings completed and in contemplation, among the latter being Boyd's new opera house and the country house, both of which will be completed within the next year's time.

THE SEWER. Along South Omaha Creek is one of the most important undertakings in progress, and its benefit to the health of the citizens living along the line of the old creek will be incalculable. Under the supervision of Gen. G. M. O'Brien & Son, it is being pushed along for all that it is worth. The portion under Tenth street will soon be finished if the weather is not too unfavorable and the street more opened for public travel, and we hope to be graded within the next twelve months. A large force of men is at work on these, the brick for which are now being produced in sufficient quantities in our city. When that is exhausted a supply is ready at Council Bluffs. When North Omaha creek and its death-breeding influences are similarly disposed of, the city's mortality reports will be sensibly lessened.

THE WATER WORKS. The city is now pushing work on this institution to their best ability, having gaged at work on hauling pipes and castings from the depot and distributing them on the pumping wells and foundations for the pump houses and on the reservoirs. One of the largest gangs of men and teams that ever made a start breaking ground was the one put on yesterday morning by the McDermott & Co., who have the contract for building the four large settling reservoirs for the water works company. These reservoirs will be completed in about sixty days, and will be used for settling the water before pumping it up to the main reservoir on Baker's hill. Yesterday a carload of special castings for the waterworks arrived, and the work of pipe-laying will now begin in a day or two. Pipe-laying has been delayed on account of the non-arrival of these special castings—joints, elbows, etc. Mr. Rutherford, the contractor, is expected here today, and he will immediately make arrangements to proceed with the work. About six miles of pipe have been distributed, and pipe continues to arrive at the rate of each or ten castings a day. Mr. J. L. C. Jewett has been appointed supervisor of construction.

Stevens, of the Rock Island, left for Chicago Thursday. H. G. Thurman, law partner of Gov. Ames, of Oregon, is in the city. W. W. Bartlett was yesterday admitted to practice in the United States court. R. B. Ringwalt, of the Empire Line, has returned from the east with his family. Captain Keller and Lieutenants Leflow and Young, of company E, of Sutton, are in the city. Frank Renard and wife left for the east yesterday afternoon, to be absent two or three weeks. E. S. Matteson, a Western Union operator, has resigned and will probably remove to Oregon to locate. J. M. Rheon, of Omaha, was in this railway center Thursday, having come over to meet his sister-in-law, Miss Mary Cooper, of Cedar Rapids, on a visit to Mr. Rheon and wife. Judge George E. Cole, formerly governor of Washington Territory, and now postmaster of Portland, Oregon, passed the day in our city on his way east to New York. The Judge was highly elated over the result of the presidential election, and said if it hadn't been for the Mosley force, Oregon would have given a clear thousand majority for Garfield and Arthur.

IMPORTANT INDUSTRY.

A Shot Tower to be Erected in Wilcox's Addition.

An Enterprise That Will Bear Fostering.

For some time past there has been considerable talk of a new enterprise about to be set on foot in our midst, but at the request of the parties interested we have refrained until now from making it public. Yesterday, however, the land upon which the building are to be placed was purchased and we learn that ground will be broken to-day, so that there can be no further object in keeping the matter from the public.

The enterprise is the erection of a shot tower for the manufacture of the article indicated, in all its various sizes and varieties. This is, it is claimed, a point where such an institution would be particularly successful owing to the facilities for obtaining the lead from which the shot is manufactured. An eastern man, whose name is Cotter or Carter is the head of the enterprise, and is president of the company. Preliminary articles of incorporation were drawn up several days ago to enable the company to go ahead with their plans, and we understand that N. Shelton is secretary and treasurer and S. E. Leckie is manager. Articles of incorporation will probably be filed to-day in the county clerk's office.

The ground purchased for the location of the tower consists of eight lots, nearly two acres, in Wilcox's addition, a short distance west of the windmill, near the stock yards, on the old Belvedere road. This is convenient to the White Lead works and also to the E. P. track. The buildings will probably consist of a tower about one hundred feet high, furnishing rooms for melting the lead, finishing rooms and office. Heavy foundations are required for the tower and engine, and we learn that these will be put in at once and in all probability the remainder of the works will not be completed until spring. This is a big institution for Omaha, and we hope to see it succeed to the extent that its owners can wish.

Dolmans and Cloaks. The most complete assortment west of New York. Just received at McDONALD & HARRISON'S. Board $3.50 at the Hudson River House. M. L. Wagner. News has been received in this city of the death of M. L. Wagner, who left this city and his duties here a few weeks since to make a visit to his old home in Warren county, Indiana, with the hope of benefiting his health. His friends in Omaha, and they are many, were not sanguine as to the result and felt when they bade him good-bye that it was forever. His funeral took place on Monday last.

Marquis de Lafayette Wagner was the son of General Geo. B. Wagner, a distinguished and gallant soldier of Indiana, and a prominent man in shaping her political affairs when O. P. Morton, her famous War Governor, was at the helm. After passing the greater portion of his life in Indiana, Wagner came to Omaha in March, 1875, and was employed for a time in the state's prison, at Lincoln, and subsequently at the hospital for the insane. He came to Omaha, in June, and accepted a position on the News, which he held until it suspended, in June last, and then accepted a similar position on the Republican.

What we might say of his character and many noble qualities will be more fittingly spoken by the friends to whom they were made known in less than a tenth of the number of years the writer has known him. He was always the same. Unselfish to a fault, loyal to the death, enthusiastic in whatever he undertook. He had the unreserved confidence of all who were ever connected with him in business matters or otherwise. While others have written their name higher in the roll of fame there never was one who, had he reached his utmost pinnacle, would have used his power and influence less for himself and more for those who possessed his regard. He has gone to his reward. Peace to his ashes.

TO THE PUBLIC. Having severed my connection with Mr. C. J. Taylor, I have removed my fire insurance agency from the corner of 14th and Douglas to room 6, Creighton block, and I would inform my old friends and parents that I will stand as a surety to their interests as a fire underwriter. I offer the very best indemnity and will see to it, personally (fire insurance being my exclusive business) that their interests will be fully protected both as regards security against loss, and as regards assistance may be required to render the indemnity promptly available. Respectfully, H. J. HOWELL.

New Engravings at Hostess's. Week of Prayer for Young Men. The third week in November, observed for several years as a week of prayer for young men and Young Men's Christian Associations, will be, as heretofore, observed by the association and Christian people of Omaha and the world over wherever there is an association. The meetings begin on Sunday morning with sermons to young men and young people, by some of our pastors, and meetings will be held each evening during the week at the association rooms. On Sunday afternoon the work of the international committee of the Y. M. C. A. will be presented by the general secretary, and also a few thoughts on the work of the association the world over. Mr. J. W. Dean, of Iowa, will be in the city the last half the week and assist in the meetings. All are most cordially invited.

THE BLACK MASK.

A Female Foot-Pads Who Opens Her Lips Only to Utter Oaths.

A Drunken Demi-Rep on Her Travels.

Thursday, as Mr. W. C. Redfield, a compositor on The Bee, was on his way to his home over a mile south of Farnham, on Tenth street, his attention was attracted by the peculiar actions of a woman who walked in front of him. She seemed to be either drunk or crazy, and zigzagged back and forth in her course so that he was unable to pass her. She kept this up until he could not be bothered longer, and turning to look at her as he passed he saw that she wore on her face a black mask, which effectively concealed her features. She followed him nearly home before he could get rid of her, saying all the time not one word. Later in the evening, another young man had a similar experience with the woman who, after carrying on her foolishness for some time turned and taking him by the shoulder said, in broken German, "How you like it? I'll kill you, you tam e--h--?"

We have heard of no arrest in the locality described, and suppose the fanatic or whatever she is, must have made her escape. Yesterday a woman who was caught by Pat Leidy, of the postoffice, in her house some months ago, too drunk for utterance, and who claimed to be a married woman from Lincoln, was seen on lower 13th street terribly intoxicated. She fell down once or twice and the sidewalks were all too narrow for her. She wore a linen ulster and her hair was in a very banged condition, as was also her hat. She had no mask on, however, and probably was not the woman referred to above.
