THE ROCK ISLAND WRECK.

A Broken Rail Hurts the Express into the Ditch.

An Old Lady Burned to Death and Several Severely Injured.

Details of the Disaster—Highway Happenings at Home.

The rumor of a serious wreck on the Rock Island road last night, which occurred to the train that left Omaha Thursday morning, was talked of considerably on the streets yesterday, but nothing definite was known by the general public, and the officials, if posted, were reticent on the subject. The details will be found in the following:

Special Dispatch to the Bee. CHICAGO, January 21.—A p. m.—The passenger train on the Rock Island road encountered a broken rail at midnight, at Tiskawia, Ill. The engine, baggage car and smoking car passed safely over but three coaches and the sleeper were thrown from the track. The first coach that went off took fire and was burned. One woman was burned to death. About a dozen persons were injured.

The passenger coach which was burned, went over a steep embankment. The others which left the rails, did not go down and no one was severely injured. The most serious casualties were killed—Mrs. Kirby, of Nevada, O. Injured—Matt Phelps, Grinnell, Ia., shoulder dislocated; Mrs. Childers, Patton, Mo.; Dow, Winterset, slightly hurt; J. W. Hughton, Chicago, slightly injured, and several others.

The accident delayed all trains about five hours. The officials of the road say it was unavoidable, and no blame attaches to anyone. The conductor, Charles Wheeler, says that he was in the smoking car and first realized what had happened when he felt the car bouncing on the ties. It gained the rails again, however, but on looking back and seeing the remainder of the train lying in the ditch, with the exception of the two rear sleepers. The four that had jumped the track lay in confusion several feet from the road bed, and the first car was in flames. It rang the signal to stop and as soon as he deemed it safe to do so jumped off and ran to the assistance of those in the wrecked cars. A terrible scene met his gaze. The interior of the first passenger car was a sheet of flame. Men and women were struggling frantically to get out and were trampling each other in their frenzy to escape the fire. Windows were broken in as quickly as possible and people removed from the car and taken to a place of safety. In all there were about twenty passengers in this car.

The wrecked train left Omaha at 7:30 yesterday morning.

A WILD FIRE. Fierce Conflagration During the Storm of Wind and Snow Last Night.

About 8 o'clock last evening a bright light was discovered in the direction of California and Thirteenth streets, which rapidly grew, until a broad glare lit up the sky and, magnified by the reflection on the snow which was falling, formed a most alarming sight.

Various other robberies are reported and the worst part of it is that they can't catch any of the rascals, which would indicate that they are experts who have probably visited the capital to reap a rich harvest.

A GRIST OF GUILT.

The Foot-Pad Getting in His Work Here and There.

The city is again becoming dangerously infested with foot-pads, the most dangerous class of criminals that exists, and robberies are becoming of nightly occurrence.

About a quarter to six o'clock Thursday a gentleman from LaPlata was hastening down 10th street to take the U. P. train west, he was suddenly felled to the ground, near the sewer crossing and recovered to find that the little change he had carried in his pocket, about $1.50, had been taken from him and that the only return he had received was a severe cut over the right eye.

The highwayman had fled and the gentleman did not feel like pursuing them for the sake of so small a sum. Our informant, Mr. Wm. F. Stoetzel, did not learn the gentleman's name.

In the police court this morning two of the Davis boys were up on a charge of grand larceny and were committed to the county jail to await further examination. This case was skillfully worked up by Officer James Donahoe, the youngest man on the force, who exhibits considerable ability in his profession.

He detected the two men trying to dispose of a ladie gold watch, two gold chains and some other articles, said to have been forcibly taken from a woman. The boys related the arrest and Andy Borden and Charles Helwig were called on before the two had been subdued and marched off to jail. In the melee the watch was in some mysterious manner disposed of, but notwithstanding it is believed that there is a clear case against the prisoners.

TRAMP! TRAMP! TRAMP! A fine looking array of tramps was steered into court by the jailor, and eleven ironed heads sed faces, and clothes that were badly soiled to match, confronted the judge. They were not gathered in from box cars or caves, but came voluntarily to the jail last night for lodging. They don't have to be hunted these days.

They were all anxious to be sent to jail for any term that the judge in his kindness might grant them. Six of them drew prizes and went to the rock pile for five days each. Five of them were bounced, of this number four were from Council Bluffs where they had worn out their welcome and then were fired out of town. Those who were sent up had acquired a residence here having registered at the hotel Westerdahl for three consecutive nights and recognizing their rights they were put to work to earn their board and lodging.

As soon as the river breaks up the authorities will give the whole crowd the g. b. and start them eastward. At present it would be a useless job as they would walk right back over the ice. When the river is open they have to run their chances and steal their way back in a box car.

Officer J. O'Donohoe, yesterday about 11 o'clock, arrested Pat Gubson on the charge of highway robbery. At first the prisoner stoutly maintained his innocence, but on the way to the lock up he was induced to think better of it, and confessed to the fact that he did the job and told him where to find the property. It appears that on Tuesday night last Gubson and Dennis Egan, the latter of the U. P. shops, were coming along Tenth street together and when on the sidewalk near the B. & M. headquarters on the north, Gubson asked Egan what time it was. The latter not suspecting any foul play drew out his watch, a very fine, heavy silver case and one of the best American movements, when, suddenly Gubson gave him a blow with one hand and with the other seized the watch, and ran away. He threw the watch down or dropped it soon after and it lay on the sidewalk in plain sight from that time until noon today, when Donahoe found it upon the ground given him by the prisoner. The gold chain attached was gone, however, and is said to have been sold or traded off. The watch and chain were worth $90. The case seems to be a clear one and if no new developments are made Pat is likely to go over the road.

LESSEE OFFENSES. Mike Gilligan was fined $10 and costs yesterday and sent to the county jail.

A man named Much was yesterday afternoon put under $200 bonds for threatening to hire a man to kill Mr. D. Van Etten, of the firm of Van Etten & Fonda. His grievance arose during a case in which the firm was employed against him.

Another unfortunate driver paid $5 and costs this morning for driving over a length of fire hose.

Death in a Hospital. An aged invalid died to-day at St. Joseph's Hospital. A post-mortem examination will be held this afternoon.

Hard on Eggs. Mr. D. W. Hoover, writing from Battle Creek, Neb., to his brother, R. P. Hoover, of our neighboring city, speaks as follows of the effects of the recent cold snap there: "On the morning of the 10th inst., the mercury got down to 42° below zero. We have over 200 hogs and half of them froze their tails so that they are cracking off and the hogs going around with bleeding stumps instead of tails. There is no doubt more will die than that they are falling off of some of them to within a half inch of the head and some of them were frozen to death. There is no doubt more will die than that they are falling off of some of them to within a half inch of the head and some of them were frozen to death. There is no doubt more will die than that they are falling off of some of them to within a half inch of the head and some of them were frozen to death.

WORTH REMEMBERING. That TARRANT'S BAKING POWDER is in each bottle thirty or forty grains of Speyer's Saline Water, containing all the virtues of the celebrated German Purge. It is always fresh and always ready, and thus commends itself to all for its efficacy, portability and cheapness. ALL DRUGGISTS HAVE IT.
