Preparations for the Meeting of the National Base Ball League.

The Chicago Jewelry Thieves Restore Their Plunder to the Owner.

Conference of the National Base Ball League.

Special Dispatch to The Bee.

New York, December 1, 1 a. m.—The disagreement which, during the past season, has disturbed the relations between the professional base ball club league, will be brought to a conclusion by a meeting in this city of representatives of the various clubs on December 3rd, not the 4th, as was incorrectly stated. The conference is according to Spaulding's rules, being held on the first Wednesday after the first Tuesday in December. The result of the conference will be compensated by the presence of delegates from the Detroit, and the Nationals, of Washington, will be present. Chicago, being the best men, and the storm was continuous, and that in many instances it was never expected that land would be reached. Fierce westerly winds drove the sea into the bay, and the decks were submerged with water the principal part of the time.

Withdrawal of the Advance.

Special Dispatch to The Bee.

New York, December 2-1 a. m.—Private wires received at the pit exchange yesterday afternoon from Baltimore, indicate that the Baltimore & Ohio railroad company has withdrawn from the position assumed with regard to imposing charges on grain stored in its elevators, and that the order will not go into effect on December 3, as previously announced.

Army Changes.

WASHINGTON, December 1-10 p. m.—Gen. Miles has withdrawn his name from all competition for the position of chief of the army, and has made application for the position of inspector general, to be made vacant by the retirement of Gen. Sherman.

Recovery of Stolen Jewelry.

Chicago, December 1, 1 a. m.—Much excitement was caused last night about police headquarters by the arrest of Walter McDonald, city sealer, and Charles H. Aldrich, late a city detective, but now private detective, by the Philadelphia police, on the charge of being accessories in the robbery of John H. Morrow, the Philadelphia agent, of his trunk of jewelry, valued at $7,000, for five nights since at the Clifton house. It appears that Aldrich and McDonald went to Morrow at his room in the Clifton house and told him they had a claim on the jewelry, and that they thought they could recover the stolen goods, if sufficient reward were given. Morrow referred them to Pinkerton's agency, in whose hands he had placed the entire matter. Pinkerton's men negotiated with Aldrich and McDonald, to pay $700 for the return of the jewelry, the money being furnished by the Philadelphia firm, who were the losers. The money was paid into the hands of Mr. Morrow, vice-president of the Union National bank, and given abstracted by the Philadelphia police, and he will probably be admitted to bail. They claim that they know nothing of the robbery, and simply obtained the jewelry from the Clifton house, in Isaac's pawn shop, and that they are entitled to the reward. The officers have obtained clues, and now know that four professional thieves were engaged in the robbery, and believe they will soon capture them.

A Blind Man's Legacy.

Special Dispatch to The Bee.

JERSEY CITY, December 1-10 p. m.—An ex-juryman of this city has been retained in a will case involving $35,000 worth of property that will shortly be tried in the New York courts. In October, 1863, Antonio Godosky was found dead in a house on Third avenue, New York city. His fortune of $90,000 was deposited by his administrator in a trust company. Godosky was a native of Poland. A blind nephew of the dead man has been discovered in Godosky's native place. Jacob Greenwald, a Chicago merchant, who came from Poland recently, brought word of attorney from the blind nephew to act for him in the matter of the estate. Likely the blind man was sent for.

Disgraceful Death.

Special Dispatch to The Bee.

NEW YORK, December 2-1 a. m.—On Thanksgiving day several officers of the secret service department, drove out to Jamaica, L. I. in company with Brockway, the forger, who had promised to point out to them the woods where the notes and plates were buried. They struck into the woods at a point near Richmond Hill, and went a long way back into the woods, when Brockway pointed out a stump around which they dug and unearthed the bond plates. They were done up in asphalt and sealed packages. They next went down the railroad track for about a mile, and entering the woods, they again proceeded to dig. They found $45,

THE BLACK HILLS.

Correspondence of The Bee.

DEADWOOD, D. T., November 28.—Before leaving Chicago last week I was undecided as to which route I should take in my journey to the Black Hills. The recent opening of the stage line from Fort Pierre to Deadwood gives through and rapid connection with Chicago by way of the Northwestern road, and saves nearly one hundred miles of stagering. As a mere matter of preference I should have gone by way of Fort Pierre, but business considerations compelled me to stop over a day in Sidney, and hence I journeyed to the Hills by the old route over which the great mass of "tenderfeet" and "blue shades" travel since the Black Hills were first thrown open for settlement.

Sidney does by no means avow a freighting business as it did four years ago, when little mining materials and merchandise sought the Pierre and Bismarck routes. The bulk of treasure shipments and the mails, however, are carried over this road, and a daily stage line connects Deadwood with Sidney, and the equipment of the stage line might be much worse. Under the best of circumstances a stage journey from Sidney to the hills would be a long and tiresome one, and I lingered before the hot stove in the hotel until the rattle of the coach and the crack of the driver's whip announced that it was time to begin the journey. It was the work of a few moments to pack the mail and express matter in the boot of the coach, and the driver started us on our way. The stage is a fine one, and the driver is a first-class man. The stage is a fine one, and the driver is a first-class man. The stage is a fine one, and the driver is a first-class man.
