—The transactions of the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York are on a scale so large as to place it almost beyond the limit of comparison. Each annual statement of this great corporation shows a steady increase in all those features which tend to add to its strength, safety and efficiency. The statement for the year 1908, which is published elsewhere in this issue, shows: Assets, $91,757,826; surplus, over $11,000,000; amount outstanding, over $3,600,000; insurance paid for death claims, matured endowments, dividends, etc., during the year, $13,169,794; losses, $12,146,084; new risks assumed, 10,106, and new insurance written, $33,700,770. The exhibit cannot fail to be of interest, for it shows the temper of business men, and by showing the continued popularity of the Mutual Life Insurance how firm a hold the system of life insurance has upon the people.

A CHALLENGE.
We Say What We Mean and Mean What We Say.
OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 10, 1881.
PUT UP OR SHUT UP.
Under the above heading there appeared a challenge in The Republican, from James H. Orlington, to trot his horse, "Orange," and "Little Tom," against Mr. Wilde's team, "May Clark" and "Willie," mile heats, two in three, for $1,000, race to come off on June 25th, good day and track, or that the world match "May Clark" single for $500.

Mr. Orlington states that the above challenge was brought out by a statement published February 2, in THE DAILY BEE, that Mr. Wilde would trot his team against any team in the state of Nebraska for $1,000.
I do not consider that there ever was a challenge issued to trot said team by Mr. Wilde, nor was there a challenge issued to trot "May Clark" and "Orange," but since the challenge appeared over Mr. Orlington's signature, I will state that I will meet Mr. Orlington at the Grandstand house at 6 o'clock and make a match to trot "May Clark" against "Orange," mile heats, three best in five, for $500, the race to come off on the 14th of May, good day and track, or as soon thereafter as the weather and track will permit.
I will be pleased to meet Mr. Orlington at this time and place named above to settle a forfeit.

OUR CRIMINAL COLLATION

George H. Moses Accused of Shooting With Intent to Kill.

Another Attempted Confidence Game.
George H. Moses, a young man employed at the Willow Springs mail house, was arrested yesterday by Officer Vanous, at his work and arraigned before Judge Hawes at 9 o'clock on the charge of shooting with intent to kill salmon kept by John Lechstrom, corner of Pacific and Sixth streets, early last evening, where he found a party engaged in playing cards. Soon after his entrance a disturbance arose at the proprietor undertook to fire Moses out, after his refusing to go peacefully. Moses resisted and in the scuffle which ensued was thrown down on the floor by Lechstrom, who proceeded to punish him in the usual style. At this juncture Moses drew a small, five barrel, 22 calibre revolver and fired three shots into his opponent, one of which passed through the muscles of the abdomen and lodged inside near the hip bone. A second cut a gash in the neck and lodged in the ceiling, while the third struck the front of the projection formed by the thyroid cartilage in the neck, which it shattered and passing through the neck lodged inside. Lechstrom, loomed up then, being treble leaded, and took the revolver away from his antagonist, who escaping his grasp "vamoosed the ranch." Dr. Mercer who was summoned to attend the wounded man found him standing behind the bar and still able to drink a glass of beer. He accompanied him home where the wounds were attended to. The bullet which lodged in the hip was extracted but the other was not and from this wound the greatest danger is to be feared. He was in much better condition this morning than was expected and being well taken care of may recover. He is a young man of about thirty-five years with a thousand friends, a liberal professional education and everything that could insure success in business. We predict that the new firm will establish a trade that will grow into prominence and importance as our fast growing city develops.

They will have undoubtedly from the start a very extensive prescription business, their stock having been selected with special reference thereto, and the second story of their building being exclusively occupied by physicians. Dr. Paul, Grossman and W. N. Lanyon have fitted up elegant offices over the drug store.
One important item in the drug business and one not generally thought of by the purchaser, is the necessity for fresh drugs. Here everything is right from the laboratory of the manufacturer, with no goods injured through dampness, heat, cold, time or any unfavorable conditions, and the stock has in it all of the latest discoveries recently added to the pharmacopoeia.
In speaking of the building we should have mentioned that C. F. Deacool was the architect and we think it one of the best of its class that our city can boast. The number is 211 South 15th street, and your reporter would advise every one interested in the growth of our city to pay a visit to this elegant store and just for the sake of helping along a new firm they might buy something before leaving.
In Earnest—A Permanent Meeting.
Some of the ladies of this city have called a meeting to consider the best way of suppressing intemperance, which is getting such a strong hold on men, but especially the young people of this city and causing many wives and mothers heavy hearts and sad lives. It has long since been thought that the pledge, has proved a failure in many cases; and we intend opening this evening a meeting to be known as the "Temperance Bee Hive." The pledge will not be a test of membership, but will always be present for any voluntary signature. The meetings will consist of music, reading, recitations, and conducted in such a manner as to be interesting to all present. We expect every lady and gentleman to be a committee of one to assist in the temperance cause. We intend to work faithfully, but do not intend a crusade movement, hence we extend a special invitation to

WELL HEALED.

The Opera House Pharmacy and Its Owners.

A brick and brown stone building with three massive plate glass windows has just been completed on Fifteenth street, between Farnham and Douglas. Located on 15th street, one door north of Boyd's Opera House, now in the hands of the architect, Schrotter & Becht have just opened here the finest retail drug store, for its size, in the whole western country, and a better location would be hard to find, in fact when Boyd's Opera House is completed, we venture the prediction that this will be one of the most popular drug and toilet establishments in Omaha. The interior has been fitted up with consummate skill and refined taste. Stevenson & Co., cabinet makers, and Koster, the well known painter, deserve great credit for the manner in which they have executed the work entrusted to them. The stock was purchased through the popular and well known Maj. Carl Schmitz, agent for Porter Co. Wheeler, of Peoria, Ill., the proprietor of one of the largest wholesale drug houses west of New York and an extensive importer of chemicals, toilet articles, etc. The senior member of the firm of Schrotter & Becht is well known to all struck every one in this city as the head clerk for J. K. Ish, whose three stores at one time done almost the entire drug business of this city. Mr. Schrotter was educated in Europe, is master of German, French and English; is thoroughly familiar with both of the dead languages and is especially well-versed in Latin, the French code and all the peculiar lore of the pharmacist. He has been actively engaged in the drug business for 18 years, and has long been known as the man who could put up properly and promptly any prescription brought to him.

Mr. Becht, the junior member, has also been with J. K. Ish for nearly three years, and previous to that time was in one of the largest drug houses in Peoria, Ill. He is a young man with a thousand friends, a liberal professional education and everything that could insure success in business. We predict that the new firm will establish a trade that will grow into prominence and importance as our fast growing city develops.

AN EVASIVE EVANGELIST.

Mr. Moody Writes That He Can't Come to Omaha, Though Much He'd Like to.

Our readers will remember that on leaving Omaha, several months ago, after a gratifying reception being tendered him here, Mr. D. L. Moody, the Evangelist, expressed a desire to return in the spring and hold a series of meetings here, as he thought the field a good one, and ripe for the harvest.
About two or three weeks ago the officers of the Y. M. C. A. prepared a written invitation to be forwarded to him at San Francisco, which was signed by all the ministers in the city and by the president and general secretary of the Y. M. C. A.
By this cordial invitation was extended to Messrs. Moody and Sankey to come and conduct a series of meetings here at a time to be fixed by themselves. The reply was received by Mr. Geo. T. Hower yesterday, and was as follows:
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 3rd, 1881.
DEAR SIR AND BROTHER:—Your letter of January 28th with invitation of the ministers and others of your city, to visit Omaha is at hand. In reply would say that we are in the midst of our work here and cannot take any more time than we will require to return.
Again my present plan, so far as is formed, is to go home by a route that will bring me near Omaha.
I recognize the value of the field and its importance, as well as the unanimity of the call that is extended, but do not see my way clear to accept it, at some future time it may be open for me to visit Omaha, but for the present I cannot promise to do so. With much interest in the Lord's work in your city I am, Sir, your obedient servant,
D. L. MOODY.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Immense Success of Corinne and "Her Merrie Makers."

A large and remarkably select audience filled the Academy of Music Wednesday night "The Merrie Makers" played by Hees' Juvenile Opera company, of which Corinne, a historic and musical phenomenon, was the bright particular star. Corinne is, but seven years of age and looks less, but she possesses a clear sweet voice over which she has wonderful control, and is an exquisite little actress, whose favor with the audience was unbounded. In our opinion the entertainment was the most thoroughly enjoyable for any that has visited this city for years. The stage appointments and costumes are rich and elegant throughout, the acting all good, the music delicious and captivating. In addition to the best portion of the operetta of Cinderella, there are numerous operatic gems, ballads and dances given, with just enough of the variety business to make the performance spicy but not in the least objectionable.
Corinne was greeted with enthusiasm from the first and was rapturously encored in her specialty, "The Belle of the Period." She was equally successful as "The Sergeant," in the policeman's chorus, from the "Pirates of Penzance." Miss Leila Farrell, as "The Princess," is a very pretty young lady and a sweet singer; Miss Bessie Louise King is also a very graceful and charming vocalist. Miss Leila Farrell as the Fairy Godmother is perfect in her part, and Miss Ada Marie Minor, as Honey Dew is very bewitching and pretty.
The reporter, Baron Balderdash, Florida and Thibbs deserve special mention, and, in fact, it is hard to single out any particular person or portion of the programme that does not, to-night the last performance will be given and the Academy will be packed to its utmost.

THE GALLEY SLAVE.
Bartley Campbell's powerful drama, "The Galley Slave," will be produced at the Academy on Friday and Saturday evenings, and reserved seats should be secured at once at Max Meyer & Bros.

THE SABBATH SCHOOL.
The semi-annual exhibition to be given by the pupils of the Sabbath school, for the benefit of their Sabbath school, takes place at Lyceum Hall to-night (Friday) night. The celebrated organist of the Sabbath school is engaged for the occasion, and the whole entertainment will be under the direction of E. P. Mosser, post teacher at Fort Omaha. The exhibition will be at Lyceum Hall.

THE PROGRAMME INCLUDES: songs, declamations, dialogues, etc., with the distribution of medals.
Y. M. C. A. Monthly Reception.
The monthly social reception of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held at their rooms on Monday evening next, and those who attend may expect a pleasant time. Among those who will take part in the programme are Mr. Jay North, Mr. Will Stevens and sisters, Misses Gussie Peck, Etta Bonner, Lizzy Bonner, and Messrs. Bonner and friend with their relatives. The association's double vocal quartette, composed of Messrs. J. R. Cannon, A. G. O'Brien, first tenor; Geo. T. H. Swayne, second tenor; Robt. Swayne, J. C. Greene, first bass; C. N. Fogg, Harry Richards, second bass, will sing also. These recitations have proven very pleasant, and the committee will leave nothing undone to make them enjoyable for every one. Every member should bring a friend.

THE GLORIOUS FLAG.
The sergeant-at-arms notified the house that the flag which floats over representative hall was pretty well flapped to shreds, and all referred to the flag which rests in the hall to be mended during each session.
On motion of Mr. Whedon, a new flag was voted.
It was reported that a bill to supply military titles to the citizens of Nebraska. The committee reported it back to the house with recommendation that it be passed.

THE SENATE.
In the senate this morning Senator Myers, of St. Louis, introduced a bill making it an offense, punishable by imprisonment, for any one to ride on a free railroad pass who is not a railroad employe.
Senator Love's bill, senate file No. 10, was passed. It provides for approval from county courts in certain matters. It gives the right to appeal from the probate court proper.

A. F. & M.
There will be a special meeting of St. John's Lodge, No. 25, this (Thursday) evening, for work in the E. A. degree. Visiting brethren are cordially invited.

TUESDAY FORENOON.
THE PRINTER'S BANQUET.
Special Correspondence to THE BEE.
LINCOLN, February 8.—The clerk read a communication from the secretary of state to Mr. Correll, chairman of the committee on printing, in answer to the house resolution introduced. This resolution directed the committee to learn why so much space and paper was required in printing the house bills, and if the printed matter could not be condensed to less space.

This communication was supplemented by a note from the printer, both of which said that the bills of the session were printed after a style which had prevailed since the introduction of the state into the Union, and that the present figures were based upon this form. The contractor would be pleased to confer with the house committee, to make any compromise or change desired. The matter was referred to the committee.

The railroad committee reported that it had decided to make no definite report until all the bills had been referred to the committee.

Among the bills offered were: By Mr. Windham, to make the session of the legislature of eighty days duration, and the pay for each member $5 per day, with mileage. A bill to claim damage where stock had been injured by barb wire fence. A bill relating to the assessment of railroad property. A bill providing for the quick transmission of telegraphic messages. A bill to make personal property liable to sale in default of payment of purchase money therefor. Two bills for establishment of Normal schools at West Point and Riverton, respectively. A bill to prevent the sale of stock having contagious diseases. A bill to extend the time for the completion of a new wing of the capitol to September 1st, 1881.

GOY BROWN'S BANQUET.
Under the head of bill on third reading, Mr. Broach's bill, No. 57, to provide for the publication of a compilation of the statutes, came up for passage.

Mrs. Clara, of Clay, Hostetter, of Merrick, and Moore, of York, all opposed the bill, and asserted that the book could be published for half the money. The bill allowed the librarian for each book.

The eyes and nose were called for and when the vote was about to be taken, Mr. Howe, of Nemaha, moved that the bill be referred to the committee on enrolled and engrossed bills, as 17 members were absent.
