Jay Gould. Denver Republican.

T e St. Louis Post-Depatch says: If it is a rime to teach that scycophantic, suobby puffery of greedy railroad kings and millionaires disgraces journalism, we propose to be a cofirmed criminal for all time to

This is aprops of some criticisms on its course in not crying out with won-der and admiration because Jay Gould swallowed the Iron Mountain railroad. The paragraph suggests the remarkable advance wnich Jay Gould has made in expressed public opinion since his operations of a year and a half ago began. Before that time he was regarded as a very dengerous man to the prosperity of the country. His doctrine was briefly described as one of unscrupulous greed. He had been concerned in the Black Friday affair, which was declared by a congressional investigation committee to be the grossest and most corrupt conspiracy to unsettle values and ruin hundreds of people which had ever been conceived and executed in this country. He had made American socarities a stench in the nostrils of English investors by his course in the Brie. He was simply a gambler playing with stock margins, and not a fair gambler, because his means were lying rumors, and disreputable combinations. His methods were "bear methods." That is, he would force down good stocks below their value, buy them in at the bottom figures and then sell out when they recoverfinancier, but simply a bold and daring adventurer, with fewer scraples and more brains than the others.

Since the Gould Sage-Commack syndicate was formed, and his operations have become larger and more dangerous, there has been a gradual change towards him in the tone of the press. Shor:ly after the syndicate would surround, capture and gain control of the commerce of a city there would be extravagant laudalions of Gould, and glowing tributes to the immense possibilities of advantage in his purchases. And this rot has steadily extended with his operations un-til it has become absolutely sickening. The man who has ruined hundr de, whose character is that of a person who will ruthlessly use his power to crush any man or corporation that stands in his way, whose strength is a menace to the public and a disgrace to legislation, has suddenly become a great benefactor. The transformation has been suiden and startling.

But it is not true. Jay Gould is what he always was. His methods are what they always were. His power is a danger to legitimate business and a corrupter of legislation. His ambition is to become the greatestratiroad king in the world, and his is that of the professional

It is misfortune to any work have him "take an tanti He begins by pull propercies to get them o they are in his hands mmerce of the place takes tribute for the honor 'take an interest in it." rink atton can be done to ast ald's power should be day to better now than he Om le is simply stronger.

heISH BEAUTIES. CHLLE-LIKE HOURIS THAT

TALANE SUNG ABOUT. Turkish beauties, about a h has been written and by known. Are they in-Suris we have been taught them? Are they the timid, elle like partners of their ds? Alas! poets and dramatery much misled us; their aty is in the mystery that a them; and the closer we see oth physically and morally, we admire them. general they have oval faces, olive skips, languishing dark and beautiful hands, soft as e and white as snow-beyond is, nothing. They lack the natural case and pretty coquetry of our Leventine belles, and the firm tread, sieget manners, and becoming moduty of European women. Their figures are clumsy, their features somewhat harsh, their lips full and often thick; they walk with a roll (their legs being bowed), and even their natural attractions depend more or less upon artificial aid. They thickly Keep Open House New powder their faces, blacken their brows, and dye the r eyelids and lash es, so that when half v-iled by the yashmak screen, they are certainly striking and present a dazzling effect, but under other circumstances most of them would pass unnoticed. Many of the children are beautiful, with round, rozy, plump faces, and golden brown hair; their dress is, however, frightful and ridic lous; they wear wide pantaloons, with long skirts p. m. : of some outrageous color (often yellow), badly fitting shoes, and a smartly-colored cap perched on the top of their heads. The yashmak (or veil) worn by Turkish women was formerly made of thick muslin, and completely hid the features.

A fold passes over the mouth, under the chin, and is carried u over the ears; a still wider fold encircles the forehead. leaving the ears alone uncovered, the whole surmounting a gayly colored little headdress, which i ined on to the hair at the back.

Nowadays the yashmak is often composed of the finest tarlatan, so that the whole of the features are clearly visible, and much of the illusion respecting Turkish beauty has consequently been dispelled.

It has been pretty well remarked that the young and pretty women wear the veil loosely and of the thinnest material, while the old and ugly bandage up their faces with jealous care as though fearful of the admir ing glances of the profane. The want of fresh air and exercise, an inordinate love of sweet find, etc., destroy their health, and at 30

SOCIAL REVIEW. The old year is going out in fine style as will be seen from the unusual number of gay parties and balls which are crowded into the last few days of December

PLEASANT HOURS.

The full dress reception of the Pleasant Hours club at Masonic Hall last night, was a magnificent affair and one of the finest parties ever assemble i in Omaha. About one hundred couples were present, including several guests from abroad. The hall was elegantly decorated with national colors and with every eens, mosses, flowers and pampas plumes, the floral decorations being the work of Mr Donaghue, the florist. Masonic hall never looked handsomer and never contained a happier throng than the guests of the popular club under whose auspices the reception was held. A fine supper was among the features of the evening.

VESTA CHAPTER.

The party at Masonic Hall, Wednesday evening, by the ladies of the Eastern Star was a great success. There were about forty-five couples present, and it seemed, as it has seamed at each preceding party, that this was the best affair of this series, or any preceding one. These parties are in fact becoming constantly more popular, which speaks volumes of praise for the management. Hoffman's orchestra furnished the music.

THE STANDARD. The Standard club gave a party Wednesday evening at their club rooms. The attendance was not so large as usual, but those who were there in spite of the cold weather spent a very pleasant evening. Steinhauser furnished the music. The parties will occur every alternate Wed-

WEDDINGS At 3 o'clock p. m. Thursday, St. Mark's church, South Omaha, was the scene of a very interesting event, being the marriage of Grace Viola, daughter of Mr. E R. Overall, of this city, to Mr. George W. Horne, of Kansas City. The officiating clergy-man was Dean Millspaugh, of Trinity cathedral, assisted by Rev. W. A. Green. There was a large party of friends present, and the affair passed off with great eclat Mr. Horne is in the employ of the Pullman company, at Kansas City, and he left with his bride for their new home on Thursday's train. The bride is well known and highly esteemed in this city, and Mr. Horne is to be congratulated of the prize he has drawn in life's lottery. The reception at the resid noe of the bride's parents, previous to their departure, was a very pleasant affair, and congratulations were as thick as autumn leaves.

HAWVER-SLAUGHTER.

At Osceola, on Tuesday, last, Mr. Samuel Hawver, of this city, war united in marriage to Miss Hattie L. Slaughter, daughter of the late Dr-W. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Adams, of the M. E. church, assisted ding tour which will be to St. Louis, Chicago, and then to Omaha. Both parties are well known here, and will be received by a host of friends.
