Neighbor Goodwin's Story.

"Nephew Nathan was always gentle. I doubt if he ever knowingly trod upon a worm, and I'll venture no word ever escaped his lips that he would wish to recall. He early found the peace of heaven, and has been all his days thanking God that the blessings vouchsafed to him are so manifold. It is, as I now call to mind, some eighteen months ago, when my spouse alone under the maple tree that is near our porch, busy, as is her wont, with some dairy matters, that she heard the clatter of horse's hoofs, and looking up, who did she see but her nephew, Nathan. He rode up to her, and without dismounting, saluted her, bending low to do so, and after presenting her with a fat and neatly plucked fowl, made discourse which will repay as nearly as my memory bears out what my wife told me."
